FARM BOARD STIRS ROW

Businessmen in Wild Session

Government Leaders Fling Challenges at Chamber Convention

Legge and Secretary Hyde Tangle With Barnes and Others

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—A tempest over the work of the Federal Farm Board swept over the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States today in a turbulent session in which business men bitterly denounced the activities of the board and its defenders stood squarely behind their guns in stanch resistance.

As it there crowded close upon one another references to "wild men of the Senate" by Secretary Hyde, a denunciation of the farm marketing act by Daniel Millett, a cattle stockman and banker; a challenge to business men by Chairman Legge of the Farm Board to test their criticisms with money and a later acceptance of this challenge by Julius Barnes, chairman of the National Business Survey Conference.

FORT HURLS CHARGES

Entering the debate unexpectedly, Representative Fort of New Jersey, who, as a member of the House Agriculture Committee, helped frame the Agricultural Marketing act which established the Farm Board, asserted Congress will "stand by" its handiwork. He challenged business men to produce a better solution.

Previously a long list of representatives of various industries had endorsed both the board and the act in placing the government in association with business, as undermining private initiative and as standing contrary to economic law.

The debate was opened by Chairman Legge. In defending the board he criticized the Chamber of Commerce for having failed to take action to improve the farm situation after voting overwhelmingly in favor of the principle of co-operative marketing.

In caustic condemnation of the board and of Congress by the chamber's action since in "your own publication written by your own executives you will find the very recommendations for legislation everything Congress has done during the last few years."

ACT CALLED FANTASY

Replying, Millett attacked the farm board and the marketing act as a fantastic dream of stabilization." He asserted the marketing and distributing businesses "properly and the working" of this act" and urged the Farm Board under it presents a "glaring inconsistency" in its

DAM FACES NEW BLOW

Arizonan to File Boulder Suit

Violation of Water, State and Property Rights to be Charged

Thirty Sites Claimed for Reclamation Projects Farther Upstream

PHOENIX, April 30. (AP)—A suit charging that construction of Boulder Dam would violate water rights, property rights, State rights and the Constitution of the United States, Fred T. Colter announced today, is being drafted for filing next week.

Colter, a former State Senator, who is taking the action as "trustee for Arizona water users and landholders," has filed in the name of the "people of Arizona" on thirty dam and canal sites on the Colorado River above Boulder Canyon. He contends that Boulder Dam would be of no benefit to Arizona because it is located too far downstream. The upstream dams, he said, would provide water for reclaiming millions of acres of Arizona lands, which Boulder Dam would not take care of.

Originally intending to file the suit in Federal court here this summer, Colter said that the recent announcement by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur asking Congress for funds to begin the work has prompted him to start immediately the court proceedings, which will be directed against Secretary Wilbur.

In a telegram to Arizona's Congressional representation at Washington, informing them of his contemplated suit, Colter urges them to oppose Secretary Wilbur's request for an initial appropriation to start the dam's construction, which he declares "will ruin Arizona."

Meeting of the Arizona Colorado River Commission, with all members attending, was held in the office of Gov. Phillips this morning. Members of the commission declined to disclose the purpose of the meeting or by whom it was called.

BENEFITS TO ARIZONA AND NEVADA STRESSED

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 30. (Exclusive)—Some of the regional benefits to be derived from Boulder Dam, and especially those which will accrue to Arizona and Nevada, were outlined by Secretary Wilbur today in a statement evidently designed to allay opposition in those two States and stimulate local interest generally throughout the Southwest in the gigantic Colorado River development for which the initial appropriation is about to be asked of Congress.

More specifically, the statement was to some extent an answer to

Tokio Shaken by Strong Tremor for Half Hour

TOKIO, May 1 (Thursday) (AP)—An earthquake of unusual strength and duration was felt here shortly after midnight.

There have been no reports of casualties nor any great damage from the quake. The central meteorological observatory said the center of activity was probably at sea seventy-five miles northeast of Tokio.

The quake, which started at 12:58 a.m., registered on the seismographs for thirty minutes. It was perceptible to humans for five minutes. Scientists attribute the quake to activity in the "outer Tuscarora earthquake belt."

COUNTY TOWNS GAINS HUGE

Census Figures Show Large Increases in First Five Communities to Report Here

The first Los Angeles county 1930 United States census figures (preliminary) were announced yesterday. They cover five towns. The name of the town, new population, population at the time of the last census, increase in population and per cent of gain follow:

Town—	1930	1920	Increase	Gain
El Monte	3454	1283	2171	169.0%
Covina	2775	1999	776	38.7%
Glendora	2755	2027	727	35.7%
Claremont	2720	1718	992	57.4%
Rosemead	2717	No town

Preliminary figures showing the 1930 United States census population of five Los Angeles county towns, El Monte, Covina, Glendora, Claremont and Rosemead, were announced yesterday by Federal Census Supervisor Ballentine of Monrovia. They are the first given out in the county.

El Monte leads the list of five with a population of 3454, a gain of 2171, or 169 per cent, over its 1920 United States census population of 1283. Covina, next in size, has a population of 2775, a gain of 776, or 38.7 per cent over the 1920 figure, 1999. Glendora shows a population of 2755, a gain of 727, or 37.7 over the 1920 figure, 2028. Claremont shows 2720, a gain of 992, or 57.4 per cent over the 1920 figure of 1728. Rosemead is an unincorporated town with a population of 2717. It was not in existence in 1920, at least so far as the 1920 census shows.

HOW THEY RANK

In point of growth the towns rank Rosemead, first; El Monte, second; Claremont, third; Covina, fourth, and Glendora, fifth. In point of size they rank, largest down to smallest, El Monte, Covina, Glendora, Claremont and Rosemead.

Thirteen farms are included in the El Monte territory, forty-three in Covina, eighty-seven in Glendora, sixty-three in Claremont and ninety-three in Rosemead.

The population figures are preliminary and within five days may be challenged. If the challenge warrants a recount might be ordered. If there is no challenge the figures will go to Washington with whatever additional data come to light in five days. Final and official figures for the towns will be announced there later.

When it comes to the infinitely more difficult task of taking the census in Los Angeles city the five supervisors who are directing the big Federal count in Los Angeles county declared yesterday that an accuracy record rather than a speed record is their aim. At a conference of the officials with the Chamber of Commerce statistical committee, Supervisor Kincaid said:

"We are not trying for a speed record in getting out an announcement of our population, but we are trying to get everybody counted. Other cities are beginning to announce preliminary figures and naturally there will be pressure upon us to know why we are not announcing anything. Well, there are fundamental reasons why we have not completed our count and we prefer to get them all rather than to try for any speed records."

PLAN APPROVED

And to this the chamber representatives expressed unanimous approval and pledged support to the supervisors. Supervisor DeCoudres of Long Beach said:

"I'm not going to start tabulating for announcements yet, that's sure. I'm still getting a lot of names to add to the list and I'm not going to give out a total until I've got them all."

"Some of my territory," Supervisor Chenoweth of Glendale said, "lies in San Fernando Valley and includes parts of the city of Los Angeles and some of my enumerators will be working in the field for at least ten days yet. My district probably will be the last one to give in its parts of Los Angeles city be-

PADDOCK IN LOVE SUIT

Madeline Lubetty Declares Racer Jilted Her After Public Betrothal

Silence Kept as to Cause; Olympic Star Makes General Denial

NEW YORK, April 30. (Exclusive) After having been overtaken twice by Cupid, Charles W. Paddock, Olympic sprint star, once known as "the fastest human," also has discovered that another good runner is old man Heart Balm, it became known today.

Papers in a $700,000 breach-of-promise suit were served on the sprinter March 29 by counsel for Miss Madeline Lubetty, who says Paddock jilted her after public announcement of their engagement in Cleveland.

Frank Balletta, the attorney, disclosed the service which took place in the apartment of Miss Nanine Joseh, described as the runner's manager.

SILENT ON CAUSE

Paddock sprinted away from his engagement to Miss Lubetty in September, 1929, at Pasadena, Cal., about six weeks before his scheduled wedding date, according to the young woman's charges. She had gone to the west coast, leaving New York August 29 to visit Paddock's parents at his request, her complaint states.

Questioned today on why the engagement was broken off, the young woman stressed her refusal to answer with an indignant toss of her brunette locks.

"Let Mr. Paddock explain that," she said. "I left the home of his parents after staying there two weeks. We were to have been married some time before the end of October."

MET IN HONOLULU

Miss Lubetty, now 26 years of age, met Paddock in Honolulu, where he had gone for a track meet several years ago. Some time later they met again in New York and fell in love with each other, her story goes.

"Our engagement was announced publicly in a hotel at Cleveland, O., during the air meet last year," said the girl. "Mr. Paddock called in reporters and made the announcement personally."

The sprinter's defense is a general denial.

FLYER FAILS TO ARRIVE AT EL PASO

Goldsborough "Missing" in Attempt to Set New Cross-Country Mark

EL PASO (Tex.) April 30. (AP)—Frank Goldsborough, who left Midland at 6:15 p.m. en route to El Paso on his New York-Los Angeles attempt to set a new junior transcontinental record, had not arrived in El Paso shortly before 10 p.m. (mountain time.) Midland is about 250 miles from El Paso.

Part of the territory between Midland and El Paso is considered treacherous for flying. The Sierras lie directly in the path of his proposed flight.

Aviators usually follow the Texas and Pacific Railroad line at night, there being no beacons along the route. Texas and Pacific officials tonight checked at Odessa, Toyah, Pecos and Sierra Blanca, and no news of the aviator had been received in any of the cities.

The only airport between Midland and El Paso is at Pecos, and airport officials there tonight said they had no word of him.

Childs Opens First Cafe of His New Chain

NEW YORK, April 30. (AP)—William Childs is back in the restaurant business, beginning over again at 63 years of age.

The man who put his family name in the windows of 118 eating places, only to lose control of them a year ago, opened the first of a new chain of restaurants on Broadway last night.

Improved Service for Times Want Ads

Beginning today, May 1, all abbreviations that are not standard and generally understood will be discontinued in want ads inserted in the Los Angeles Times.

Why It Pays to Spell Out

A recent survey proves conclusively that many want ad readers skip those advertisements containing puzzling abbreviations.

The new service will assist both readers and advertisers, making all Times want ads attractive to read and giving a clear picture of the things advertised.

A list of authorized abbreviations can be obtained upon application.

BEVERLY HILLS, April 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have advertised, schemed around and even tried to find somebody who knew somebody who had influence with somebody that was on the census-taking crew, but I can't get my own or my family's name, on anywhere. Well, at least my conscience will be clear. I won't have been in any way responsible for any more men going to Congress. When all the bragging is done by towns, the jails' increase will make a sucker out of all of them. That's what's the matter with Cleveland, O., they are all in Columbus.

MRS. DODGE PAYS HEAVY DUTY FINE

Penalty of $213,286 Set in Custom Fraud Involving Gems, Furs and Clothes

NEW YORK, April 30. (AP)—Undeclared jewelry, furs, wearing apparel and other merchandise which Mrs. Robert L. Dodge, president of the cosmetics firm of Harriet Ayer Hubbard, Inc., brought into the United States during the last five years, resulted late today in penalties and duties of $213,286, the largest fine ever imposed by the port of New York.

Mrs. Dodge is suffering from a nervous breakdown in her home at Mill Neck, Long Island. A certified check for the amount was presented on her behalf.

The latest of the importations on which the fines were imposed was brought in by Mrs. Dodge on April 15 on the Ile de France, furs valued at $36,245.80, and fifty-two original French gowns. The gowns she is asserted to have undervalued for customs purposes.

United States Attorney Charles J. Tuttle, upon conclusion of the settlement, said he contemplated prosecuting Mrs. Dodge for what he considered a deliberate case of smuggling, but that he abandoned the idea partly because of her illness and partly because of the size of the fine imposed.

CELL WAITS ON GANDHI

British to Arrest Mahatma

Liberty to Stir Up Trouble Held More Dangerous Than Martyrdom

Orders Issued to English of Interior to be Ready to Flee to Forts

[Copyright, 1930, by the New York Times]

LONDON, April 30. (Exclusive)—In well-informed quarters here tonight it was stated the government of India has reached a decision to arrest Mahatma Gandhi.

The MacDonald government, after long deliberation today and, it is understood, after consultation with King George, has informed the Viceroy of India, Lord Irwin, that it is prepared to support him and his government in any decisive action he may consider necessary to take against Gandhi and his civil disobedience campaigners.

ARREST EXPECTED

In London news of the arrest of the Indian leader, who has been prosecuting his campaign since March 12, is expected at any moment.

The MacDonald government is fully aware of the consequences of its action both here and in India. In England the arrest of Gandhi will be a signal for a renewed attack on the government by the left wing group of the Socialist party who have already charged MacDonald with continuing the policy of former British Tory governments in India and failing immediately to grant that measure of home rule which has been the plank of all Socialist platforms.

In India reactions to Gandhi's arrest are expected in an intensification of a campaign of violence which, according to information reaching here tonight, has caused the government in India to warn all white women and children in the Northwest Province, Punjab and the United Provinces to be ready to abandon their homes and seek refuge in forts.

TOO DANGEROUS

The MacDonald government, it is understood, has decided that the risk of making a martyr of Gandhi is less dangerous than permitting him to continue to spread his gospel of civil disobedience. Strict censorship measures to laying publicity a trial of inflammatory material throughout the whole Indian empire are also beyond.

Gandhi, it is reported here tonight, has disclosed to members of his committee in Bombay details of a new plan of action and it may be that the British government acted on this information.

SALT FAMINE THREAT HANGS OVER INDIA

BOMBAY (India) April 30. (AP)—The civil disobedience campaign of Mahatma Gandhi, centering around violations of the government salt monopoly and propaganda against foreign cloth, is beginning to have economic repercussions.

Reports have spread among salt merchants recently that the government either will abolish the salt duty or reduce it. Hence the canceled orders or took such quantities as were sufficient for current needs, with the consequence the salt prices rose in some districts.

The government today issued a communique denying that abolition or reduction of the duty is planned and urged traders to resume normal activity. The communique pointed out that salt can be removed from the salt works for only a few weeks before the monsoon season arrives, and that if business is held up a rise in prices—with possibly a salt famine—will follow.

Members of the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee visited Gandhi today, and it is understood that the Nationalist leader was urged to advise some further action of civil disobedience in view of the government's inactivity after the arrest of Gandhi's principal lieutenants. The nature of the plan has not been disclosed, but it is forecast here that striking developments may follow.

MAY-DAY RIOT HURTS FIVE

Seventeen Taken After Early Red Clash in New York; Outbreaks Threaten Many Areas Today

NEW YORK, April 30. (Exclusive)—With five persons injured in free-for-all clash between Communists and workmen at the Bronx-Westchester county line, and seventeen others under arrest for Red activities in Manhattan and Brooklyn, police headquarters announced tonight that the city's entire police force, instead of the 5000 men designated earlier, will stand May Day guard tomorrow.

A number of threatening letters and telephone calls have come to his office, Police Commissioner Whalen said. Some were directed against him personally, others declared that certain places are to be bombed.

The department's May Day precautions are being taken, however, to safeguard New York from disturbances such as are expected all over the world tomorrow, and not because of any great importance attached to the letters, which are probably the work of cranks, Whalen explained.

Part of the 18,000 men available went on guard before the homes of public officials and prominent citizens at midnight, and others were posted at churches and public build-

CONVICTS BORE IN PRISON WALL

Hole Discovered by Troops at Ohio Penitentiary

Diggers Apparently Headed for Warden's House

Crowbars Found in Various Parts of "White City"

COLUMBUS (O.) April 30. (AP)—Ohio National Guard officers in making a routine inspection of White City in Ohio penitentiary tonight discovered the beginning of a hole, which was being dug in the wall leading to Warden Thomas's residence.

The officers came upon the hole and a three-and-a-half-foot crowbar in the basement of the prison.

Diggers had succeeded in cutting through six inches of concrete, the officers reported. It is thought, however, that they would have had to pierce a layer of steel further in their work.

The guards could not say how long ago the digging had begun.

In cell No. 251 the guards also found that a wash basin had been torn from the wall. This made an opening through which they said they believed the prisoners hoped to reach the lower ranges. At this job the guards reported it appeared as though some drilling had been done. The apparatus, however, was not to be found.

Several crow-bars were found in different parts of White City.

Col. Robert Hayburich, in charge of the Ohio National Guardsmen on penitentiary duty, went into White City to inspect the hole his men reported. He announced that 400 soldiers will be placed at different points within the walls of the prison tonight. Of these 150 are to be used to guard 810 prisoners in the wire stockade thrown up in the prison yard. He said 150 guards will be placed outside to watch the walls.

Public Safety Director Arrested on Refusal to Release Students on Order

PHILADELPHIA, May 1. (Thursday) (AP)—Three hundred or more students of the University of Pennsylvania, arrested after a fight with the police near the campus, were released this morning after reprimands. They had been taken to a police station in patrol wagons.

Their release was preceded by the issuance of a warrant for the arrest of Lemuel B. Schofield, director of public safety, by Magistrate John O'Malley.

Magistrate O'Malley declared the director had obstructed justice by refusing to release twenty students on dismissal of the charges.

O'Malley told Schofield that unless bail was furnished he would be committed to prison.

EARLY MAY-DAY RIOT HURTS FIVE

pinks and other clashing hues which are expected to dominate the May Day celebrations throughout Europe tomorrow have been made by police and troops in the various capitals.

In general the Communists, Socialists and Laborites will be permitted to march and speak as long as the meetings are orderly, but warnings have been broadcast that any disorder will be met by vigorous action.

MEXICAN POLICE READY TO HALT RIOTING

MEXICO CITY, April 30. (AP)—Police have planned extreme precautions to prevent May Day disorders here. Reserves will be stationed at strategic points and special care will be taken to prevent Communists from mixing with a union labor parade which is to march through the center of the capital.

A twenty-four-hour nation-wide edict against sale of liquor and firearms will go into effect at midnight. Civilians found carrying pistols or other arms will be fined.

SOLDIERS NIP RED PROPAGANDA SCHEME

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30. (AP)—An attempt by two women to distribute Communist literature to soldiers at the Presidio here was quickly terminated by soldiers acting on their own initiative, Presidio headquarters announced today.

William Kane, Trenton, N. J., and William Toney, Richmond, Or., privates in the Thirtieth Infantry, seized the literature and escorted the women before Sergeant of the Guard Bensch, who took the women to the Presidio boundary and ordered them to leave.

JAPANESE OFFICERS SHOT IN MAY DAY RIOT

TOKIO, May 1 (Thursday) (AP)—Two policemen were injured in a May Day clash at Kawasaki, a Tokio suburb, today.

Police attempted to prevent a group of about eighty workmen, who were carrying bamboo spears, from joining a May Day demonstration. In the scuffle several shots were fired, assertedly by the workmen. Eight arrests were made.

LONDON TREATY HANDED HOOVER

Stimson Presents Fruits of Delegates' Labors

'Task Well Done,' President's Comment on Results

'Build Ships Up to Limit' Advises Senator Robinson

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—The London naval treaty of 1930 was placed today in the hands of President Hoover—the man who initiated the negotiations which brought it about.

Within the next few days the Chief Executive will send the treaty to the Senate for ratification. With it will go a letter of transmittal or special message.

FRUITS OF LABORS

Secretary Stimson, who headed the United States delegation to the parley, handed President Hoover two certified copies of the treaty at noon. He was accompanied by Secretary Adams and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the two other members of the delegation who have returned to the Capitol.

Of the other delegates, Ambassador Morrow is expected to come to Washington tonight, Ambassadors Dawes and Gibson are remaining at their respective posts in London and Brussels, and Senator Reed of Pennsylvania is taking a brief holiday in Europe.

"BUILD UP TO LIMIT"

Senator Robinson late in the day told newspaper men that he believed it will be "wholesome" for this country to build up to the naval program contemplated in the treaty. Robinson said this will require an expenditure of approximately $100,000,000 a year by the United States.

Robinson explained this country either must build more ships or "abandon our position as a naval power." He added that few ships have been built by this country since the World War. He stressed, however, that the construction limitation imposed by the treaty should prove more advantageous than unlimited construction.

The Arkansas Senator, who is the Democratic leader, made the statement after a rousing reception had been accorded him by the Senate. Work was suspended while the members filed past to welcome him.

OUTDOOR DIPLOMACY

The President's participation in the conference ended as it began—out-of-doors. The three delegates gave to him on the White House grounds the treaty that was the fruit of the negotiations which he and Ramsay MacDonald discussed in the seclusion of his Virginia camp.

The President as he accepted the treaty thanked Secretary Stimson and the delegation for a task well done. Mr. Stimson expressed his appreciation of the honors and privilege of participating. After the speeches Mr. Hoover was host to the members of the delegation at a White House luncheon.

Assurance of a "friendly attitude" to the treaty and of speedy consideration of it was given Secretary Stimson by Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee at a conference at the Capitol.

Mr. Stimson called on Senator Borah shortly after he had formally turned over the treaty to President Hoover.

FORD FINDS THAR'S GOLD IN GARBAGE

Experimental Reduction of Detroit Table Waste Returns Good Profits

DETROIT, April 30. (AP)—Henry Ford's experiments with the reduction of garbage to commercial by-products has advanced to a stage which encourages those engaged in the work to believe that the motor magnate soon may be in the market for all the garbage of greater Detroit.

The experiments, which have been conducted for a month, were discussed tonight by an official of the Ford Motor Company. A special retort plant, built by Ford, has consumed a ton and a half of garbage from dining tables of the suburb of Dearborn daily, he said.

The result has been production of commercial quantities of ethyl alcohol, methyl alcohol and benzol and from each ton of garbage, in addition, two gallons of light oil, eight gallons of tar, gas which was used for heating the retorts and a considerable residue believed to be of value as a fertiliser, was returned.

Ford has been using the garbage of London, Eng., in his plant there for some time. However, there is no effort made in London to separate the paper and tin cans and other refuse from the table waste, as is done in American cities.

The city of Detroit proper is now paying $400,000 a year for disposal of its wet garbage by a reduction company.

After the honeymoon, which will be spent in Cuba, the couple will reside in Clayton, St. Louis suburb.

COUNTY TOWNS REPORT GAINS

cause of difficulties, but we are going to have them when we do."

The Supervisors and chamber representatives agreed to hold another joint conference before they tabulate figures for Los Angeles city, and at the suggestion of the Supervisors the meeting was set for the 14th inst., two weeks off. It was agreed that in the meantime some of the smaller communities' count should be released when completion is positive, and Supervisor Ballentine announced completion of the count in the five towns in his district.

CHECK TO BE MADE

A special census committee of the chamber will arrive at a number of figures today which will be taken to indicate how many residents in this city have been missed by enumerators to date. A check last week showed between 4 and 5 per cent uncounted, but it was agreed by the conferees that the percentage, while fairly accurate as to the cross-section of city residence it covered, might not be representative of the situation at large. It was submitted merely "for whatever it is worth." Today's figures are expected to be somewhat more representative.

United States Attorney McNabb of this Federal court district has written 1500 letters that are to go to as many persons in this county who have failed to give the information required by law. The letters point to the law's requirements, to the penalty for violation, and urges the recipients to comply before court action is found necessary.

SANTA PAULA SHOWS LARGE INCREASE

SANTA PAULA, April 30. (Exclusive)—By counting 7395 persons in this city census enumerators have shown Santa Paula has gained 3428, or 86.41 per cent in the last ten years. There have been no booms, just a steady growth, according to the officials of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Oxnard, which in 1920 had a population of 4417, today has 6210 residents, a gain of about 40 per cent.

SMALL OKLAHOMA TOWNS HAVE LOSSES

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) April 30. (AP)—Eighty per cent of the municipalities in Oklahoma that have turned in complete figures for the 1930 census have shown a decrease in population. Out of a total of 140 towns and smaller cities where figures have been released only thirty gained in population during the last decade.

The only three cities of 10,000 population or over that have reported—Ada, Chickasha and Durant—showed gains in population. Figures for the larger cities in the State are expected to account for losses in the towns and villages.

CLEVELAND SUBURB HAS RECORD GROWTH

CLEVELAND (O.) April 30. (AP)—Garfield Heights, a Cleveland suburb, today held the distinction of being the fastest-growing city in the United States so far reported in the national census. The suburb had a population of 2550 in 1920. It now has 15,575, an increase of 510.7 per cent.

DRY LAW SPEED BILLS ANALYZED

House Committee to Act on Judges' Plan Tuesday

Hoover Commission's Data Studied by Group

Mitchell Voices No Views on Juryless Trials

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—Whether the Hoover law enforcement commission's bill to relieve court congestion will be discarded for the Bachmann plan to provide additional Federal judges is to be determined finally next Tuesday by the House Judiciary Committee under a program outlined today by Chairman Graham.

Although the committee considered President Hoover's recent appeal to Congress for early action on the commission's legislative program, it declined today to take action on the bills. Instead it reported favorably measures to provide an additional judge each for the Third and Fifth Circuit Courts of Appeal. A bill to provide two additional judges for the District of Columbia Supreme Court was also approved.

Chairman Graham said the committee is divided on the commission plan for juryless trials before United States commissioners and on the proposal to grant district attorneys discretionary power to try liquor law violators as felons or misdemeanants.

Considerable opposition has also been registered against the Stobbs bill to amend the Jones law to define minor dry law violations, he said. A substantial group in the committee favored additional Federal judges as the solution to the congestion problem.

Atty.-Gen. Mitchell discussed the commission plan before the committee at its secret session today.

Chairman Graham said Mr. Mitchell expressed neither a favorable nor adverse opinion on the juryless trial proposals at that time.

A suggestion was made to President Hoover today by Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, that a special session of Congress be called unless the law-enforcement program is enacted.

PARKER POLL IN PROSPECT

Senators May Reach Vote on Appointment Today

Leaders of Both Sides Still Doubtful as to Outcome

Republicans Repeat Charge of Drive by Socialists

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—Another day of debate brought a vote nearer in the Senate today on confirmation of Judge Parker of North Carolina to the Supreme Court, but leaders of both sides still were doubtful tonight of the final result. A vote tomorrow is in prospect.

Two Democrats joined the opposition in the day's round of oratory—Senators Wagner of New York and McKellar of Tennessee assailing Parker's qualifications. Two Republicans—Senators Hastings of Delaware and Herbert of Rhode Island—carried on the fight for the nominee.

Again from the Republican side came the charge that the campaign against Parker actually is a drive by the Socialists and liberals against the independence of the Supreme Court.

The Democratic foes answered with denunciations of Parker's record, particularly his decision upholding the injunction restraining the United Mine Workers from soliciting membership among miners who had signed contracts not to join the union.

DIXON LETTER READ

Senator McKellar countered the charge of politics with the reading of a letter written by Joseph M. Dixon, assistant Secretary of the Interior, to Walter Newton, executive secretary to President Hoover, urging the nomination of Parker as a "major political stroke."

This letter, dated March 13, last, called attention that North Carolina went Republican in the last Presidential election and said, "If the exigencies of the situation permit I believe the naming of Judge Parker to the Supreme Court to be a major political stroke." Dixon, a Republican Senatorial candidate in Montana last year, said in the letter he is a native-born North Carolina Republican.

PURPOSE SET FORTH

Senator McKellar said he did not contend that President Hoover was influenced by the letter, but does not want to hear the charge of politics in the debate from friends of Parker in the face of it. Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, chairman of the subcommittee which investigated Parker, said the letter was not before his committee. Chairman Norris of the Judiciary Committee said the letter was found in the file of recommendations for Parker and he did not know whether it was referred to Overman's committee.

Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, defended Parker's record as a prosecutor for the government of war frauds cases after Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, had placed in the record the instructions of Judge Groner of the Virginia Federal court in that case. Senator Walsh said Judge Groner was amazed that evidence showing the innocence of the defendants was found in the government's files.

ANOTHER LETTER

Senator Glass read a letter from Judge Groner stating that Judge Parker's conduct in that case was "wholly favorable" and he, with Senator Walsh, read from Judge Groner's instructions a statement by the court commending the government counsel. The Virginian said that Ralph Hayes, New York attorney, in calling attention to this case, had failed to record Judge Groner's commendation of the government counsel.

Senator Hastings, in referring to the drive by labor unions and Negro groups against Parker's confirmation, asserted the "liberals are stirring up the Senate and the country to reject this man as an opening wedge to their plan."

Senator McKellar challenged the contention of Senator Fess, Republican, of Ohio, that the drive against Parker and against Chief Justice Hughes recently was a "Socialistic movement." The Ohioan replied that he did not contend that every Senator opposing Parker was a Socialist, but that "recent opposition has had Socialistic interests at heart."

BEAUTY MUST OBEY MATE, COURT HOLDS

COURT SCORES WIFE'S REVOLT

Husband Forbidding Actress on Stage Backed Up

Theater Hiring Jane Aubert Due to Pay Damages

Chicagoan Must Be Obeyed, Says French Tribunal

PARIS, April 30. (AP)—Nelson Morris of Chicago today won his suit against the managers of the Palace Music Hall who had disregarded his statement forbidding his wife, Jane Aubert, French actress, to appear on their stage.

The court awarded $2000 damages, rejecting the manager's plea that the Morrises were married in the United States where the wife is not obliged to obey the husband.

WIFE MUST OBEY

The court held that all persons living in France are obliged to observe the French legal principle that the wife must obey the husband and that there can be no question of permitting Jane Aubert or the managers of the theater to be governed by the wifely status or rights in other countries.

Besides the damages the court ordered that the managers should be subject to additional damages of $120 for each performance hereafter at which Miss Aubert appears without her husband's consent.

The court's opinion said that Mr. Morris's authority over his wife had "been daily scorned and ridiculed" by the fact that Miss Aubert had played against her husband's known wishes.

It was testified at previous hearings that Miss Aubert had been featured as Mr. Morris's wife and that her husband's unsuccessful move forbidding her to appear had been capitalized for publicity. Mr. Morris had sued for $8000 damages.

MORRIS WINS AND LOSES

Last March Mr. Morris won and lost in a decision of the Appellate Court in the maze of legal entanglements arising from the efforts of Miss Aubert to obtain a divorce with alimony. Morris lost one decision when the tribunal held that the Versailles court is competent to try the divorce suit inasmuch as the actress was born a French woman.

He won, however, on the court's decision that $1000 a month temporary alimony awarded the actress by the Versailles court is manifestly excessive and ordered it reduced.

CHURCH CITES PULPIT UNREST

Presbyterians Find Ministers Dissatisfied With Pay

Lack of Preparation Shown in Data Given Assembly

Transfer From Other Sects Will Be Restricted

PHILADELPHIA, April 30. (AP)—The general council of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America in a report to be made to the general assembly of the church at Cincinnati next month, says there is serious unrest in the ministry of the denominations, resulting in a steady shortening of the pastorates.

The report was made public today. Among the causes for the unrest in cities:

"The economic factor. The desire for financial betterment. Ministers necessarily share the conditions of the times.

NOT WELL PREPARED

"A lowering of the standards by which many men with insufficient preparation and largely ignorant of Presbyterian traditions, have been admitted to the pulpits, adding an element of instability to the pulpits."

The council finds from a survey of 173 presbyteries with 6197 ministers that 4261 are college graduates as required by Presbyterian standards, while 1916 are not. Nearly one-fourth, or 1513, have had no theological education.

The council, the report says, consulted with State clerks of presbyteries who suggest recommending to presbyteries that extreme care and caution be exercised in admitting to the Presbyterian Church ministers from other denominations.

TRANSFERS FROWNED ON

"We would not," the suggestion continues, "be understood as in any way being opposed to the present trend for church union. But we are one in the opinion that the high standards of the Presbyterian Church must be held increasingly high and that any tendency to lower them zealously guarded against."

Texan Demands Mitchell's Head

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—Removal of Atty.-Gen. Mitchell was demanded in the House today by Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas, who charged he "has failed and refused" to prosecute oil companies for violations of the anti-trust laws.

The Texan asserted Mitchell "has delivered our country, lock, stock and barrel into the hands of the monopolies and trusts."

MacDONALD CHATS WITH AUSTRALIA

Telephone Service Begun Over 12,000-Mile System; Lloyd George Also Talks

LONDON, April 30. (AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald lifted a telephone in the Cabinet room at No. 10 Downing street at 8:30 a.m. today and talked to Prime Minister Scullen of the Australian commonwealth at Canberra, 12,000 miles away. The conversation was in inauguration of telephone service between England and Australia, which will be available to the public at a price of £6 (about $29) for three minutes.

After Mr. MacDonald had finished the connection was switched to the residence of David Lloyd George, coalition Premier in war days, who talked to William Hughes, wartime Premier in Australia.

Iowan Backs Hoover Stand

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—Appealing to the House to support President Hoover in his opposition to the export debenture provision, Representative Ramseyer, Republican, Iowa, said today that this farm relief plan "had not been sold to the farmers" and had no place in the tariff measure.

Two Oklahoma Lads Accused in Burning of Baby

WEWOKA (Okla.) April 30. (AP)—Two asserted "torch" slayers of 2-year-old Ray Yadon of Cromwell, Okla., were held in jail here today while officers considered filing murder charges against the prisoners, 8 and 10 years of age, respectively.

The baby died yesterday morning. Investigators said death resulted from burns received when S. T. Treadwell, 10, lighted clothing which previously had been soaked with gasoline by the boy and his brother, Paul, 8.

TWO GAME GUARDS DIE IN GUN FIGHT

Fisherman Kills Deputy Wardens in Battle Off South San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30. (AP)—Two deputy game wardens were killed and a fisherman probably fatally wounded in a gun battle early today in the bay waters off South San Francisco.

The dead are Jack Burke of 298 Vista Grande avenue, Daly City, and Alan Curry of San Francisco. The wounded fisherman is Antonie Anderson. He was shot through the stomach.

The shooting occurred shortly after daybreak when Anderson resisted efforts of the deputy wardens to board his fishing smack off South San Francisco. He was said to have been fishing for bass illegally.

In the battle that ensued, Anderson killed both officers and then, despite the fact he himself was perhaps fatally shot, brought their bodies to fishermen's wharf here.

Lawrence, famous British Asiatic undercover man, is at Revanduz, a town near the Turkish frontier in the desert region between Iraq and Persia, has aroused considerable speculation in the Turkish press. "Is he planning an uprising in Persia or Turkey?" scareheads demand, and the press goes on to assert that the Turkish government is carefully watching the colonel's whereabouts and doings.

STORM BREAKS ON FARM BOARD

National Chamber Swept by Heated Dispute

Legge and Hyde Staunchly Defend Policies

advocating decreased production. The board's activities, he said, are an "interference with the law of economic supply and demand."

The intensity of the session was heightened by Secretary Hyde, who, though not listed as a speaker, delivered a vehement extemporaneous defense of the board. He contended that much of the opposition to the board results from "a fat-headed, self-satisfied desire to be content with things as they are."

Secretary Hyde asked members of the chamber to "take a look at the wild men over in the Senate and view the rising tide of discontent."

"More misapprehension with reference to the meaning and purpose of the Agricultural Marketing Act has been produced here in this highly respectable and influential audience than I have read in all the farm journals in America," Hyde asserted.

Fort told members of the chamber that if they want the marketing act repealed they should suggest an improvement or an alternative.

"Congress had to act," he said, "to protect both agriculture and industry against the dismissal of 1,600,000 men from agriculture. You cannot throw this number of men and 7,500,000 dependents into the lap of the nation without disorganizing the economic structure."

FARM AID PLEDGED

Alfred Stone, Mississippi farmer, suggested that points in dispute be considered further before any action on the resolutions to condemn the board and repeal the marketing act was taken. He said he did not believe the act will be repealed.

To Stone's view L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange, added the support of his organization:

"When the grange, representing 1,000,000 farm people, was struggling through ten years to get assistance for agriculture, the Chamber of Commerce would not turn a hand to help," he said. "We didn't get the sort of a farm relief act that we wanted, but we right here and now say to Chairman Legge and the members of Congress who passed the act that we are going to stand back of them to the finish."

Barnes, the last speaker, accepted the challenge from Chairman Legge to raise money from business for what he described as "a complete survey of the farm situation" and challenged statements by the Farm Board leader that the chamber had failed to back its pledge of co-operative marketing.

Barnes declared he was not wealthy enough to accept the challenge personally, but he would start a collection from industry sufficient to match Legge's offer.

ISSUE CLARIFIED

Later, at his office, Chairman Legge said Barnes had not properly met his proposition.

"I am offered and I still am ready to offer," he said, "to match members of the chamber individually in financing such an institution. Mr. Barnes erred in interpreting my challenge as being made to all the members of the chamber collectively."

For several years, the chairman said, he has been thinking of an organization such as the national agricultural foundation proposed in 1927 by the agricultural survey conducted jointly by the national industrial conference board and the Chamber of Commerce.

CRISIS IGNORED

In his address, Legge assailed "bankers and business men who met the crisis in the stock market last fall with more than $500,000,000, but failed to volunteer any aid when the commodities market faced a like crisis, although by doing so they would have performed as important, if not a more valuable service to the country than saving the stock market."

Instead, he continued, "There was criticism of the Farm Board for giving necessary assistance that could not be had from any other source."

"I am sorry to say," he continued, "that there has been considerable evidence the past several months that entirely too many of your members were for the principle of co-operation only so long as it did not work.

VIEWS CHANGE

"When it became apparent that a means had been provided that really would help the farmer get organized co-operatively so that he, like other producers, would have some voice in determining the sale price of his commodity, the effort was branded as government price fixing, putting the government in business, etc. And all of this notwithstanding the fact they had declared unmistakably for the principle of co-operative marketing only a year previously.

"I do not recall in years gone by of hearing you business men making any such complaint against government aid that was extended to the manufacturing industry, to transportation and to finance.

"All the farmers are trying to do, with Farm Board assistance, is by acting together to apply the same methods and business principle to their industry that were adopted in other lines long since. If they were good for you fellows they are likewise good for the farmer."

TREASURY OFFICIAL FORECASTS TAX CUT

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—Although speaking "purely unofficially," Undersecretary Mills of the Treasury gave a United States Chamber of Commerce conference on taxation his opinion today that the government has not completed "its own voluntary revision of Federal taxes."

Disclaiming any knowledge of what the government could do in the immediate future, Mills expressed the belief that the present 12½ per cent rate on corporation gains is excessive and should be brought to conformity with the tax levied on sources of income. He favored also drastic simplification of returns for "the 2,000,000 odd taxpayers whose tax averages about $16 a year."

Any Treasury proposals for further reduction, he indicated, will be made, if feasible, at the next regular session of Congress in December.

Request for reduced railroad fare illegally used, $10.

One small spark coil (may have been government property,) $5.

Ten yards of target cloth stolen, $5.

Government stationery and envelopes used, $5.

Interest for ten years at 5 per cent, $42.76.

The Treasury's already large conscience fund was made the beneficiary.

BOULDER DAM ASSAILED ANEW

Suit to be Filed for Water Users in Arizona

Action Will be Directed Against Wilbur

the demand voiced yesterday by Senator Oddie of Nevada for a hearing before the power contracts, drawn at Los Angeles and supplying the basis for financing the project, are accepted by the government.

SIGNATURE AFFIXED

Although there has been no official announcement to the effect, there is little doubt but that Secretary Wilbur affixed his signature to the contracts yesterday before going to the Budget Bureau with his request for upward of $10,000,000 to get the project actually under way. It is not known whether Wilbur has replied to Oddie's demand for a hearing but if he has it has been to reject a suggestion that could have no other ultimate result than to delay matters for several weeks and in all probability make it impossible for the government to obtain funds with which to start work at Boulder Canyon this year.

MORE TOURIST TRADE

One thing Secretary Wilbur did in his statement was to explain officially that since California is the only State in a position to finance Boulder Dam and since topographical conditions dictate that the bulk of the stored water must be used in that State is only natural that California shall be the principal recipient of the favors from the project. But even so, he pointed out that Arizona and Nevada stand to receive substantial benefits without assuming any financial responsibility whatever. He said further that plans for highway, national park and other development in connection with the project will open up the entire section to increased tourist trade and thus be a tremendous benefit all the way round.

He announced for the first time that plans are afoot for making a national monument out of the country surrounding the lake which the dam will create and declared the fishing, scenery and other attractions should make the area one of the best patronized spots in the West.

REGIONAL ASSET

"In working out the plans for the development of the Boulder Dam project," Secretary Wilbur said, "there has been a constant endeavor to make it an asset of a regional character. Because of topography a considerable amount of the stored water must necessarily be used in California. The market for the power to pay for the development must of necessity be in California, because only in this region is there sufficient organization and population to make this possible.

"Despite these facts the States of Arizona and Nevada will receive many direct benefits. Indirect benefits also will come to them and to other neighboring States. Eighteen to 22 per cent of the total firm power, or approximately 100,000 horsepower, will be available to both Arizona and Nevada at cost during the fifty-year period, should these States desire to use it. Either of them may exercise also its option within a certain period of time for one-third of the power. The 18 per cent of power is available on a drawback basis so that it becomes a responsibility of the primary contractors and is therefore obtainable without any outlay of machinery or other capital expenditures.

ANNUAL CHECK DUE

"In addition under the bill and under the financial plan, both Arizona and Nevada will receive between $25,000,000 and $35,000,000 in the fifty years after the dam is built, in lieu of taxes, and without any responsibility except to receive an annual check.

"It is planned to put a roadway across the dam to which will lead highways from Kingman, Ariz., to Las Vegas and California. This will connect up with transcontinental routes and invite numerous tourists to both Arizona and Nevada.

"Plans are well along for the development of a national monument to include the borders of the lake which the dam will create. This lake will extend practically up to the Hualapai Indian Reservation, which reaches almost to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. This eighty-mile lake, with its opportunity for water transportation through the desert country and partly through scenery of similar character to the Grand Canyon, but of somewhat less grandeur, will, combined with the fishing which it is hoped can be developed in the lake, make one of the most striking areas under the domain of the national government for recreation and for scenic beauty.

GREATER MARKETS

"Both Arizona and Nevada will profit greatly from the new population and from the immediate building of the dam, but indirectly both States will have an increased market for their products due to the increased population from the additional water supply to the Southern California plain. In fact, Arizona and Nevada and Utah will, on a percentage basis, receive greater benefits of an indirect character from the building of the dam than will come to the State of California. The construction of the dam will insure irrigation water for the available areas in each State where water can be economically used.

"I am satisfied that if the plans that have been developed are approved by Congress we can view the Boulder Dam project as of great regional benefit to all of the southwestern States and that it will be a signal addition to our national wealth and property."

BOXER AS CONSUL STIRS CRITICISM IN ARGENTINA

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times.)

BUENOS AIRES, April 30. (Exclusive)—The appointment of a professional boxer, Justo Suarez, as chancellor of the Argentine Consulate-General at New York, is arousing vigorous protests and is generally condemned by the newspapers. Suarez, an exceptionally popular boxer who has defeated everyone in his class, is going to the United States to seek new fields to conquer, and his appointment to the New York Consulate was announced after a recent visit to President Yrigoyen.

The newspapers cast no reflection on Suarez personally, but insist that the appointment of a boxer to a consular post must inevitably lower the prestige of a consular career. Some of the papers even favor government support of some kind, which would aid Suarez while he seeks engagements in the United States, but insist he could have been put on the pay roll in a less conspicuous capacity.

Another boxer, Hector Mendez, is chancellor of the Argentine Consulate at Baltimore.

GANDER'S SAUCE NOT FOR GOOSE

Divorced Playwright Weds in New York But ex-Wife Finds Like Intent Denied

NEW YORK, April 30. (Exclusive) The possibility arose here tonight that a hitch may be found in the recent marriage of socially prominent Eleanor Poet Hutton to Preston Sturges, ambitious playwright.

Mrs. Estelle Madge Daugherty, divorced wife of Sturges, today was refused a license to wed Myron Davy, a mining engineer, on the ground that her divorce from Sturges is not recognized in New York State. She immediately threatened to find out why Sturges was permitted to wed Miss Hutton.

Referring to the decree, she said: "If it isn't good enough for me, then it can't be good enough for Preston and I'm going to find out about it."

Officials at the license bureau said the Sturges-Hutton license was issued by authorities in another county. They refused to reconsider their ruling unless definitely proved wrong in their contention.

TRAIL FINDERS HEADED NORTH

Southern California Autos Turn Back Home

First Year's Task Completed by Club's Pioneers

Party Members Received by President Ortiz Rubio

BY HARRY CARR
"Times" Staff Representative

MEXICO CITY, April 30.—The first leg of the pathfinding expedition of the Automobile Club of Southern California came officially to an end this morning when three scout cars turned north on the way back to Los Angeles. This detachment is in command of Carl McStay, field secretary of the Automobile Club, and includes Kenneth Keefe, cartographer; Bob Deason, technician, and Bert Sandham, radio operator, who has rigged his aerials on most of the historic church steeples of Mexico. They will drive to Laredo, Tex., via Ceyela and Monterrey, charting the road as they go.

The road is reported to be in fair condition but the opportunities for getting lost are so great that a party of tourists from Detroit lost their way thirty-five times coming to the City of Mexico last week.

EL NORTENO GOES SOUTH

A minor tragedy marred the departure. We have lost our little mozo, Nicolas El Norteno, whom the members of the expedition intended to take to Los Angeles and send to school. The immigration officials got fussy and Nicolas declined to go unless he could go into the United States in an honorable way. Last night he cried all night.

About midnight I found most of the members of the expedition sitting along in a row on the curb in front of the garage with their arms around the weeping Nicolas and the whole party in tears. Nicolas will go as far as Ceyela and go home to Guadalajara by train. As we said good-by to him this morning he clung to us sobbing convulsively.

TO SEE PRESIDENT

Tomorrow afternoon Chief Engineer East, Phil Townsend Hanna, Carlos Arisa, our Mexican representative, and Douglas Rhodes, road engineer, will be received by President Ortiz Rubio at the Castle of Chapultepec. Day before yesterday we were received formally by Gen. Almazan, who will have an informal discussion with Mr. East on Mexico's new road plans. Friday Mr. East, Hanna, Rhodes and Arisa will leave for Oaxaca, the road to which they will map.

They will return to Mexico City and on May 10 will embark on a steamer at Acapulco for San Pedro.

GIRL FLYER LANDS ON ROOF OF SHED

Adrienne Bolland

LE BOURGET (France) April 30. (AP)—Adrienne Bolland, French girl who flew over the Chilean Andes in 1923, today landed her plane on the roof of a big shed when telegraph wires tossed it out of its course as she made a forced landing.

Her motor failed during the air baptism of a woman passenger and she was unable to clear the wires. She steadied the plane sufficiently to set it down on the roof and in order to avoid rolling off maneuvered to turn the machine on its nose.

The plane was wrecked, but the pilot and passenger were uninjured and descended by ladder.

Pope Declines Warship Offer

ROME, April 30. (Exclusive)—Pope Pius XI today declined an offer of the Italian government to place a warship at the disposal of Cardinal Lepicier for his trip to Tunis, where he will represent the Pontiff as Cardinal Legate at the Eucharistic Congress beginning May 7.

The Pontiff's rejection of the offer is believed to be based on the ticklish political situation between France and Italy over Tunis and also because of the opposition which has been raised in French parliamentary circles over the holding of a Christian congress in Mussulman Tunis.

TRAIN CRUSHES YOUTH

WILLIAMS (Ariz.) April 30. (AP)—Arthur Smith, 19 years of age, of Chicago, died in a hospital here last night from injuries received when he fell beneath the wheels of a freight train. Both legs and one arm were severed.

DWARFS AROUSE DOCTOR'S FEARS

Race of Midgets Developing, Association Hears

Stunted Growth Blamed on Glandular Disease

Cancer Treatment Criticism Bitterly Resented

DEL MONTE, April 30. (AP)—Dr. George M. Curtis, associate professor of surgery, University of California, in an address here today told members of the California Medical Association that a race of dwarfs may spring up in the United States to present unusual medical and social problems.

In his talk on cretinism, Dr. Curtis pointed out cretinism is a thyroid gland disease definitely associated with goiter and confined principally to mountainous districts. He said cretins or midgets are becoming a problem as their numbers increase in the Alps, Himalayas, Andes and Carpathian mountains, and asserted there is danger of cretinism in the Pacific Northwest.

TREATMENT URGED

He urged iodinization of water and improved sanitary conditions to prevent further increase in the number of dwarfs and goiter cases in that region.

Dr. Walter B. Coffey, co-discoverer with Dr. John P. Humber of an experimental glandular extract treatment of cancer, replied to an editorial attack by Dr. Morris Fishbein of Chicago, editor of the American Medical Association Journal, charging the Coffey-Humber treatment is a "failure."

RESENTMENT BITTER

Not only did the editorial draw reply and spirited criticism from Dr. Coffey, but it furnished the chief topic of the convention delegates, many of the outstanding leaders being outspoken in their support of Dr. Coffey.

As for Dr. Coffey, he declared Dr. Fishbein's statements are not "in accord with scientific criticism."

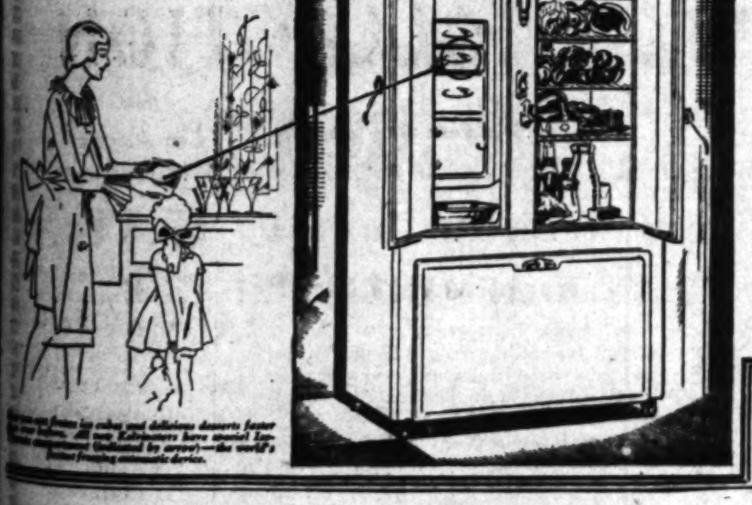
Iso-Thermic Tubes

. . the automatic self-starting device for fastest freezing of ice and desserts . .



Iso-Thermic Tubes for Automatic Fast Freezing

Here is a feature that will appeal to every user of electric refrigeration—a special Kelvinator compartment that gives extra-fast freezing, automatically. Note the spiral coil of Iso-Thermic Tubes, indicated by arrows. This is, in effect, a Cold Plate, in which intense cold is concentrated. Ice cubes and desserts are frozen in half the usual time. Yet food compartments are not affected. A feature exclusive to Kelvinator and standard equipment on all 1930 Kelvinator models.

FOR 15 years, Kelvinator engineers have striven to make electric refrigeration more trouble-free, more automatic, more complete in the service it renders to users.

The results of this policy are evident in a first inspection of the new Super-Automatic Kelvinators now available in a wide range of self-contained models.

Iso-Thermic Tubes, for example, are found only in the new Kelvinators. Built around a special freezing tray, this new device automatically starts freezing operations when a tray of water or dessert is placed within. Ice cubes and frozen desserts are prepared in record time. There is nothing to watch or regulate.

But Kelvinator design carefully keeps this extreme cold in its right place. A separate temperature—scientifically correct for proper preservation of foods—is automatically maintained in the food compartments. Thus, food cannot be spoiled through freezing or too high a temperature.

With all their improvements in fully automatic operation and in far finer cabinet designs, the new Kelvinators are most moderately priced. See them today and learn how easily you may enjoy this modern refrigeration service now through Kelvinator's attractive ReDisCo monthly budget plan.

We have at this time, however, been requested by the factories we represent to assist them in their reorganization plans and are offering not only new, up-to-date instruments but exceptionally fine period models which are the most salable pianos on the market today, and we know those who have hoped to own a beautiful new grand piano will appreciate this wonderful opportunity to purchase an instrument that will remain a pride and pleasure for years to come.

PORT TRAFFIC IN APRIL POINTS UP

Gains Scored on March and Similar 1929 Month

Tonnage Handled Valued at $95,272,755 Total

Sharp Increase Reported in Shipments of Oil

BY WALDO DRAKE

A new April record was set by the port's seaborne commerce last month; 674 inbound ships and 669 departures handling 2,241,304 tons, valued at $95,272,755. By Marine Exchange figures this is an increase of 207,736 tons over March, 1930, and greater by $12,366,709 in values, with similar increases noted over April, 1929.

Outward foreign trade continued to show the greatest gains, export values last month being $18,403,488, against $11,950,372 for April, 1929. Coastwise receipts also improved greatly, last month's figures totaling 387,564 tons, worth $23,315,932, as compared to 282,875 tons, with a value of $14,670,829, last year.

The improved outlook in the petroleum situation is strongly reflected in the port's April totals, oil shipments in 157 tankers amounting to 10,057,807 barrels, compared to 9,843,777 barrels in March, 1930, and 9,719,822 barrels in April, 1929. By virtue of the increasing market on the Atlantic Coast the gasoline shipments last month, totaling 4,971,334 barrels, nearly equaled the fuel oil totals, 5,033,772 barrels. Gasoline shipments to Atlantic ports alone last month amounted to 1,539,798 barrels.

GAIN IN CUSTOMS RECEIPTS REPORTED

Value of exports from the ports of entry in Southern California is continuing to increase, it was indicated yesterday by a report by Collector of Customs Schwaebe. The value of exports for the month of April was $13,500,150, compared to $10,740,439 for the same month in 1929, an increase of $2,759,711. The imports showed a decrease of over $500,000. The value of imports for April, this year, was $4,450,000, compared to $4,723,342 for the same month in 1929.

Value of cargoes to Hawaii was $995,000 for April, this year, compared to $645,540 for the same month in 1929. Value of shipments to Porto Rico also increased, being $3236 for April, this year, compared to $2927 for April, 1929.

Customs collections for April, this year, were $562,500, compared to $497,722.54 for the same month in 1929.

The old fight between truck interests and the Harbor Department was reopened yesterday by the Central Manufacturing District Traffic Association in a letter to the Board of Harbor Commissioners, wherein the association declared its members refuse to pay overtime storage on freight on Harbor Department docks between the hours of 7 a.m. and 8 a.m.

Members of the Harbor Board expressed the view that the truck operators should not be permitted to evade the overtime charge, since free storage limits on municipal docks are very liberal, ranging from forty-eight hours on pipe to 120 hours on certain package freight. The matter was referred to Port Manager Burt Edwards for action.

Lieutenant-Commander R. J. Weeks, for the past two years in charge of the Navy Hydrographic Office at the port, was yesterday tendered a farewell luncheon by shipping leaders at the Bilge Club. Mr. Weeks, who leaves for Mare Island today to assume command of the destroyer Greer, will be succeeded by Lieutenant-Commander James A. Crutchfield. Until Mr. Crutchfield's arrival on the 19th inst., the office will be in charge of Maurice J. Kelly, engineering aide.

The Mayor's port ferry investigating committee, of which Leslie Mott is chairman, was yesterday authorized by the Harbor Board to appraise all water-front property and improvements thereon in the area necessary for the proposed terminals. The committee was authorized to expend $750 on the appraisal.

Shanahan Brothers, local engineering firm, were low bidders, with a tender of $21,000, to repair the Fish Harbor jetty and the New Dead Man's Island rip-rap, bids opened yesterday by the Harbor Board disclosed. Other tenders were: Houser Construction Company, $21,700; General Engineering Corporation, $25,200; Standard Dredging Company, $29,260.

Importations by water of early Mexican tomatoes, now nearing a close will exceed 300,000 crates from Cape San Lucas, surpassing last year's record of 230,000, which included some mainland tomatoes. The E. H. Hansen Company alone has handled more than 200,000 crates from the Cape. Of the 300,000, upward of 100,000 crates passed through the port bound for San Francisco. The Hansen freighter Sequoia yesterday brought in 12,000 boxes of the fruit and the Costero is due today with 2000.

Tow of Shepard Steamship Company's three intercoastal ships were in port yesterday. The Sage Brush is discharging 3000 of its 5600 tons of Atlantic Coast merchandise, and the Wind Rush is lifting cargo to sail for the Atlantic today.

Jacoina & Kordich's purse-bait boat Rainbow returned with fifteen tons of yellowfin tuna this week after being out fifty-one days on its maiden voyage, during which it cruised 6200 miles, going clear to the head of the Gulf of California. The previous record cruise for such fishing boats, forty-two days, was set by the Vitality last year. The Rainbow struck an uncharted shoal a quarter-mile off San Cosmo Point, 250 miles up the gulf side of Lower California, and will go to the Los Angeles shipyards today for several days' repairs. Charts show ten fathoms off that point. The Rainbow was drawing 9.6 feet.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30. (AP)—E. H. Strange, chairman of the United States Intercoastal Lumber Conference, announced today that steamship operators after a series of meetings which ended last night, had agreed to continue the $11 lumber rate until November 1, 1930. This gives the lumber interests an undisturbed rate covering eight months, and operators expressed hope that this will bring about a stabilized lumber market. Strange also announced that a contract form was definitely adopted, becoming effective June 1, 1930.

After twenty-two years' service with the Matson Navigation Company, Alfred M. McCarthy, treasurer of the line, will retire tomorrow. McCarthy joined the Matson company in February, 1908, and was promoted to the position of treasurer in November, 1917. His successor will be F. Mandeville, who has been associated with a local certified public accountant firm for the past eight years.

SEATTLE, April 30.—The steamship Cuzco, sailing from Puget Sound on May 19, will be the first Grace liner carrying mail to South America and will inaugurate extension of the line's service to Valparaiso, District Manager W. D. Vanderbilt announced here today.

The contract to carry mail was recently awarded to W. R. Grace & Co. by the Postoffice Department. It provides for a minimum of seventeen trips a year.

PORTLAND, April 30.—The Matson Line steamship Wilhelmina will sail at noon tomorrow for Honolulu from here, bearing a small delegation of Portland business men, who will visit the islands in the interests of trade under the direction of Arthur J. Farmer, manager of the Maritime Department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce.

William A. Healy, president of a Portland furniture manufacturing company, will be among the group on the trip. Others include presidents and vice-presidents of jobbing and manufacturing concerns in the Portland district.

Farmer said Portland and Oregon were not enjoying the share of Hawaiian business it should in, comparison with the remainder of the Pacific Coast.

TACOMA, April 30.—A crew of workmen will be kept busy all night reconditioning the Point Defiance ferry slip, which was partially demolished this morning when rammed by a ferryboat.

Traffic will be routed via Sixth avenue until the work is completed some time tomorrow.

Three days will be spent stowing cargo aboard the O. & I. freighter Arabia Maru, which docked here today from Seattle. Cargo billed to Yokohama will be her principal item of freight.

The Seattle, T. and O. Line, returned to port today from Vancouver to pick up the masts and lift cargo for Dairen. She has been loading wheat in British Columbia, following a visit here the sixth of the month to lift flour, lifted sheets and lumber. She will probably sail Saturday.

Digestion Had Me Miserable Long Years"

I understand now why so many things are being said about Nujol, for my experience with this great medicine has been the most remarkable I've had in all my life, and I'm seventy-two years of age. I had as bad a case of indigestion as a man could have, and I kept me in almost constant misery for about ten years. It didn't make any difference what I ate, I'd suffer with indigestion after I got to bed at night. I would get so all upset and it would be after I could ever get to sleep, and I'd wake up mornings with my head and nerves all out as I was the day before. My circulation was so poor that my hands were always cold and numb and my legs would pain something awful. I had a coated tongue and bad breath, and I had bilious sick headaches most all the time. I could hardly see to read. I was bothered with constipation all the time and when I would take strong laxatives to get relief I'd get pains all up and down my shoulder blades.

Now, I never would have believed Nujol would do as much for me as it did in such a short time. It commenced to gain results right from the start, and energy right from the first few doses and now I feel like a new man! I eat like a harvest hand and every sign of stomach trouble and indigestion has completely disappeared. I'm not afraid to say more and I sleep good and wake up feeling fine. My circulation is back to normal and I never get cold and cramped like I used to.

I took Sargon Soft Mass Pills along with the liquid and they got me off to working right and overcame my constipation and biliousness, dizzy headaches; and that coated tongue and the bad taste in my mouth have gone. I'm in better health and spirits than I've been in ten years, and such good medicines sure deserve the credit for it!"

The above statement was recently given by W. M. Riddle, well-known retired farmer, who lives at 1 Texas street, San Diego.

Nujol may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett's Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

AGRARIAN PLAN WILL CONTINUE

Mexico's President to Pursue Predecessor's Policy

Announcement Made After Meeting of Cabinet

Movement Fostered to Aid Small-Farmer Class

MEXICO CITY, April 30. (Exclusive)—President Ortiz Rubio will continue the agrarian policy of his predecessors, it was announced by the Secretary of Agriculture following a Cabinet meeting at which agrarianism was the chief topic discussed.

It was decided to continue the expropriation of lands for the "emancipation of the small-farmer class" strictly according to law and to complete the expropriation program as quickly as possible.

Absolute obedience to Presidential decrees on allotment or restitution of lands issued by previous administrations and those to be issued in the future and strict compliance with the law defining agrarian property and those properties that cannot be distributed were decreed.

It was decided that Manuel Peres Thevino, Secretary of Agriculture, should continue organization of agrarian banks throughout the republic and to increase their capital. These small banks are designed to increase agricultural production.

MLLE. LA PE SHANGHAIED

Exotic Russian Dancer Given Free "Trip to China" by American Immigration Authorities

NEW YORK, April 30. (Exclusive)—Mlle. Thais La Pe, exotic Russian dancer who tripped into so many American jails because she danced out of so many hotels without paying, has been legally shanghaied.

She's now sailing to Shanghai, China, immigration officials admitted tonight. They confessed that, after Russia, France and several other countries refused to accept her as a deportee from America, it was decided the Chinese would have to take her. Accordingly she was quietly deported from Ellis Island on the 19th inst. as soon as she was released from Welfare Island, where she served a jail term for jumping a half a dozen hotel bills.

"MORAL TURPITUDE"

"Moral turpitude" was the ground for deportation of Mlle. La Pe, whose origin seems to have been about as mysterious as her ways.

There was plenty of turpitudinous evidence, government agents recount. In fact, the $1,000,000 threat of breach of promise action which Mlle. La Pe made against young Gilbert Colgate, Jr., newly wed multimillionaire scion of the soap and tooth past dynasty, was turpitude in itself, according to the government.

Although young Colgate, who had just married Nina Haven King, had never seen Mlle. La Pe, the dancer badgered him tirelessly for money, government agents charged. Then she embarrassed him further by threatening suit as his common-law wife, while she herself languished behind jail bars on extortion charges.

ALL DONE QUIETLY

Other evidence showed the tempestuous dancer extorted $500 from an American business man to whom she had given dancing lessons when he visited China.

The deportation of the dancer remained a secret until today. Immigration officials were waiting when she stepped from Welfare Island, where she served a term of thirty days, and hustled her to Ellis Island. Then, without any fuss, she was hustled aboard the first boat for China.

CANVAS BY TITIAN PRIZE OF MUSEUM

Detroit Art Institute Pays $400 for Painting; Masterpiece Beneath

DETROIT, April 30. (AP)—A painting purchased by the Detroit Institute of Arts at the recent sale of the Havemeyer collection in New York for $400 has been revealed as a masterpiece by Titian. Its value is estimated conservatively at $150,000, and other appraisals range as high as $300,000.

The original picture, painted by Titian in about 1656, emerged in excellent condition when overpainting, believed to have been applied about fifty years ago, was removed by William Suhr, the institute's restorer, after the painting was received at the institute.

Identity of the painting, catalogued as a work of the "school of Titian," was suspected by Dr. Wilhelm R. Valentiner, the institute's art director, who had seen the picture in the Havemeyer home. His suspicions were based upon the technique he noted in the artist's treatment of the subject's hand, the only object on the canvas which had escaped the overpainter's brush.

The painting is of Girolomo Priuli, who was elected Doge in 1559. Another portrait of the Doge in the Palace of the Doges at Venice, later by Jacob Palma, the younger, has verified the identity of the sitter.

Poisoned Pie in Feast of Death Used by Suicide

FRESNO, April 30.—Custard pie was the vehicle employed in the suicide here today of J. C. Christensen, 65 years of age, veteran business man, here, and operator of two soft-drink stands, a lunchroom and news stand.

Sprinkling poison on the pie Christensen ate the delicacy while lying on a blanket which he had spread on the basement floor at one of his places of business.

He had eaten approximately three-quarters of the pie when unconsciousness overtook him.

Christensen leaves his widow and one daughter, Mrs. M. Roy Larsen, of this city. Ill health and financial losses are believed to have been the cause of his suicide.

Twenty-five in Asserted Capone Ring Indicted

CHICAGO, April 30. (AP)—Twenty-five members of one of Chicago's big liquor rings, credited with the production of 400,000 gallons of whisky in two and one-half years under the direction of "Scarface Al" Capone, were indicted by the Federal grand jury today.

The indictments charge conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act. Asst. U. S. Dist.-Atty. Anderson said the center of the web is the Italian Importing and Manufacturing Company, which was taken over November 1, 1927, by Charles Argento, the Capone man, Joseph Almanza and Frank Barone, all of whom were indicted.

This company, Anderson said, distributed corn sugar in 100-carload lots to stills scattered throughout Illinois and Wisconsin. The others named in the indictment are all still operators.

Alaska Race for Congress Close

JUNEAU (Alaska) April 30. (AP)—With twenty-six precincts reported, twenty-three in Southeastern Alaska and three in the Fort Gibbon district, John Rustgard was leading Judge James Wickersham by a margin of only seventy-three votes for the Republican nomination for delegate to Congress from Alaska. The vote was 1443 for Rustgard and 1370 for Wickersham.

While there are many more precincts yet to report, present returns include those from leading centers of population in the Territory.

Canadian Planes Bring in Liquor

DETROIT, April 30. (AP)—The Free Press says that for the past two weeks a licensed air-freight line with six planes has made daily trips to the United States from Walkerville, Ont., with capacity cargoes of liquor.

The exportation has been carried on under the supervision of Canadian customs officers, the paper says.

Owner of Night Clubs Murdered

Ricard Observatory Augurs No Rain for Month

Southland May Expect Cool and Foggy Period

First and Last Days to be Balmy, Says Prediction

SANTA CLARA, April 30. (Exclusive)—Although May will see a number of storms along the Pacific Coast at sea and in the Pacific Northwest, few of the disturbances will have a marked effect on California's weather, according to the sunspot forecast issued today by the Ricard Observatory of Santa Clara University on behalf of the "Padre of the Rains." Members of the observatory staff have collaborated again on the report, as they have done since Father Ricard became ill some months ago.

The forecast is:

OUT OF BAY

May 1, 2, 3—A high barometer from off the ocean should give Central and Southern California pleasant warmth, but the Northwest and the regions over Arizona and New Mexico will be disturbed.

May 4, 5—Rain over British Columbia and southward to the California line, but fair and warm over California and to the southeast.

May 6, 7—The storm to the north may just possibly get down this way for a time and affect chiefly our mountainous regions along the coast.

May 8, 9—Clearing along the coast, with some cloudiness over our great valleys.

ENTER HIGH FOG

May 10, 11, 12—A large depression of decided character will emerge from the North Pacific and cause bad weather generally. Rains over the Northwest, with partial cloudiness over Northern California and to the south high fogs and cold weather.

May 13, 14—Storm generally moving away to the eastward, leaving the coast fair and warm under clearing skies.

May 15—Fair generally.

May 16, 17—Shallow depression over Washington and Northern Oregon, but with continued fine weather to the south and southeast of us.

COLD NIGHTS

May 18, 19, 20—Fair and warm over the general coast, with light morning fogs and decidedly cold nights.

May 21, 22—The Northwest will again see the entrance of another severe storm which should move directly to the eastward, leaving the balance of the coast practically undisturbed in its possession of sunshine.

May 23, 24—Partially cloudy down this way, especially to the north of us, but with no change toward the south.

May 25, 26, 27—Weather still unsettled over Washington and Oregon, but fair and warm down this way and far into the southern part of the State.

FAIR AND WARMER

May 28, 29—A period of fine weather will begin to set in along the whole coast with the passage eastward of the storm over the Northwest.

May 30, 31—Generally fair and warm.

The month of June will begin as May ended.

STRIKE AGITATORS NAMED

Leaders in Suspected Plot to Disrupt Cantaloupe Harvest in Imperial Valley Indicted

EL CENTRO, April 30.—Sixteen leaders in a suspected plot to disrupt the Imperial Valley cantaloupe harvest through strike agitation and terrorism, were named defendants in a blanket indictment returned by the Imperial county grand jury at 10 a.m. today. Each of the defendants is accused under three counts of criminal syndicalism. All but three of the men were taken into custody and are now in the County Jail as the result of a series of raids carried out under the direction of Dist.-Atty. Elmer Heald three weeks ago.

Indictments were voted after Heald had submitted to the court a mass of literature seized at the associated headquarters of the group in Brawley. The documents include one pamphlet which stated "The Agricultural Workers' Industrial League is now mobilizing the workers throughout the valley for a successful strike for the coming cantaloupe season. All workers, Mexicans, Filipinos and Americans, will fight together."

The papers seized with the personal belongings of the men arrested indicated that the local movement is directly connected with the Communist organization in the United States and Russia.

The indictments accuse the defendants of being members of the Communistic party and of conspiring to use unlawful means to spread terrorism, destroy property and overthrow recognized agencies of the government.

The original information against the men was obtained by private detectives employed by authority of the Board of Supervisors after an attempted workers' revolt during the lettuce harvest last winter had failed. The leaders gave notice through anonymous circulars distributed at that time that they would renew the fight during the melon season.

While the grand jury has been investigating the records of the men in custody, peace officers of Imperial Valley have been instructed to arrest all suspects who may be identified with the strike threat. The Southern Pacific Railway has brought in fifty extra guards to cooperate with local police in preventing trouble.

"Owing to the highly perishable nature of the melon crop we cannot afford to take any chances," said Dist.-Atty. Heald today. "Our only chance to win this fight with the radical element is to win before trouble starts. One day's delay in the harvest of the melon crop would result in inestimable damage to farmers with ripe melons. Every legal means at our command will be used to thwart the program of destruction which is threatened."

The men accused in the indictment include Tsuji Horichi, Oscar Erickson, alias J. C. Miller; Lawrence Emery, Edwardo Herrera, Emilio Alonzo, Braulio Orosco, Florencio Sunes, Richard Brissenden, Danny Rouas, Harry Harvey, Guadalupe Munoz and five unnamed persons.

BRAVERY REWARDED TWO-FOLD

In Addition to Bronze Medal, Carnegie Fund to Give Boy Scholarship

SAN DIEGO, April 30.—Herbert H. Searl, 17 years of age, San Diego Eagle Scout, who recently was awarded a Carnegie bronze medal for bravery in recognition of his heroism in rescuing a playmate from drowning in the bay June 26, 1927, also will receive a $1600 scholarship from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, according to a letter sent him from commission headquarters in Pittsburgh.

The local youth is a son of the late Lieut. Edward L. Searl, United States Army Air Corps. He lives with his mother and two brothers at 4260 Forty-third street.

At present he is visiting his grandparents in San Francisco. Conditions under which the $1600 is awarded young Searl provide that he must take advantage of the educational opportunity before he is 25 years of age.

Voters Asked to Decide Use of Farm-Sale Fund

ALHAMBRA, April 30.—Alhambra voters will be asked to approve the expenditure of approximately $80,000 from the Tri-City Farm sale fund, according to a decision of the City Commission in placing propositions for the purchase of a South Alhambra park site and the construction of a southwestern district fire station on the June election ballot.

The ordinance adopted by the city specifies that condemnation proceedings shall be used in acquiring Huntington Land and Improvement Company property south of the Southern Pacific tracks between Sixth and Eighth streets for a park. The value of the property is set tentatively at $40,000.

The fire station proposal requests sanction for allocation of $40,000 from the fund for capital outlay in the purchase of a fire station site near Fremont avenue and Valley Boulevard; the construction and equipment of the station, and necessary extension of the fire-alarm system.

A $40,000 bond issue was at first considered for the fire station project, but later the commission decided to ask permission to use part of the $175,000 fund derived from the sale of the city's interest in the Tri-City Farm some time ago.

The park in the southern part of the city was recently requested by civic organizations and members of the planning commission.

Pasadena Loses Millikan, Gains Junior Hoover

PASADENA, April 30.—This city today lost one of its most famous residents, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, who has moved to San Marino, but the neighboring community has lost the Herbert Hoover, Jr., family, which is moving into Dr. Millikan's former home at 300 Palmetto Drive.

When the President's son last year occupied a two-story Spanish type residence at 1635 South Los Robles avenue, San Marino, the San Marino City Club complained that local publications boasted that Hoover, Jr., was a Pasadena citizen, despite the fact that his home was located 100 feet inside the San Marino limits.

Dr. Millikan's recently completed new home is located at 1640 Oak Grove avenue, San Marino, also dangerously close to the Pasadena limits.

Having lost its argument regarding the residence of the President's son and grandchildren, the San Marino City Club is asserted to be scanning the headlines for such gross inaccuracies as "World Famous Pasadena Scientist Trails Cosmic Rays."

Woman Burned by Gas Blast

GLENDALE, April 30.—Ruth Davis, 34 years of age, of 517 West Doran street, was seriously burned today, when escaping gas in the oven of the Broadway Bakery, 518 East Broadway, exploded.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 30.—Milton R. Standish, local newspaper man, was today elected president of the Rotary Club, of which he was the secretary when the club was organized in 1920.

Pinkley was re-elected secretary for his eighth consecutive year. Also serving on the board are Alexander Hamilton, J. F. McKinney and Charles C. Adams.

Francis E. Bliss of Montecito Dies at Home

SANTA BARBARA, April 30.—Francis E. Bliss, internationally known collector of prints, wealthy resident of Montecito, died this morning in his home here of a heart attack. He had evidenced a lively interest in the renaissance of Santa Barbara and was much devoted to the work of the School of the Arts. His collection of prints is understood to have been willed to the Santa Barbara Foundation.

Bliss was the father of Arthur Bliss, internationally known pianist and composer, who married Miss Gertrude Hoffmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffmann of this city, several years ago in the garden of the Old Mission.

Another son, Howard Bliss, is a noted 'cellist and resides in England. The two boys were by a former marriage. The present Mrs. Bliss was the former Mrs. Ethel C. Mahoney. The Blisses were married in England several years ago and Enid, a small daughter, an issue of the marriage, also is living. Mr. Bliss usually passed the summers in the East, and last summer while he visited there, Mrs. Bliss visited in England. Mr. Bliss was in his eighties and recently celebrated a birthday anniversary.

Feeding Horses Leads Woman to Her Death

SANTA BARBARA, April 30.—A love of animals and a delight in feeding a herd of horses across the Southern Pacific right-of-way from her home in Montecito, brought death to Mrs. Margaret Straw, 80 years of age, last night. She was found, her right leg and left arm broken, and injured about the head, along the right of way by an itinerant shortly after a northbound freight had passed.

The man reported seeing the injured woman lying along the track to C. W. Miner, owner of a service station, and the son-in-law of Mrs. Straw. She was rushed to a local hospital but died a few hours later.

According to an account given by Mrs. Miner to hospital officials, her mother was wont to cross the railroad tracks to feed a herd of horses.

She was last seen in her room yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Miner. Mrs. Miner heard a train go by, and shortly afterward the stranger came to the station and reported seeing the injured woman lying along the tracks.

First Community Sing Announced

VENTURA, April 30.—Ventura county's first community sing, the outgrowth of Mrs. Artie Mason Carter's recent visit to this city, is to be next Sunday from 4 to 5 p.m. in Foster Park Bowl.

This concert will initiate a series of similar Sunday afternoon sings to be held during the summer season. Each Sunday, some part of the county will furnish the special numbers for the program, and this week the Oxnard Choral Society, winners of the Eisteddfod contest, will be presented.

Most of the hour is to be devoted to community singing by all who attend, led by Rev. W. C. Cheverton. A large crowd from all parts of the county is anticipated at this opening sing of the season.

NOMINATIONS MADE FOR CHAMBER BOARD

HERMOSA BEACH, April 30.—Five members of the directorate of the Chamber of Commerce, drafted as nominees for re-election last night, are: John A. Glass, Frank Phile, Edward Leonard, Fred Kalterer and Charles D. Jones. The nominees, under the chamber by-laws, serve also as a nominating committee, selecting ten other candidates. Other nominees will be selected by the membership, on petitions of ten signatures each. Election has been set for June 10, next. The chamber, according to Secretary-Manager Frank C. Russell, has completed its arrangements to work with the City Planning Commission in a master-zoning plan to precede an extensive building campaign.

Work Starts on New High School at Owensmouth

OWENSMOUTH, April 30.—It was stated today to local school officials by the Los Angeles Board of Education that the two large wings of the Owensmouth High School, neither of which were seriously damaged by the fire of last June, will be rebuilt at a cost of $40,000. This will permit the Greek Theater structure, used by pupils in outdoor affairs, to remain as it is.

The central part of the school, which is set forth by its large white columns, will be razed. Two new buildings are now under way south of the damaged buildings. They will face on Topanga Canyon avenue. The school board last week appropriated $220,000 for this work.

When all work is finished it is stated the new Owensmouth High School will be one of the most modern and splendidly equipped school buildings in Southern California. The average school enrollment is about 1000 pupils.

Girl's Studies to Wait; She's Now Honeymooning

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, April 30. Miss Margaret Scharold, a pupil of North Hollywood High School, became the bride here of Monte Moore in a ceremony performed by Rev. Fred Trotter in the parsonage of the Community Church.

ROAD CAMP FUGITIVE HELD

Albert McDonald, One of Four Who Escaped from San Diego County Trusty Room, Recaptured

SAN DIEGO, April 30.—Albert McDonald, 25 years of age, one of four county road camp prisoners who sawed their way out of the trusty room of the camp last night, was recaptured near Santa Ysabel just before noon today, Sheriff Ed Cooper announced. McDonald was overtaken about nine miles west of Julian by Deputy Sheriff Carpenter, one of the guards from the road camp, according to the Sheriff's information.

The posse of deputies composed of guards from the camp and four officers from the headquarters office in San Diego was being concentrated near Santa Ysabel on the theory that the four escaped prisoners had kept together. McDonald is serving one year for burglary. Sheriff Cooper said he expected to recapture all the quartet just as recapture had been effected in the past whenever prisoners attempted to get away from the camp. Of the four, one, a Negro, was said by the Sheriff to have a record as a convict at both San Quentin and Folsom State prisons.

ADOBE FOR ASISTENCIA BEING MIXED

Clay Prepared for Use in Reconstruction of Aged Adjunct to Mission

REDLANDS, April 30.—Making of adobe for reconstructing the walls of a room on the east side of the old San Bernardino Asistencia was begun Monday.

The $100 presented by the Pioneer Society of San Bernardino, added to funds made available through the County Historical Society, will be used to pay for the work.

Workmen digging in the court of the Asistencia this morning uncovered many oblong tiles which had been used as paving during the mission days. Tiles hitherto dug up were square.

The soil which is broken up by the picks and hoes of the workmen will be used to make the new adobes.

George W. Beattie, president of the San Bernardino County Historical Society, today visited the Clive Hinckley place on Mission Road, where an old adobe milkhouse recently was torn down. The milkhouse was made from adobes which formerly were in an adobe house on that property.

Although they were made without straw and were otherwise different from the Mission adobes, it was thought they might have come originally from the first mission structure which stood at Mission Road and Mountain View avenue, west of the restored Asistencia. However, Mrs. George Wilson of Bryn Mawr, who came to the valley in 1883, said she is virtually certain that the adobes were newly made for the house on the Hinckley property.

Many of the adobes will be preserved for remodeling the front of the present Clive Hinckley home.

Thirty members of the Hinckley family gathered in reunion at the Mission district yesterday, holding a party in honor of Leland Hinckley, who recently returned after mining in Mexico and who intends going to Africa.

Reminiscences were exchanged about pioneer days in the Mission district, of the succession of Chinese cooks at the Frank Hinckley home, where eight boys played jokes on them, and of the old railroad which passed through the district, the locomotive stalling at the curves after using valuable steam blowing the whistle.

A tie from this old railroad is being preserved in constructing an ornamental well in the Hinckley yard.

Phone Hearing Date Changed to Late in May

REDLANDS, April 30.—Resumption of the adjourned hearing by the State Railroad Commission of evidence in Redlands' plea for reduction of rates by the Southwestern Home Telephone Company, scheduled for Thursday, has been postponed until Tuesday, May 27, according to notice received by City Attorney Walter J. Hartzell from Thomas H. Loutitt, president of the State Railroad Commission.

The Thursday meeting here of interested officials of the public utility with those of the city and State was set following one and one-half days' conference held in the City Hall the 16th and 17th inst. Two or three days were to have been given to the hearing.

At the close of that conference it was estimated that approximately one-half of the expected evidence had been presented. With the exception of brief occupation of the witness stand by commission specialists, the hearing was occupied principally with the submission of testimony and the answering of questions by A. N. Johns, vice-president of the Southwestern Home Telephone Company and of the Western Utilities Company, the latter the holding and parent organization of the local utility concern.

The hearing by the State commissioners resulted from statement of conditions as contained in a lengthy report compiled by Barry Dibble, consulting engineer for this municipality. Dibble's conclusions were based principally upon deductions resulting from information contained in annual statements to the State body by the telephone company.

Inquest Held in Mexican's Death

POMONA, April 30.—Inquest will be held over the remains of Julian Garcia, 22-year-old local Mexican, at the Diebrow funeral home at 10 a.m. Thursday, it was announced today, following the man's demise at the Pomona Health Center late yesterday, after his car had turned over on the Valley Boulevard, west of Spadra.

According to witnesses, he was traveling at a high rate of speed and failed to make a sharp turn in the road, his car rolling over several times.

Juan Jiminez, 29, of this city, who received slight bruises as a passenger in the wrecked car, was held as a material witness, and spent the night in the City Jail.

No charge has been filed against him, Jiminez asserting that Garcia was driving the car.

Community Gets Gift of $30,000

SANTA BARBARA, April 30.—The Santa Barbara Foundation, a community organization for the distribution of gifts to the community and its institutions was enriched by $30,000 by the will of the late Miss Anna Edwards, aged resident who died last Thursday night.

Archie M. Edwards and John S. Edwards, her nephews, are left an equal share in her 560-acre ranch near Naples, in addition to $30,000 each.

Her personal effects are left to her brothers, George and Charles A. Edwards, along with equal shares in one-fourth of the stock in the Edwards Ranch Company.

A sum of $60,000 is placed in trust in the Security-First National Bank, the income to be divided equally among Elizabeth Jones, a niece; John B., Alfred Richmond, William A., and Carl Edwards, all nephews.

After making provisions for $25 a month for Miss Lolita Krug, a $1000 cash bequest to Lillian Melin and giving her niece, Dorothy Edwards, her beach house and property, Serena, she provided that the rest of the estate be left in trust, the income to be distributed equally as follows:

Abbey Edwards, Randall Dorothy Edwards, Margaret E. Agnew, Miriam B. Edwards, all nieces; Patricia Ryon and Anna Bermingham Edwards, grand nieces, and to the children of Alfred R. Edwards.

Republicans in Discussion of Redistricting

WHITTIER, April 30.—That the political pot is beginning to gently bubble in the quiet Quaker town was indicated last evening when some ninety prominent Republicans of the district assembled at the William Penn Hotel for dinner and to discuss the redistricting problem.

Rex B. Kennedy of this city was master of ceremonies and among the eminent speakers were Allyn H. Barber, president of the Pasadena Republican Club; Roland Maxwell, president of the Pasadena Young Men's Republican Club; Judge Joseph A. Allard of Pomona, J. L. Mathews of Covina, William O'Brien, chairman of the reapportionment committee of the County Central Committee; Assemblyman Harry F. Sewell and Montaville Flowers of Pasadena.

Among the distinguished guests were Superior Judge Walter Guerin, Judge Haslett and Joseph Scott of Los Angeles.

Judge Allard offered a motion, which carried, protesting against the lines as drawn in the redistricting map, and asked that Pasadena and her neighboring cities be placed in the San Gabriel Valley district.

One Applicant Favored in Radio Station Project

GLENDALE, April 30.—Applicants for the permit to establish a radio broadcasting station here, who have been interviewed by a special committee organized by the Chamber of Commerce from among the city's leading organizations, have been eliminated from consideration with the exception of John F. Grady, Los Angeles business man and organizer, who is said to be associated with a strong group of Los Angeles merchants and capitalists in the project.

The committee will report its findings to the City Council and to the other organizations represented on the committee, and will also forward to Congressman W. E. Evans at Washington a report on its decision, so that Evans, who has been watching the radio situation in the capital, may assist in any way possible in securing a radio station here.

Sister Contests Probate of Her Brother's Will

VENTURA, April 30.—Asserting that Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bogan of this city, who have been named as heirs to about $60,000 of the estate of Thomas Mullis, who died at a local hospital March 23, last, maintained a "reign of domination" over Mullis before he died and forced him into deeding them a good share of his property, Mrs. Bessie Dawe of Sioux City, Iowa, has filed objections to the probating of her brother's will in Superior Court here.

It has been believed here that Mullis left the large sum to the Bogans because they had assertedly been kind to him and to his brother George, who died September 8, 1924.

According to the charges made by Mrs. Dawe, however, the Bogans "exerted undue influence" over her brother, so that when he made his last will and testament he assertedly was not in his right mind.

DR. GAGE ELECTED TO ROTARY PRESIDENCY

REDLANDS, April 30.—Dr. A. T. Gage has been elected president of the Rotary Club by the board of directors and will take office in July, at the end of the fiscal year. Other officers are: F. C. Fowler, treasurer; and G. Earl Prior, secretary. Members of the board will also include Dr. A. E. Ball, W. C. Collett, E. R. Fisher, Allen Wheaton and H. S. Williamson.

Fisher and Guy Stockton will represent the club at the district conference in Oakland May 8 and 9. Dr. Gage will represent the club at the Rotary international convention in Chicago this summer.

ROTARY CLUB ELECTS

HUNTINGTON PARK, April 30. The Rotary Club of Huntington Park has selected John Scouller, president, and Ralph W. Brown, Charles E. Burbank, Charles L. John and J. N. Robinson, directors. Past President Jack Reilly and W. H. Guest, present president, will also be members of the board of directors when they are installed into office at the first meeting held in July.

Programs Set in Playgrounds

ONTARIO, April 30. — An extensive playground program for Ontario is planned for this summer, with the city's recreational advisory board now complete and functioning.

The board was made compete today with appointment of Tom Logan, chairman, and member at large. Others on the advisory board are Howard Berg, representing Chaffey Union High School; Howard M. Shattuck and Will R. Adams, representing Ontario elementary school boards; A. B. Lunch and Austin Burt, representing the city.

This board is to have charge of all recreational activities outside of the schools and will co-ordinate the schools and city in its playground activities.

Part of the plan is to plant a number of shade trees on each school ground in order to provide shade for the summer games and contests. The trees are being planted at three city schools now, the city to furnish water without charge.

A competent playground director is to be secured. Final plans for the summer's program will be made at a meeting to be called soon by Chairman Logan.

Y.M.C.A. IN CHANGE OF ITS CONSTITUTION

SANTA BARBARA, April 30.—An amendment to the constitution of the local Y.M.C.A. giving a voting power to members who are not members of an evangelical church but who have signified their belief in Christian ideals, was passed in the annual meeting of the association last night.

Six new directors also were named. They are: James S. Bullis, Henry D. Minot, Dwight Murphy, Howard New, Ross A. Wood and Arthur F. Yagy. Two other amendments, one increasing the board of directors from fifteen to twenty, and the other increasing the length of service of new members from three to four years were adopted.

GOVERNOR WILL TALK AT HARBOR MEETING

TORRANCE, April 30. — Gov. Young will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Harbor District Chambers of Commerce to be held at the David Starr Jordan High School in Watts on Thursday evening, May 8, next. His subject will be "State Finances, What the State Gets for Its Money."

Civic leaders of the district are expected to meet with the Chamber of Commerce men, according to Carl Hyde, secretary of the Torrance chamber, who is also secretary of the harbor district organization. Vice-President Fred C. Finkle will preside, and an interesting entertainment program is promised by the committee, of which A. H. Nelson of the host chamber, is chairman.

WORLD GLIDER MARK ATTAINED

Jack Barstow Ends Longest Sustained Flight

Bowlus Sailplane Stays Up 15 Hours, 13 Minutes

Barograph Absence Forfeits Formal Recognition

SAN DIEGO, April 30. (AP)—Jack Barstow, young first-class glider pilot, flying a Bowlus sailplane, landed at Point Loma at 3:36 o'clock this morning, ending a flight of fifteen hours and thirteen minutes duration, and unofficially establishing a new world's record for sustained flight.

Barstow was shot into the air in the face of a stormy south wind at 12:44 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The take-off was made over the precipitous cliffs near the end of Point Loma.

At 9:50 o'clock last night the American record of 9h. 5m. 32 2-5s., established by Hawley Bowlus, had been shattered and the motorless craft continued its flight through the darkness and on the wings of a cold, misty rain-laden wind.

Shortly before midnight the pilot shouted to his friends that he was "Going after the German record" and then, as the wind shifted toward the west and increased in force, he gained altitude and soared from sight. The world's record, held in Germany, was 14h. 45m.

Absence of a barograph in Barstow's plane deprives him of all official recognition for the unusual flight. It also prevents his claiming the $2000 prize offered by the president of the Detroit Aeronautical Corporation and honorary president and founder of the National Glider Association to the first American pilot flying an American-built glider, who remains aloft ten hours. An additional offer was made by the same man of $100 for every hour after the ten hours until the purse amounts to $3000.

E. E. Vincent of Santa Ana Dies Unexpectedly

SANTA ANA, April 30.—E. E. Vincent, 67 years of age, of 417 West First street, prominent local civic worker, club and fraternal man, died at his home here yesterday. His death came suddenly following an illness of a week. Double pneumonia was given as the cause.

Vincent was president of the Reliance Title Company, president of the Sunset Club, director of the Security-First National Bank, treasurer of the Knights Templar organization, director of the Salvation Army, an organizer of the Citizens' Bank, which consolidated with the California National Bank, of which he was also an official, and a former president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association.

He had resided here since 1908, coming from Clay Center, Kan., where he was also prominent in civic and fraternal circles, being Past Eminent Commander of the Clay Center Knight Templar. He was born in Topeka.

Vincent leaves his widow, Mrs. Hattie J. Vincent, and a son, Roy E. Vincent of Springville.

School Election Taken to Court

SANTA ANA, April 30.—Protesting the election of Charles E. Crumrine as trustee of San Juan Capistrano High School district, Aaron Bucheim, prominent rancher of that district, today had filed a petition in Superior Court to set aside the election, held on March 28, when Crumrine defeated Edward W. Bartlett by a vote of 318 to 248, according to the official count.

Bucheim charges that numerous irregularities in the conduct of the election changed the result and caused Bartlett's defeat. A number of votes were wrongfully counted for Crumrine, he asserts.

It is also charged that some who cast their votes had not properly registered and had no right to vote; that electioneering was carried on aggressively within 100 feet of the polls and in defiance of the law; that there was no proper voting booth or secrecy of the ballot, and that a number of mailed ballots were distributed.

The petition sets forth that the returns gave Crumrine 225 to nineteen for Bartlett in the San Juan Capistrano precinct, while Bartlett led Crumrine, 229 to 93, in the Serra precinct.

Other members of the High School Board are: Judge John Landell, chairman; Guy Williams, secretary; Dr. Paul Esslinger and Mrs. H. S. Barnes.

Tax Delinquency in Pomona Light

POMONA, April 30.—A total of $365,160.41 was collected on the two installments of taxes for this city, according to figures released by City Assessor R. S. Gregg today. First installment receipts were $203,711.86, while the second installment totalled $161,448.75. The sum of $14,057.51 in taxes went delinquent for the fiscal year, Gregg stated, and are subject to 10 per cent penalty if first installment and 5 per cent if in the second installment.

The fiscal year tax receipts must keep the city in sound financial condition until next October when next year's taxes become due and payable.

The low delinquency indicates a prosperous condition here, according to Gregg, and indicates a bright future, he says.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

When she was tired of walking, La made her priests carry her upon a litter. She made them build her a strong shelter by night and keep a great fire burning before it from dusk to dawn. Nor did they question her right to such service. To them she was a goddess. For many days they marched, the apes following the trail easily, going a little ahead to warn of danger. It was during a noonday halt when all were resting that one ape rose suddenly and sniffed the breeze.

In a low guttural he cautioned the others and swung upwind into the jungle. La and the priests gathered together to await the return of the shaggy anthropoid. Nor had they long to wait. Emerging from a leafy thicket he came straight to La and addressed her in the language of the great apes. "The great white ape lies asleep there." He pointed ahead. "Come, and we can kill him." "Do not kill him," commanded La, coldly. "Bring him to me, alive and unhurt. The vengeance is La's."

Cautiously the weird party followed the great ape. He halted soon after and pointed upward. There they saw the giant form of the ape-man stretched in sleep along a low bough, one strong, brown leg about the stout limb. No intimation of danger assailed the dormant faculties of the ape-man—he saw no crouching, hairy figures upon the ground beneath him nor the three apes that swung quietly into the tree beside him.

The first intimation of danger that came to Tarzan was the impact of three bodies as the three apes leaped upon him and hurled him to the ground, where he alighted, half stunned, and was immediately set upon by the fifty hairy men. Instantly he became the center of a whirling, striking, biting maelstrom of horror. He fought nobly, but the odds against him were too great. Slowly they overcame him, though many felt the weight of his mighty fists.

DIVIDENDS ON MARKET LISTINGS UP

April Distribution Set at Over $23,500,000 in Exchange Bulletin

More than $23,500,000 was received in April by stockholders owning securities listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, according to a compilation issued yesterday by F. E. Sanford, secretary and manager of the exchange. This exceeds the total for the preceding month and for the April, last year, does not take into consideration interest on bonds that are also listed.

In addition to the April distribution there was declared during the month dividends payable in May that aggregated $21,165,075, indicating that the May total will probably reach new records for that month, when all declarations are in and when it is considered that the majority of companies disburse quarterly dividends in January, April, July and October.

The April distribution compares with March dividends of $19,156,617 and represents an increase of approximately 23 per cent. An increase of about 9 per cent is recorded over April, 1929, and 115 per cent over April, 1928, when the distributions amounted to $21,848,566 and $10,924,908, respectively.

Dividends for the first four months of the year aggregated $78,-943,383, against $58,225,552 for the corresponding period last year, an increase of 36 per cent.

A new issue of $165,000 Redondo Union High School District 5 per cent bonds will be marketed at prices to yield from 4.25 to 4.50 per cent, according to maturities by a banking syndicate composed of William Cavalier & Co., and William R. Staats Company.

AIR LAW QUIETLY GREETED

Western Air Express Fails to Respond to Enactment of Bill Into Law; News Expected Soon

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Signing by President Hoover of the Watres air-mail bill yesterday was virtually ignored by the stock market. In the Los Angeles market Western Air Express, presumably a leading candidate for one or more mail contracts under the new law, was quoted at 39 on a small transaction, off fractionally from the previous day.

Apparently the market intends to withhold its opinion until the contracts actually are awarded, although the enactment of the measure into law removes an appreciable amount of the uncertainty hanging over air-mail carriers for the last year or more. The question of what form air-mail legislation would take has been a depressant on a stock like Western Air, even though the company earned $9 in 1929 against dividend requirements of 60 cents a share.

AWARDS AWAITED

Pronounced activity in the stock at this time, however, would probably not meet with the approval of the management. Until the contracts are formally awarded, speculation in the shares anticipating the action of the Postmaster-General might be construed unfavorably in Washington. This is the opinion expressed by interests identified with the company, even though their own ideas relating to contracts and profits are confidently expressed.

Between now and May 5, the date on which the existing air-mail contracts expire, the chances are considered excellent for the negotiation of new contracts under the new law. If this forecast is correct, it means that Western Air, now holding the contract on the Los Angeles-Salt Lake and Cheyenne-Pueblo routes, will know within a few days how it will fare as to rates and probable revenue under the new law. Because of its record, it is assumed Western Air will be successful in retaining at least its present routes.

Within thirty to sixty days, the impression is that the Postoffice Department will have made its awards on contracts for the carriage of mail on passenger lines not now recognized as mail carriers. The new law gives the Postmaster-General the authority to grant such contracts on lines in operation at least six months and covering a route of at least 400 miles.

OTHERS EXPECTED

Western Air Express undoubtedly will be a bidder for additional contracts under this provision of the law. On the Los Angeles-to-El Paso run, Western Air Express is generally regarded as the probable winner of a mail contract. This route over which Western Air planes now fly a passenger service is expected to develop into a substantial producer of mail revenue.

Between Los Angeles and San Francisco and San Francisco and Seattle; Los Angeles and Kansas City, and Denver, Albuquerque and Kansas City, the Western Air Express and affiliates also operate passenger services. Probably the company will enter the lists for mail contracts on these lines also.

Assuming that Western Air is fortunate enough to retain its present contracts and share moderately well in whatever new routes are opened up, people well informed on the comany's affairs have predicted that projected rates under the new law will substantially increase earnings. This possibility suggests more favorable treatment of stockholders later on.

Trade Lagging in Local Field

Although sales increases were recorded in April over the March volume, reports from many lines of trade are far from encouraging and while wholesale prices are lower, consumers are buying very cautiously and retail sales are continuing to fall below those of a year ago, according to the weekly survey of the Bradstreet Company on Los Angeles business issued yesterday.

Collections show very little change over March with most of the trade reporting considerable past due indebtedness on their books against March and April, last year. Radio manufacturers in this territory report business fairly good since several large companies have discontinued business in the East.

Meyer Loser in Cotton Belt Row

ST. LOUIS, April 30. (AP)—Walter E. Meyer of New York City, a director of the St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) Railway Company, lost his fight for control of the railroad at the annual stockholders' meeting here today. He was able to poll but 64,184 shares while those favoring the management polled 282,610.

Meyer had charged in a letter to stockholders, seeking their proxies, that the Cotton Belt has been dominated by the Kansas City Southern and that traffic has been diverted from the Cotton Belt to the K.C.S.

The executive committee of the railroad, in a letter to stockholders, denied this charge.

INSURANCE UNIT GROSS SETS MARK

April Total of $542,000 for International Held Highest in History

International Re-Insurance Corporation with a gross income of $542,000 for the month of April set a new monthly record, Carl M. Hansen, president, reported yesterday. Gross income for the first four months of the current year totaled $1,870,000, as against $756,-000 for the same period of 1929, an increase of $1,114,000.

Net income for the four months was $740,000, as compared with $380,000 for the same period last year, an increase of nearly 95 per cent. Losses were reported by Mr. Hansen as substantially below normal, while expenses have been maintained at the low level prevailing in 1929.

Based on the showing made in the first four months of this year, indications are that 1930 will show both a gross and net income of upward of 100 per cent in excess of 1929, Mr. Hansen said.

Dividend checks will be mailed today to stockholders of record April 15, in payment of the initial quarterly disbursement of 50 cents a share, the total amount of the dividends being $75,000.

Dividend Cut on Studebaker Common Stock

NEW YORK, April 30. (Exclusive) Directors of Studebaker Corporation today declared a quarterly dividend of $1 a share on the common stock, placing the issue on a $4 annual basis as compared with previous payments of $1.25 quarterly or $5 annually. The regular quarterly $1.75 preferred dividend was declared, both dividends being payable June 1 to stock of record May 10.

A. R. Erskine, president, said that conservative dividend disbursements seem advisable this year, owing to the restricted volume of available business and the consequent decline in profits.

For the quarter ended March 31, last, the corporation and subsidiaries, including Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company, reported consolidated net income of $1,462,136 after reserves for depreciation, income taxes, etc., equal after Pierce-Arrow minority interest and preferred dividends to 62 cents a share on 1,961,-413 common shares, as against $5,-033,589, or $2.57 a share on 1,893,750 common shares in the 1929 quarter in which there was no deduction set aside for Pierce-Arrow preferred dividends. The figures for the 1929 quarter have been revised to include those of the Pierce-Arrow company. In the first quarter this year there was a deficit of $1,226,494 after all dividend payments, as against a surplus of $2,515,539 in the 1929 period.

Barnsdall Oil Net Shows Drop

This compares with $1,888,372 reported earned in the same period last year, equal to 84 cents a share on 2,247,392 combined shares, and represents a decrease of $467,777, or about 24 per cent.

WOOD CITES BANK GROWTH

California Superintendent Traces Banking Development Over Period of Ten Years

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—Reflecting the growth and prosperity of California, Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Banks, today reported to the Governor's Council that the assets of State banks have increased $404,309,570 in the past ten years. Deposits increased $308,144,891 in the same period and paid in capital, surplus and undivided profits were $45,218,793 greater on January 1, 1930 than on January 1, 1920.

During the decade the number of State banks has decreased from 425 to 232, the number of banks operating branches decreased from 76 to 42, but the number of branches increased from 157 to 384, making a total net gain in bank institutions of 34.

The bank report was made to the council by Fred G. Athearn, director of the State Department of Investment and State Corporation Commissioner.

Total Foreign Financing Gains

WASHINGTON, April 30. (Exclusive)—Foreign financing in the United States during the first quarter of 1930 was more than $338,-000,000, exceeding by more than 20 per cent that of any similar period since the second quarter of 1928, the Department of Commerce today announced. The total nominal capital brought out was about $76,-000,000 during January, $101,000,000 in February and $162,000,000 in March.

The market in the United States for both foreign and domestic bonds was slow during the first two months of this year, but there was a marked improvement in March. Canada continued to borrow in substantial volume, taking about $58,-000,000, while Europe obtained over $57,000,000, a considerable increase over the limited borrowings during 1929.

CONSOLIDATED GAS EARNINGS HIGHER

Cash Bid Made to Opponents of Steel Deal

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) April 30. (AP) Directors of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company today decided to offer $110 a share as the "fair cash value" for stockholders opposing the company's merger with Bethlehem Steel Corporation who demand cash instead of Bethlehem stock.

The meeting was held to consider demands sponsored by the group opposed to the merger.

It is regarded as probable that the decision today will result in court action. Under Ohio law stockholders who voted against the merger may demand a fair cash value for their holdings instead of receiving Bethlehem stock.

Sheet & Tube stock was quoted on the New York Stock Exchange today at $130 asked, with no sale.

BULL TRADERS KEEP CONTROL

Gains in Rally of Previous Day Augmented

Utilities and Oils Leaders of Price Upturn

Rails, Coppers Notable Weak Spots on Market

NEW YORK, April 30. (AP)—The stock market was called upon to absorb renewed flurries of selling today, but managed to carry yesterday's late rally substantially farther, despite rather unsettling news developments. The volume of trading declined sharply, aggregate sales of 4,553,360 shares falling approximately 900,000 short of yesterday's.

Announcement of the long-rumored reduction of the Studebaker annual dividend rate, which was reduced from $5 to $4; reports of cuts in prices of pig iron and steel, a sharp break in the London copper market, and a substantial falling off of the movement of revenue freight as reported for the week ended April 19, were unpleasant potions which the market had to swallow. Iron Age reported that the steel operations are averaging at 78 per cent of capacity, as reduced from 80 per cent last week.

Coppers and rails were again conspicuously heavy, several recording lows for the year or longer, but these issues rallied with the rest of the list in the last hour. Steels also were under pressure until the late upturn. Amusements, tobaccos, oils, utilities and high-priced specialties were strong features. The price index of ninety leading shares showed a net gain for the day of about 1 1-3 points.

United States Steel was a feature of the day, selling off about 4 points to 180 1-4, a new low for the movement, but rallying to close at 184. The American Tobacco issues sold up 8 points each to record levels, and retained most of their gains. Diamond Match jumped 12 points, and Jewel Tea more than 10. Eastman Kodak and Allied Chemical mounted about 7 and 8 points, then lost about half their gains. Underwood-Elliott, Consolidated Gas, International Telephone, Drug, Inc., and American Power and Light were well bought. In the amusements, Loew's rose about 2 points to a new high. Paramount Publix, formerly Paramount Famous Players, Warner Brothers, and Radio made similar gains, while Radio-Keith rebounded more than 4 points.

Almost all of the coppers sagged to lows for the year or longer. A conspicuous weak spot in the rails was Southern Railway, which declined 4 points to 105, a low record for more than a year, and failed to rally. Studebaker lost more than 2 points, going below the bottom reached in the autumn crash, and Goodrich sagged close to its low for last november.

Credit conditions remained stationary, call money holding at 4 per cent. Foreign exchanges were fairly steady, although sterling cables sagged 1-16 to $4.86 3-16.

Wheat Market Heavy as May Delivery Near

CHICAGO, April 30. (AP)—Prospective big deliveries on May contracts tomorrow acted as a burbear to the wheat trade today, and lower prices were the rule. Quotations on May wheat here quickly the bottom-most record heretofore touched this season. The outlook was that first-of-the-month deliveries of wheat in Chicago would total fully 5,000,000 bushels and there were indications of liberal-sized deliveries also at Minneapolis and Kansas City, but the bulk of the grain thus disposed of at the three markets named was expected to be taken over by government-sponsored agents.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, ½@1¼c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed irregular, ¼c off to ¼c up; oats, ¼@½c down, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 5c.

Lowest prices of the day in wheat were reached during the late dealings and came after something of a rally had been stimulated by estimates of new export business from North America totaling 1,000,000 bushels. However, pressure of liquidating sales on the part of owners of May delivery contracts who were unwilling to accept hedges of actual wheat tomorrow proved to be more than the market could stand up under. This was especially the case because of fresh rainfalls Southwest and of lower quotations at Liverpool than had been looked for.

Corn sold were responsive to wheat weakness, but country offerings of corn were small, and reports indicated that warmer weather is needed over the corn belt to permit germination of the crop.

Provisions sympathized with downturns in the value of hogs.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Standard and Union Oils Dominate Local Market as Prices Recede in Late Trading

Standard Oil of California and Union Oil of California accounted for the bulk of yesterday's trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and indicated the general trend of the market by closing fractionally lower after early strength. Aside from these two issues the trading volume dropped considerably below that of the preceding session and on the hesitant operations small fractional recessions occurred.

A total of 6500 shares of Standard Oil changed hands with the stock opening at 74, advancing to 74 5-8, and in the last few minutes dropping back to 73 3-4 for a net loss of 3-4. Union Oil performed in a similar fashion by trading at 47 or better for practically the entire session, and on final sales dropping off to 46 7-8, down 1-4 net. Union Associates hit 48 on the last sale after trading at 46½.

Other petroleum stocks were only lightly traded. Rio Grande and Richfield easing 1-8 and Pacific Western holding steady at 18. There were no transactions in Macmillan.

Signal Oil and Gas, which has not been traded for some time, fell off 1 3-4 points to 36½.

Southern California Edison, which was a feature Tuesday, held within a narrow range on light sales and ended firm at 68. Pacific Lighting, inactive on this board, closed at 100 1-4, down 2 3-4 points from its previous sale here some time ago. Pacific Public Service, which spurted more than 2 points on the preceding session, added another 1-4 to end at 33½. Pacific Gas and Electric also sold down 2 points from previous sales here last week. The issue traded at 89 1-4.

Pacific Finance was less active than usual, but held steady to 41, while Pacific American Fire dropped off 3-4 to 55½. Pacific Mutual yielded 1-4 to 91 3-4. There were no other changes of consequence.

Sales totaled 23,568 shares, valued at $1,128,248; previous day, 35,482 shares, valued at $1,707,907.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, April 30. (AP)—The bond market closed the fourth month of the year today with another encouraging display of firmness. Sales for the session fell below yesterday's, but it was significant that the convertibles' contribution of the total was only moderate and that a large proportion of the buying was in the rails and a few high-grade utilities.

The additions to the investment portfolios of banks during the past month are seen as a most important development.

The firmer railroad liens were mostly in the higher grade ratings. They included Central Pacific 5s, Illinois Central 4½s, Delaware and Hudson 4s, Louisville and Nashville 3s, Nickel Plate "C" 4½s, Pennsylvania 6½s, Pere Marquette "C" 4½s, Union Pacific first 4s and St. Louis San Francisco 4½s. Gains ran from ¼ to ¾. Southern Railway general 6½s and 4s and Wabash "B" 5s netted a point higher.

American Telephone 5s of 1965 were active and firm, unchanged on the day, after an early rise of ¼. Columbia Gas and Electric 5s, May maturity, Consolidated Gas of New York 5½s, Laclede Gas 5½s, North American Edison 5s and Western Union 5s improved fractionally.

Completion of the Fox Film Corporation's refinancing plan is scheduled for tomorrow with the offering of $65,000,000 issue of 6 per cent one year gold notes, the proceeds of which are to be used for the payment of maturing obligations. They will be sold at par.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the bid, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as bid.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 30. (AP)—The curb market alternately blew hot and cold today, but closed with a brief rally under the leadership of the public utility and oil shares. Trading was only moderately heavy, the day's sales running just above 1,000,000 shares. Unfavorable steel and copper trade news cast a damper on bullish enthusiasm, but strong support developed whenever "bear" attacks threatened to unsettle the market.

American Superpower again was turned over in large volume, closing a point higher at 28, after having crossed 30 to within a fraction of the year's peak. Electric Bond and Share closed 2¼ points higher at 114¼. Nevada California Electric soared 11½ points to a new high at 139, closing at the top.

Announcement of higher gasoline prices in eastern territory coupled with recurrent reports of an early advance in crude prices stimulated the demand for the oil shares. Gulf closed 1¾ to within a fraction of the year's high for a gain of nearly 6 points and Vacuum sold above 97 for the first time this year.

Columbia Pictures reached new high ground on reports of the completion of an important deal with Radio-Keith-Orpheum. Loew's warrants and debenture rights also reached new high ground in response to optimistic earnings estimates.

If last price quoted, low and last are same. If low and last are omitted, bid, low and last are same.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

The Lincoln Drilling Company, one of the first operators to develop deeper production in the old Summerland field of Santa Barbara county, is validating Tideland Permit No. 122-1, embracing eighty-one acres immediately adjacent to the Union C. Ballard property at Carpinteria.

Lincoln Drilling is making good progress in Tideland Permit No. 122-1, below 450 feet, but will suspend temporarily after reaching a depth of 1000 feet and later resume when results are obtained in the Continental Oil Company's Tideland Permit No. 124-1. This project is drilling below 3500 feet and has encountered showings of gas.

The Continental Oil Company, together with a dozen other operators, has plans to drill two or more wells in each of several tideland permits if the initial test supports the belief that the structure at Carpinteria extends out into the ocean. Continental drilled two gas wells there about a year ago, and both were capable of flowing millions of cubic feet a day. Both wells went to depths below 4500 feet and, failing to find oil, the company located near the edge of the ocean for another try.

The General Petroleum Corporation discovered what now is known as the Goleta field and developed considerable gas and some oil there. This new field is only a short distance southeast of the Elwood field and has been in the Carpinteria district.

Test Showings

Field reports state that the Shell Oil Company has encountered its best gas showings in Fithian No. 1 on the Fithian ranch about three miles due northwest of Carpinteria.

Shell's Fithian No. 1 is drilling deeply below 2900 feet. This project is about six miles due west of Dome Peak, where the Standard Oil Company's Shepard No. 1 is drilling progress below 2200 feet. The Shepard No. 1 had shallow showings of oil sand at about 1300 feet, but a production test failed to develop it into a producer.

Standard's Shepard No. 1 is about one and one-half miles southwest of the Associated Oil Company's Snowball No. 1, just across the line in Ventura county. This project is drilling at about 1600 feet without showings of oil sand. It is that general area the Tejon formation is thought to be productive, there being approximately 3000 feet of it to draw from in the event oil is found. The Coalinga and Kettleman districts have also developed production from the Tejon formation.

Future Outlook Brighter

Daily production from the Pope townlot area, exclusive of the district outside of the main field developed by the Associated Oil Company, amounts to nearly 3000 barrels of high gravity oil a day. Recent completions brought in by the Superior Pacific Oil Company and Sign Orant, operators in the district area, have encouraged a new drilling program.

These new completions at Pope, according to the oil umpire, are good for at least 2800 barrels of oil a day. The Associated Oil Company has had somewhat setback production of about 800 barrels daily, which gives that area a daily output of 3700 barrels daily, the highest it has ever reached.

Additional Showings

The Olympic Oil and Refining Company's Hearst No. 1 on Sec. 16, T. 3 N. in the Calabasas district, is drilling below 3500 feet in brown shale with occasional showings of oil formation. A water shut-off was effected with thirteen and three-eighth-inch casing set to 3590 feet. Considerable water was originally encountered in this test at depth of less than 500 feet but has been shut out to enable resumption of operations.

Of more than a dozen locations, Olympic's is the only test active just now. Easton & Smith's No. 1 has been abandoned with bottom of the hole at 3000 feet in the Calabasas area and Pugh Miller's No. 1 has been idle several weeks with bottom at 2540 feet.

Daily Flow Steady

The daily production of oil in the Signal Hill field continues to remain slightly in advance of the quota set by the State-wide general committee on curtailment. Yesterday the field yielded approximately 96,323 barrels of oil against the quota of 96,000 barrels.

In the Signal Hill field, according to Umpire Neil H. Anderson's report, there are 106 wells drilling and 744 producing. Completions during the past week include the Monarch Petroleum Company's No. 1, for 625 barrels of oil a day; Dabney-Johnston's No. 48, for 475 barrels and the Texas Company's Fee No. 2, started to flow at the rate of about 800 barrels daily.

Oil Umpire Anderson's report for Huntington Beach shows that the field is yielding about 36,185 barrels daily, against a quota of 27,874 barrels. The Richfield district is flowing 9787 barrels in comparison to a quota of 10,769 barrels daily. The Dominguez field is a few barrels above its quota while the Brea-Fullerton area is less than 100 barrels above the established mark.

Remains High

Production at Santa Fe Springs remains high because of new completions during the past week. Yesterday the field produced 133,000 barrels of oil. The week's completions include the Union Oil Company's Alexander No. 24, which came in for 2229 barrels daily; Wilshire Annex's Koontz No. 4, 150 barrels, and Eagle No. 2, twenty barrels; Texas Company's Foix No. 4, fifty barrels; H. A. Bardeen's No. 1, 150 barrels; Associated Oil Company's Jordan No. 3, 700 barrels; Standard's Santa-Gertrudes No. 13, 200 barrels, and General Petroleum Corporation's No. 105 for 120 barrels.

Big Decline

According to figures announced by the State Mining Bureau, the number of new wells for which permits were granted to the present date has dropped nearly 50 per cent in comparison to the number that were issued up to this time a year ago. The total new wells this year is 347 compared with 655 at the same date last year. The State-wide curtailment program is thought to be instrumental in the decline.

Last week the State Mining Bureau issued permits for twenty projects. Of this group, two were for the Signal Hill field, nine in the fields of Kern county, and one each at Coyote Hills, Huntington Beach, Inglewood, Rosecrans, Santa Fe Springs, Seapo district, Cat Canyon, Constra Costa county and Santa Barbara county. Following are the permits:

The Texas Company's Mattern Three No. 16 at Santa Fe Springs, Chessman & Riner's Stockwell No. 1 and F. H. Lathrap's Lathrap No. 1 at Signal Hill; Standard Oil Company's Emery No. 67 at Coyote Hills and Standard's L. A. Investment No. 1-63 at Inglewood; Union Oil Company's Rosecrans No. 13 at Rosecrans; Vaqueros Major Oil Company's No. 1 at Huntington Beach; Oil Search Corporation's No. 1 in Seapo district; Barnsdall Oil Company's Tognassini No. 1 in Cat Canyon; Lincoln Drilling Company's Tideland Permit No. 122-1 at Carpinteria; Orinda Petroleum Company's No. 1 in Contra Costa county; Standard Oil Company's No. 17 in Midway district and Standard's No. 47 in Sunset district; Western Gulf Oil Company's Price & Stewart No. 1 at Fruitvale; General Petroleum Corporation's Glide 21-17 and Pacific Western Oil Company's Glide-Vedder No. 4 at Poso Creek; Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company's No. 99, Chanslor Canfield Midway Oil Company's Oleense No. 1 and George F. Getty's Oleense No. 1 at Round Mountain; Chanslor-Canfield's No. 34 at Kern River.

Completes Another

The Associated Oil Company has completed V. L. & W. No. 11 in the Ventura-avenue field for approximately 3500 barrels of 28-deg. gravity oil a day from a depth of 7371 feet. The gas output is 3,500,000 cubic feet.

Associated's new well is near other producers and only a short distance from the company's Lloyd No. 97, brought in a week ago for 5000 barrels daily. The new well does not extend the present field.

Fields Sessions

The Kettleman Hills Oil and Gas Conservation Committee, headed by William Reinhardt of the Shell Oil Company, held a conference yesterday with Dr. George Otis Smith, chief of the United States Geological Survey and representative here of Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, in the offices of the California Oil and Gas Association. He is endeavoring to get first-hand information about the Kettleman Hills oil field.

A research committee headed by Earl W. Wagy of the Standard Oil Company, continued its discussions yesterday. No report has been prepared by the committee of eleven experts and indications are the sessions will continue during the remainder of the week before results are submitted.

RESTORING CUSTOMS DISTRICT REQUESTED

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—Senator Samuel Shortridge today urged President Hoover to re-establish San Diego and Imperial counties as the third customs district for California. WAGON BOOK SAY--PULL LEVER A, THEN LEVER B

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP)—Mr. Ka Mori, late of Japan, and his devil wagon, late of Detroit, Mich., F.O.B., have come to grief.

Ka Mori is a cook who saved his dough. With it he bought the devil-wagon.

Ka Mori never had driven an automobile, so he got a book of instructions. He read it, then threw it away, for he assimilates information rapidly.

He crawled behind the steering wheel, stepped on the starter, pulled out the choke, yanked a few dinguses and away he went. Of all places, he picked Lake Shore Drive for his chariot ride.

The devil-wagon moved along with increasing speed. It pursued a miscellaneous course without regard to stop lights or anything else. Pedestrians who knew what was good for themselves got out of the way.

Onward went the devil-wagon. Eventually a motorcycle cop caught up and by adroit maneuvering vaulted into the machine and brought it to a pause.

Ka Mori was taken to the nearest lock-up where he expressed a willingness to read further in the instruction book.

PLACES FIXED FOR ORATIONS

Speaking Order Determined for Tomorrow's Contest

Opening Made by Austin for Seven on Program

Youth Also Will Give Extemporaneous Talks

The 1000 reserved seats for the Oratorical Contest tomorrow night at Shrine Auditorium, were all gone at 3:30 p.m. yesterday. There are 3000 balcony seats open to the public for which no tickets are necessary. These seats are comfortable and afford as good a view of the stage as the reserved seats, and there will be no difficulty in hearing the speakers. Balcony seats will be available Friday at 7:30 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Announcement has been made by Director of the National Oratorical Contest, Prof. Alan Nichols of Pomona College, that speaking for tomorrow night at Shrine Auditorium. The drawing for place was made by John C. Austin, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, assisted by Bruce A. Findley, former superintendent of city schools, now head of an important department of the Chamber of Commerce.

The method of drawing is what is known as the "code" method, in which no names are used. There were five contestants representing five groups. The groups were lettered "A," "B," "C," etc. Seven numbers were placed in a deep box, namely, "One," "Two," "Three," etc. The slips, as they were drawn out, were placed opposite the group designation, beginning with Group "A." Mr. Austin drew out the first slip, which bore the figure 3; 3 was then placed against the letter "A," making the orator from group "A" as the third speaker on the program.

ORDER OF SPEAKING

First, James Pike, Hollywood High School.
Second, John S. Young, Torrance High School.
Third, Odie Wright, Long Beach Polytechnic High School.
Fourth, Donald Matson, Pasadena High School.
Fifth, Alice Parichan, Reedley High School.
Sixth, Alfred Baughn, Phoenix (Ariz.) High School.
Seventh, Donald E. Butler, Sparks (Nev.) High School.

The orations are limited to six minutes each, to be followed by an extemporaneous speech of four minutes from each contestant. As soon as the first speaker has finished his oration, he will be handed a sealed envelope containing two topics. He will retire from the stage, open his envelope and choose one of the topics for his four-minute off-hand speech. The topics will bear upon some feature of his set oration and call for further elaboration. These topics will be delivered immediately after the seventh orator on the program finishes his oration.

NO NOTES PERMITTED

During the period of preparation, no contestant will not be permitted to consult individuals or books. During his speech he will not use or refer before him either notes or reference books; the purpose of the extemporaneous speech being to test the speaker's familiarity with the question, his ability to think quickly on his feet, his fluency and his delivery heavy toward the end of the time period.

Applause will not be permitted while a speaker is on his feet. The presiding officer will make every effort to prevent interruptions of any kind. Doors to the auditorium will be closed while a speech is in progress.

The judges for the contest have been selected with great care, and there can be no appeal from their decision.

BERMAN FACES EARLY RETURN

Fitts to Start Proceedings for Key Julian Witness

Fugitive Will be Defendant in at Least One Case

Grand Jury Hears Members of City Club Committee

Jacob Berman, leading figure in the Julian Petroleum Corporation and key witness in most of the pending Julian cases, who crashed the gates of the Federal prison at McNeil Island last Friday afternoon in an effort to escape prosecution here is to be returned to the jurisdiction of the local courts for trial.

Berman's return, according to a statement issued yesterday by Dist.-Atty. Fitts, will take place in the near future and he will be used as a State's witness as well as the probable defendant in at least one criminal action.

"The office will start immediate negotiations with the Attorney-General in Washington, D.C., for the return of Jacob Berman," said Fitts.

"Writs of habeas corpus ad prosequendum and ad testificandum are in the course of preparation.

"In view of the numerous and wholly false quotations attributed to me, I respectfully request that the public withhold its judgment in this matter until the final outcome of these cases with their numerous ramifications."

FITTS'S ANSWER

Thus did he answer the question as to his office's attitude regarding the pending cases both against Berman and the ones where he is to be a witness.

"I have nothing to say other than my short official statement regarding Berman," declared Fitts last night. "He will be brought back. The fact that two writs are being sought, one ad prosequendum, and the other ad testificandum, speaks for itself, I think."

In the meantime Berman under a seven-year sentence on a mail-fraud conviction is convict No. 8249 at McNeil Island where he was taken after a week's struggle to escape prosecution here on a forgery and embezzlement charge growing out of some of his transactions before the Julian Corporation crashed in 1926. This case, according to the records, was placed on the court calendar several years ago and was not included in the immunity bargain entered into between the grand jury and Berman.

GRAND JURY ACTIVE

Yesterday with the return of Berman under way, the grand jury spent most of the day under the direction of Dep. Dist.-Attys. Hamman and Shelley questioning members of the citizens' committee of the City Club regarding statements made by them directed at the investigation of the Julian crash.

John Shindler, John Steven, Walter Mitchel and Harry Ferrell, all members of the committee, were called during the day as well as Jack Sucherman, James M. Sadler and O. B. Blackman.

A large black book, the property of Louis Berman, in which were recorded various stock transactions which took place in May, 1926, took up the attention of a committee of the grand jury during the morning and may result in the calling of additional witnesses today.

The book, according to reports, contains the names of many persons who dealt in Julian stock during 1926 and was kept by Louis Berman during May, 1926, when Jacob Berman was in New York City. Some of the persons mentioned in the book will probably be called to testify today.

Early yesterday morning the jury bribery case against Louis Krause, Louis Berman and Jacob Berman was called in Superior Judge Wilson's court and continued to the 19th inst.

During the court proceedings Attorney S. S. Hahn for Krause attempted to obtain an early trial and declared that Jacob Berman had been promised immunity by the District Attorney and the grand jury in exchange for his testimony.

It was this remark by counsel which drew a reply from the court indicating that both of the Bermans may have to stand trial in-

"PAY-OFF" TOLD IN LAVINE CASE

Crawford Declares He Gave Reporter $75,000

Politician Keeps Silent on Contingent Events

He "Stands on His Rights" at Extortion Trial

"I gave Morris Lavine the $75,000 in my office."

This declaration was made from the witness stand yesterday by Charles Crawford, local politician, as he testified in the trial of the extortion charges against Lavine, former newspaper reporter, and Miss Leontine Johnson, former secretary to S. C. Lewis.

Crawford, who appeared as an unwilling witness and several times refused to answer questions on the grounds that he might incriminate himself, told of the $75,000 tender before a jury in Superior Judge Schauer's court, only after much hesitancy as to the conversation that preceded the payment and the acts immediately following.

"SEALED LIPS"

The witness, described by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison, who conducted the examination, as one with "sealed lips," was accompanied to the stand by his counsel, Attorney Christensen, who acted as adviser to Crawford during the entire questioning and cross-examination.

Evidently willing to explain various meetings with Lavine, as well as with Kent Parrot, Jacob Friedlander, Abe Morris and others, Crawford stood on his constitutional rights when it came to giving reasons for the meetings or the causes that sent him to a bank to obtain the cash for the newspaper man.

First actual indication that Crawford intended to stand on his constitutional rights, came after he had been sworn and told of meeting Lavine in his office on the afternoon of the arrest. Dennison asked Crawford of the conversation that took place between the two during the hour and a half visit. Crawford then turned to Judge Schauer and said:

STAND ON RIGHTS

"Your honor, I'm under indictment on other charges, and I want to stand on my constitutional rights."

"You have a right to refuse to answer if it will incriminate you," Judge Schauer replied.

Further questioning and attempts to get from Crawford the conversation that occurred prior to the passage of the $75,000 in $1000 bills were met with a refusal and the statement by the witness that he wanted to stand on his constitutional rights.

Dennison then drew from the witness the testimony that he and Lavine were alone in his private office for about one hour and a half, and then suddenly Crawford answered that he gave the money to Lavine during the course of their conversation.

NUMBERS TAKEN

He then went on and related that he got the money from the bank some two hours before the meeting, and that the serial numbers were taken prior to that time by Blaney Mathews, Chief Investigator for the District Attorney's office.

"Why did you give $75,000 to Mr. Lavine," Dennison asked.

Crawford turned to his attorney for advice and then refused to answer.

He later told of other meetings with Lavine, of a telephone conversation, and described Lavine's separating the $75,000 into two packages and wrapping them in newspaper. One of the packets contained $25,000, the other $50,000, Crawford said.

Efforts of the prosecutor to obtain a more detailed story of the payment of the money reached such a point in argument between opposing attorneys that the jury was excused for five minutes.

DID NOT "FRAME"

During this interim Dennison told Crawford, who was seated in the witness chair, that Lavine went before the grand jury and swore that he was "framed."

The prosecutor contended that either the testimony of Lavine is untrue, or that Crawford went before the grand jury and committed perjury when he testified on the inquiry prior to the indictment.

Crawford was asked, following this, if he desired to answer questions on the various conversations with Lavine. "I'll stand on my constitutional rights, and I didn't frame or trap anyone either," he replied.

"JUST THE OPPOSITE"

On cross-examination, conducted by Attorney Kendrick, counsel for Lavine, when asked if the District Attorney's office had offered to dis-

NATIVE BLOOMS ON DISPLAY

Campfire Girls Exhibit Wild Flowers

Barbara Gale Names Them All

"WHAT is a botanist?"

"Any person who can make a correct label for each one of these flowers."

"Any person who can do that is a magician."

That was part of a conversation overheard yesterday in the children's community hall, Palma, where members of Hop-in-Wo Tepee, Camp Fire Girls of America, are giving their annual exhibit of wild flowers. The display consists of more than 200 varieties of California wild flowers gathered by the girls on pre-exhibit hikes into the country. Special permission to pluck the flowers is obtained by the organization each year.

During the week the girls alternate in escorting visitors about the hall. Yesterday it was Barbara Gale's turn to point out the various blooms. The exhibit will close Saturday.

CORPORATIONS CANNOT DOCTOR

Superior Court Dissolves Los Angeles Concern

Judge Holds Medical Arts Only for Individuals

Defendant as Company Must Refrain from Practice

A corporation cannot be organized for the express purpose of practicing medicine under the laws of the State of California.

This is the opinion of Superior Judge Blake, who handed down a decision yesterday in the first action of its kind in this State, a suit brought by Atty.-Gen. Webb in behalf of Granville MacGowan, president of the California Medical Association, against the Medical Service Corporation, capitalized at $250,000, for the purpose of practicing medicine.

LOS ANGELES CONCERN

The corporation with its principal headquarters in Los Angeles has branch stations in the Pantages Theater Building, 5979 Avalon Boulevard, 981 North Main street, 2915 Santa Fe avenue and 1215 East Seventh street. A staff of twenty-four physicians is maintained, scattered among the various branches.

Judge Blake's ruling does not affect hospital associations and charitable organizations.

According to the complaint filed by the Attorney-General, the Medical Service Corporation is engaged, without lawful authority, grant, license or franchise, in the business of practicing medicine in the State, particularly in Los Angeles county. It is further contended that the patients treated at the various branches of the corporation are not patients of individual physicians who treat them at the different stations.

In its defense of the suit the corporation, represented in court by Attorney Crider, contended a corporation can practice medicine through its agents.

FRANCHISE CANCELED

Judge Blake's order dissolves the franchise of the Medical Service Corporation in California and perpetually enjoins the organization from practicing medicine. The ruling also carries a penalty of $10,000 fine if the court order is violated.

According to the incorporation papers of the Medical Service Corporation, the purpose of the organization is to build, purchase, lease, acquire, equip or maintain a hospital for the care and treatment of the sick, disabled, infirm, abnormal and all kinds of dependent, defective and delinquent persons; to maintain and conduct sanatoria, clinics, dispensaries, pharmacies, consultation rooms, laboratories and training schools for nurses; to handle medical, surgical, sanitary supplies of all kinds, and food and clothing; to manufacture, buy, import, sell, export and deal in medical, surgical and physical apparatus, instruments, machinery and supplies of all kinds; to employ skilled physicians, nurses and attendants and do all things necessary and useful to carry on the business, including the running of ambulances, the keeping of vehicles, horses and motors of all kinds.

In his written opinion Judge Blake declares:

CONTENTION OF COMPANY

"The defendant's contention is that since doctors may lawfully associate themselves together to practice medicine, likewise it may do so in its corporate capacity as a corporation by employing as its agents qualified physicians and surgeons to do the work of the corporation.

"The vice of this contention consists in its assumption that individuals may generally and as a matter of right associate themselves together for the practice of medicine; this assumption is fallacious, since under the laws of California individuals may not either singly or in an association engage in the practice of medicine without having a special license to do so, and hence individuals forming a corporation could not under our law gain any other or further right by the act of incorporation than is lawfully possessed by them either singly or in the aggregate without corporation.

"The corporation cannot, of course, as a corporation pass the Medical Board examination and can only

NO MATTER how small the town in Mexico, some one is sure to come up and announce that he has lived in the United States.

An old ragamuffin with the shreds of two pairs of pants, one ragged shoe and one sandal, came up to us in the hotel lobby. He said he had worked in Los Angeles and Beaumont. He couldn't get back across the line; but two of his children were born in Los Angeles, and he cackled with glee to think that they can't be kept out of the United States.

DIVIDED FAMILY

In a tiny mountain town we met another Mexican. He had been a waiter in a winter hotel at Tampa and a sailor in the Navy. He is now an inspector of steel in a mill in Cleveland. He came down to Mexico to visit his father and mother, and now he can't get back, owing to the new immigration laws.

He is married to an American girl in Cleveland, and they have a baby. She is in the United States, on the wrong side of the line, dancing in a picture house, and writes him letters which he showed us with great pride. They said: "Dear husband, I love you. I adore you. The baby is well and I am well. I am dancing in a theater."

RAH-RAH BOY

In another town of Michoacan we met a boy who had spent one year at the University of Illinois. He had to come home when his father lost his estate in one of the revolutions. He is forgetting his English but looks forward to the day when there will be a lot of American tourists down here.

A FORGOTTEN ROMANCE

We should have known from the chicken that no Mexican ever cooked it. It was at a luncheon they gave us in a town on the border between Jalisco and Michoacan—in a camphor grove. We saw the peasant woman hovering over the open fire and there was something about the way she hobbled around—as though her feet were sore.

She finally turned around and we saw that she was a very old and a very weasened-up colored woman. I tried to talk to her, but she had forgotten how to speak English. I suppose her story went back to some far-away cotton field and a moonlight night and a Mexican boy.

ARMY DISCIPLINE

The Mexicans are making what many people consider a dangerous experiment with their army. They are turning it from a scattered go-as-you-please band of guerrilla fighters who lug along the women and children, goats and chickens, into a disciplined modern force. It is to be seen how so markedly individualistic a people as Mexican Indians will take to European discipline.

MODELS

The Secretary of War—Gen Amaro—has gone to the best source for his army models.

The uniform he has adopted is half Russian, half German.

He is modeling his cavalry on the English; his infantry on the French; his aviation corps on the American lines.

YACHT HARBOR APPROVED

Commissioners Vote on Tentative Plans for Construction of $1,218,100 Anchorage

Tentative plans for a harbor to accommodate 600 yachts in the area between the Los Angeles breakwater and Fort MacArthur reservation, opposite the Miner fill, at an estimated cost of $1,218,100, were approved yesterday by the Board of Harbor Commissioners.

The plans were prepared by Harbor Engineer Nicholson at the request of Commissioner Spear, following a conference with the civic regatta committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and leading yacht owners who are seeking permanent anchorage for the Los Angeles pleasure fleet, now scattered over areas of Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors.

Spear said that he plans to bring before the board at its next meeting proposals for starting construction as early as possible to accommodate such yachts as need the facilities at once, and to complete the whole project gradually.

Nicholson's figures show that carrying charges on the investment will be $129,250 a year. Monthly carrying charges on facilities now provided for the 425 yachts at the harbor, he stated, are $10,140 and under the new plan the carrying charges would be $10,770 a month, which would require a berthing charge for the yachts of $20 a month each or 28 per cent lineal foot for an average length of seventy feet.

The plans call for eight yacht piers with a sea wall between the present breakwater and the outer tip of the Miner fill, leaving two openings, one with a bridge, so that there will be an approach to short wharves placed on the inside of the sea wall. There will be a fill along the foot of the San Pedro bluff, between Fort MacArthur reservation and Point Fermin. On this would be located a road to reach the wharves.

Estimated cost of the dredging and fill is $85,000; rock jetty, $130,000; roadway, $50,000; wharves to accommodate the present 425 yachts, $39,600 jetty or sea wall and bridge, $626,000, or a total of $1,167,600 for the present fleet, or $1,218,100 for additional wharves and moorings for a future fleet of 600 yachts.

Commissioner Spear pointed out that a municipal yacht basin installed near the San Francisco Presidio is bringing in a revenue of 50 cents per lineal foot with all the space taken and a demand for much more. The area for the pro-

STEPFATHER-MARRIAGE FORCED, CHILD CHARGES

How a 12-year-old girl was forced into marriage with her step-father at the point of a gun, and compelled to do hard labor as mistress of a farmhouse in caring for her half-brothers and sisters who became her step-children, is related as part of the assertions in a divorce complaint filed yesterday by Mrs. Effie Hampson Davidson, 18-year-old ward of Juvenile Court, against Dale V. Davidson, 36, from whom she separated June 2, 1927.

Mrs. Davidson, now an inmate of the Convent of the Good Shepherd, an Episcopalian institution, under court order, is represented by Attorney Dora Shaw Heffner, who filed the complaint with a pauper's oath to avoid payment of legal fees. The complaint asks that Mrs. Ethel Riddell of 118 North Formosa avenue be appointed guardian of the plaintiff pending the suit.

Mrs. Davidson was married in Denver April 17, 1925, according to her complaint, shortly after her mother's death. Her husband, she asserts, forced her to swear she was 18 years of age, threatening to kill her and her brother if she refused.

After the marriage Davidson beat her with a razor strop when she bobbed her hair, she said, and flourished his pistol in a threatening manner to intimidate her. Once when she went sleigh riding, it is asserted, Davidson beat her with a stick. Asked regarding the circumstances of Mrs. Davidson's moving from Colorado to California, Attorney Heffner said she had no statement to make and that she desires as little public notice of the divorce action as possible.

HOSPITAL'S LOCATION NEAR

Site for Institution for Care of Mental Cases in Southland to be Picked Within Ten Days

Choice of a site for the proposed new mental hospital in Southern California is expected to be made within ten days, Earl K. Jensen, director of institutions, told Gov. Young at the monthly meeting of the Governor's Council at Sacramento yesterday. Director Jensen's forecast is contained in a copy of his report received here.

The Department of Public Works, of which the division of architecture, has promised immediate action on the building program as soon as the site is selected, Director Jensen said. Labor conditions and cheap building materials, he declared, should enable the State to save between $100,000 and $150,000.

Director Jensen also reported a sharp reduction in the number of new patients admitted to the six mental hospitals. Where in January the net increase was 154 and in February, 125, in March the net increase was only sixty-three, with coming months expected to see a further reduction to the normal average of between thirty-eight to forty-two new patients.

"The unusual increase during January and February," it was stated, "has been attributed by our superintendents to unemployment and unsettled economic conditions during those months and extending into March. Many border-line cases due to financial and other worries occasioned by such conditions as are known to exist during these months find their way into our hospitals.

"With the opening of spring and summer work and a betterment of conditions," the report continued, "we expect a decrease in our population and commitments. At least, these bettered conditions, ample work and other factors will enable a more ready parole or discharge of patients, especially where employment must be first arranged for, or where they go into homes whose support is necessary from wage earners in the field of labor."

Director Jensen mentioned that the first patient to be granted parole from the State Narcotic Hospital has been discharged, the maximum time of two years having expired since his commitment. The patient, he said, has made a satisfactory adjustment, is living happily with his family and is running his own business.

"He was granted parole on February 14, 1929, and during his entire parole period was an exemplary patient," said the director.

"Hindu Seer" Held for Mulcting White Woman Under His Spell

CRYSTAL GAZER FINDS NEW VIEW

"Swami" in Jail Must Face Serious Charges

Accused of Obtaining Large Gift of Money

Policewoman Describes His Ardent Lovemaking

While under a spell she gave $4300 to Swami Bantappa Raw, was the conjecture voiced yesterday by Mrs. Adele Banks Allerhand, when she appeared at Central Police Station to complain against the asserted Hindu seer, held on charge of suspicion of grand theft. Earlier in the day Mrs. Allerhand, until recently Miss Banks, had refused to sign a complaint against the self-styled swami, who was arrested Tuesday night at his apartment, 5711 Hooper avenue.

Detective Captain Thomason was punting what to do about Raw, when Mrs. Allerhand appeared at his office late yesterday. She was escorted by Mrs. Florence Forrest, a vibrational reading consultant, of 2926 Ocean Front Promenade, Ocean Park. When Mrs. Allerhand, then Miss Banks, complained to police several weeks ago, she is reported by them to have said she met Raw after a consultation at which Mrs. Forrest said she would meet and fall in love with a tall dark man in flowing robes. Both women denied this version yesterday.

TELLS HER STORY

Mrs. Allerhand announced that she was desirous to sign a complaint charging Bantappa Raw with grand theft. She gave Capt. Thomason a detailed story of her relations with the dark-skinned prisoner. Thomason announced that the first thing today he will take Mrs. Allerhand to the District Attorney's office, where she will sign a complaint.

"Why did you give Raw $4300?" was asked of Mrs. Allerhand.

"I don't know," she replied. "I must have been under the influence of the swami's spell."

Capt. Thomason said his detectives had checked up and reported that Raw, who purports to be the son of an Indian planter worth $10,000,000, is an American Negro, known among Negroes here.

Mrs. Forrest went to Central Police Station particularly to deny vehemently reports that Miss Banks met Raw through her. The young woman's revised version yesterday was that another woman told her about Raw while they were playing at some concession pier fortune game. This woman is quoted as saying she knew a fortune teller and, that he was a remarkable Hindu seer. Upon this recommendation, Miss Banks sought a seance with Raw.

AS TO MRS. FORREST

Mrs. Forrest added that she had learned of the younger woman's experience, and had "rescued" her from Raw, taking her into her own home. There a romance was begun, and on Sunday Miss Banks married Mrs. Forrest's adopted son, Herbert Allerhand. They were so happy that they wanted to drop the charges Mrs. Allerhand had laid with police several weeks ago, accusing Raw of inducing her to give him sums totaling $4300. Because of the notoriety attending Raw's arrest, Mrs. Forrest said, she and Mrs. Allerhand had determined to tell all they knew. She insisted that Raw was not a personal acquaintance, and that she is not a fortune teller.

Her sign at Ocean Park announces "Mrs. Florence Forrest, the famous reader of destiny. Palm reading. Crystal gazing." In a beach directory, she advertises as "Author of strange episodes. The world famous expressionist in public lecturing, unlimited experience in vibrational reading. Consult Mrs. Forrest herself on important matters. Expert psychologist and medium."

Police report that Raw was arrested in his luxuriously furnished apartment at 5711 Hooper avenue. Detective Lieutenant Sanford arrested Raw after he is asserted to have read the crystal for Policewoman Mary Ross, and then made improper advances to her. Mrs. Ross reported an exciting experience and said she was forced to flee to the street to escape the asserted swami.

"I went to Raw's apartment by appointment," Mrs. Ross declared. "I went in alone as he had asked me to do. He had his apartments lavishly furnished and affected the mysterious manner of other Hindu fortune-tellers. He wore a turban and a highly colored silk lounging robe.

"He sat behind a little carved table and motioned me to a chair on the opposite side. In front of him was a crystal ball. At first he looked into it then up at me and began to ask me questions. But he suddenly stopped talking in this way and began to make personal remarks. I tried to distract him but he got up and came toward me and started to make violent love to me. I got up and tried to leave and then he took hold of me and attempted to disrobe me, all the time making improper remarks.

"Desperate, I told him I was a police officer and that he was under arrest. He said he didn't care, that he wanted me anyway. Unable to prevent his love-making, I ran from the room. He followed me out and threatened to drag me back into the house. Then I screamed for help and in a few moments Detective Lieutenant Sanford came to my aid and placed Raw under arrest."

Elridge McClandon, Negro of 112 East Fifty-first street, said to be Raw's chauffeur, was arrested as he sat in front of the apartments in Raw's automobile acting, according to police, as a "lookout" for the asserted seer. He was held on a charge of vagrancy.

The money said to have been given to Raw Miss Banks obtained from a wealthy benefactor of Pasadena, according to Capt. Thomason, who paid for the girl's education in Columbia University.

Raw yesterday denied that he had been given any money by the young woman and asserted he, instead, gave her $1100 and paid for many of her recent expenses. He declared his father is a planter in India worth $10,000,000, and that he came to this country two years ago. He added that he has worked in several motion pictures in the role of Hindu soothsayer, was with a circus for a time, and recently became the confidante of many motion-picture people.

Police, in checking up on his finances, learned, they said, that he has only about $3000 in the bank, which they believe, is part of the money said to have been given to him by Miss Banks.

Miss Banks lived formerly with her sister, Mrs. Walter Sayer at 3125 North Hope street, Huntington Park, according to police. As the wife of Herbert Allerhand she is now said to reside in Ocean Park. She is 30 years of age.

McClendon, Raw's chauffeur, was arraigned last night before Municipal Judge Muller in night court on a charge of vagrant idle. Judge Muller imposed a sentence of thirty days in jail, which was suspended on McClendon's promise to get a job.

PLANES HELD UP BY FREAK STORM

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30. (Exclusive) — A freak storm which struck in the vicinity of the Tehachapi today, apparently as an offshoot of a backed-up low pressure area from Utah, caused one airplane to turn back to Los Angeles while en route to the Bay District, and another to set down at Palmdale until the weather cleared.

The northbound Western Air Express plane which left Los Angeles at 8:50 a.m. turned back because of the storm, but subsequent planes came through on schedule. The southbound morning plane of T.A.T.-Maddux landed at Palmdale, the local office said, but continued later. The afternoon planes were canceled.

Precipitation in inches reported by official northern stations at 5 p.m. was:

Negro Problems Meeting Subject

Negro problems of unemployment were discussed last night at a meeting of the Urban League, a Community Chest agency. The meeting, under the chairmanship of Assemblyman Frederick Roberts, was a sequel of Vocational Opportunity Week.

Albert S. Baumann, president, outlined efforts made last week to interest civic bodies in the question of Negro employment. He reported visits to the Mayor and to city departments. Rabbi Maxwell H. Dubin of B'Nai B'rith congregation spoke on the brotherhood of races. He stressed that the place held by the Negro as poet, statesman, merchant and tradesman establishes his right to professional and industrial rights with other Americans.

SHULER SEEKS HEARING DELAY

Motion in Contempt Action Asks for Continuance

Affidavit Tells of Booking for Conference in Texas

Court Consideration of Plea Scheduled for Today

Rev. R. P. Shuler, whose speeches over the radio have brought him in conflict with the authorities on several occasions, yesterday began a battle to avoid the consequences of his recent attacks on certain Superior Court judges, which resulted in a contempt citation by attorneys for the Los Angeles Bar Association.

Through his attorney, Thomas S. Bunn, Mr. Shuler presented to the court an affidavit in support of a motion to continue the hearing on contempt charges set in Superior Judge Tappaan's court, for 10 a.m. the 8th inst. Mr. Shuler takes oath that he must be present at a church conference in Dallas, Tex., next Wednesday and has two other speaking dates in June, adding that his failure to be present will embarrass the institutions where he is scheduled to appear, if they have to substitute another speaker. A date later than June 15 was suggested by the pastor.

Attorney Alexander MacDonald accepted the motion for the bar committee, and Superior Judge Doran set the hearing on the motion at 9:30 a.m. today before Judge Tappaan.

The order cites Mr. Shuler to appear and show why he should not be held in contempt of the Superior Court for criticising Superior Judges McComb and Wood for their actions in some of the so-called Julian cases involving Jacob Berman, Ben Getzoff, John B. Groves, Louis Krause and Louis Berman, and for permitting Charles H. Coffey to apply for probation and remarks reproaching the grand jury for not investigating Sheriff Traeger.

Another action is directed against Rev. E. E. Wall, Mr. Shuler's associate pastor, for writing a letter to Judge Wood asing leniency for an asserted automobile thief. Mr. Wall has not requested a delay in his case, which also is set for the 8th inst.

If Mexico ever gets good roads a new market for American automobiles will be opened that will cheer the manufacturers' up considerably. In some of the towns of Michoacan they have bought automobiles by hundreds, with no place to go.

FED UP

If ever a country was fed up on revolutions it is this one.

Even the peasants realize how incalculable has been the cost in poverty, in suffering and in lost opportunities of this horrible twenty years of warfare.

The collapse of the last one was a great lesson to the army group. They realize that the policy of the United States made that one and all future revolutions impossible. Instead of resentment, the Mexican people are almost pathetically grateful.

They want roads and they want to go to work. All they need now is foreign capital. Their country is so outrageously rich in resources and they are so poor that it is like a man starving because he can't get anybody to change a $500 bill.

SPORTSMEN DINNER NETS LARGE FUND

Biltmore Affair Given by Junior Chamber Brings in $16,500 for Athletics

The Sportsmen's Dinner—$100 a plate—$10 a course, with a potential $1,000,000 worth of motion-picture star talent as entertainment, attracted $16,500 to the coffers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce last night at the banquet at the Biltmore. The funds will be used for the promotion of Los Angeles amateur athletics, particularly the $10,000 open golf championship next January and for winter sports.

With Ben Bard as master of ceremonies more than a score of the lights of Hollywood presented an impromptu revue headed by the Duncan Sisters in their interpretation of "The Strange Interlude."

An oddity in modernistic radio broadcasting was given inadvertently by Joe E. Brown during the period when the entertainment program was going over the air via radio station KHJ. With typical mouth contortions Brown presented the trying moments of a baseball pitcher to the assembled guests and the radio audience—but in pantomime.

In keeping with the spirit of the evening Mayor Porter was asked to speak on the coming water bond issue and after a scant dozen words was halted by the toastmaster, James R. Page, who declared the meeting for the bonds and against speeches.

The personalities of the stage and screen who attended the dinner and appeared on the entertainment program included: Fay Marbe, the Duncan Sisters, Joe E. Brown, Lotti Loder, Lina Basquette, Ruth Roland, James Hall and Geanie Land. The combined orchestras of Earl Burtnett and Norman Marsh furnished the music.

posed yacht basin here, he said, cannot be used for commercial shipping because the bottom is shallow, rocky and cannot be dredged up to the bluff, as once was planned. It can be used for yachts by making the fill out to a certain depth and doing some dredging, he said.

Telephone lines, electricity, water, gas and oil fuel will be arranged on each pier, he said, so that each yacht may be hooked up to the lines as it lies at its berth. The assurance that the yachtsmen will take advantage of the facilities, he said, is the main thing necessary to speed construction of the whole project.

Spear said that the department would retain control of the project, alloting certain piers to yacht club groups should they desire them, with space for yacht club buildings on the fill back of the piers. Other piers would be operated by the department for general use, with provision for the Sea Scouts, the Naval Reserve and other organizations. Cabrillo Beach and its boathouse would remain intact, as at present, he said.

KILLERS PICKED AS GEM BANDITS

Hold-up Victims Identify Pair as Gunmen

Burke and Winkler Sought in Chicago Massacre

Pair Also Linked to Other Diamond Robberies

Identified by the victims of a diamond robbery in Huntington Park last week, Frederick R. Burke, 31 years of age, and August H. Winkler, 22, asserted Chicago gangsters, sought for participation in the St. Valentine's Day massacre in Chicago in 1929 and for crimes in other eastern cities, yesterday were the objects of a county-wide search launched here.

FREDERICK R. BURKE

The pair, according to Capt. Stensland, head of the Sheriff's robbery and burglary detail, were definitely identified through photographs by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cooper, 7128 Oxford avenue, Huntington Park, as the men who on the 26th inst. entered their home by subterfuge and, after robbing them of diamond rings valued at $800, imprisoned them in a closet and escaped.

AUGUST H. WINKLER

Stensland yesterday ordered every available man of his detail to join in running down a number of clews in his possession.

ROBBERIES FIRST EVIDENCE

While receiving word about a month ago that the two men were here, Stensland stated yesterday that the first concrete evidence of their actual presence came with the identification by the Coopers. Making a further check with other recent county robberies, he declared the men fit the description of those who on the morning of the 22nd inst. forced their way into the home of Mrs. Dorothy Kemp at 917 North Citron avenue and attempted to rob her of diamonds they said they had seen her wear at a cabaret the previous Sunday night.

After threatening to kill her if what she told them was not true, the men left when Mrs. Kemp informed them the jewelry was not in her possession at that time, she reported. Before leaving they rifled the house, taking about $20 in cash.

HIGH PRICE ON HEAD

Superficial investigation by Stensland has disclosed several diamond robberies in Los Angeles and two in Long Beach, which, he asserted, bear a striking resemblance in the bold method in which they have been carried out.

Besides the Chicago killings, Burke and Winkler are sought for two shootings in Louisville, Ky., and other offenses, according to information in possession of Stensland. A reward of $100,000 is offered for the capture of Burke, who also is asserted to have used the aliases of Brooks, Camp, Kemp and Kemper. Winkler is also known by the aliases of Backer and Baker, according to police bulletins.

OLD COIN BUYER LANDS IN JAIL

Stamps Also Bought With Spurious Checks, Say Arresting Officers

Exchanging asserted spurious checks for old coins and stamps yesterday landed Fred W. Barnhart, 45 years of age, of 663 South Grand avenue, in the City Jail on suspicion of forgery, according to a report made by Detective Lieutenants Crowley and Posner of the Central police forgery detail.

Barnhart, the detectives said, distributed checks amounting to nearly $2000 for the purchase of the coins and stamps which he immediately turned into cash.

Wife Charges Queer Cruelty

Fred T. Keepers practiced such ingenious acts of cruelty that he nearly drove his wife, Mrs. Clara Ruth Keepers, crazy, she testified yesterday when granted a divorce by Superior Judge Tappaan.

"He used to follow me in his automobile when I was driving mine and force me to the curb," she testified. "Then, when I left my car, he would take parts out of it so that it would not run."

Mrs. Keepers thought this cruel and so did the court.

LAW-ENFORCING UP TO CITIZENS

Observance Depends Solely on People, Says Fitts

Ebell Club Sponsor of Meet of Dry Advocates

Wright Statute Author Says Propaganda Drive On

An audience that comfortably filled the Ebell Club auditorium last night was told that the laws of the land should be enforced and that they can be enforced—particularly the Eighteenth Amendment, if the citizens decide they shall be. Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, T. M. Wright, author of the Senate prohibition act which bears his name, and Dist.-Atty. Fitts were the speakers.

The purpose of the gathering was to give impetus to law observance and it was sponsored by the Ebell Club, the Law Observance League and the Law Enforcement League. Mrs. A. B. Cooke, Ebell Club president, presided.

LAWBREAKERS ALWAYS

Judge Bledsoe declared that the wets never respected the local option laws when they were in force and that no substitute for the present prohibition law ever will be observed by them. He declared that they think more of the satisfaction of their appetite than they do of their families or of the community.

Assemblyman Wright said there is a drive on against the Eighteenth Amendment and that he believes it to be financed by foreign money. He warned against accepting propaganda as facts without reasoning the matter out.

"For years America was trying to mop up the floor without turning off the faucet. Now when we have turned it off, they tell us that we can mop up easier if we have a regulated flow of water," he said. "It is all propaganda."

POLL SUSPICIONS

Regarding the Literary Digest poll he declared he is not satisfied as he does not know how many voted more than once or where the lists came from.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts spoke briefly, telling of the work of Capt. Plummer of the county dry squad and the work accomplished by him and his squad of eleven men.

"The laws can be enforced," he declared. "They will be enforced, too, there is a spirit in America that will see to it."

SMALL BOAT WILL CRUISE SOUTH SEAS

Ex-State Official to Make Daring Two-Year Solo Ocean Voyage

A two-year solo cruise of the South Seas aboard a thirty-five-foot sailing sloop with auxiliary motor has been started by L. E. Ross, former chief of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics.

Technically the solo adventure will begin at Los Angeles in a few days.

"This sounds like a hazardous undertaking to some," Ross said, "but to me it is a glorious adventure, one I have been looking forward to for many years."

The Lethe is a sturdy craft. Built fifteen years ago in San Francisco it achieved a reputation for speed and ease of handling in rough water.

After leaving Los Angeles Ross will first stop at Marquesas Island, then the Society, Cook, Tonga and Samoan groups. He plans to spend considerable time in Samoa and the Fiji Islands gathering material for a book.

From the Fijis he will strike across to Auckland, New Zealand, and thence to Wellington. Then he will point toward the Island of Tasmania. From there he will skirt the coast of Australia, touching at Melbourne and Sydney.

Passing through the Torres Straits, the Lethe will proceed leisurely through the East Indies. Batavia, the capital city of Java, will be a port of call, before reaching the Straits Settlements and Singapore.

The last part of the voyage will take Ross up the China Sea to Shanghai, on to Japan and thence across the Pacific to the Hawaiian Islands and back to California.

CORPORATIONS CANNOT DOCTOR

act through its agents. The right to practice medicine attaches to the individual and dies with him and it cannot be made a subject of business sheltered under the laws of inheritance. All the directors of this corporation or stockholders may be licensed practitioners, but at any time these directors or officers, by death or otherwise, may transfer their shares and might be succeeded by laymen, none of whom possesses the right to practice medicine.

"Therefore, under the maxim that you cannot do indirectly, as in this case by the creation of a corporation, that which is directly prohibited by law, upon this proposition the great weight of authority in California and elsewhere is that a corporation cannot, as such, practice medicine."

Judge Blake says, in conclusion: "If, in the last analysis, corporations are allowed to practice medicine as a general proposition, it is the opening wedge to the commercialization of the practice of the learned profession of medicine, and permits the creeping in of many unethical and uncontrollable factors which the law has heretofore rigidly sought to avoid."

BOY SCOUTS GRATEFUL

At their weekly meeting in the Avenue 21 school, members of Boy Scout Troop No. 66 tomorrow evening will extend a formal vote of thanks to Ben F. Ford, president of the Hollywood Paving Company, for having played host to them last Sunday on an automobile tour of the Orange Empire. The excursion was made in one of Ford's motor trucks and included a stop at Riverside for lunch.

Today's Bible Text

All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient; all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not. Let no man seek his own, but every man another's wealth.—I Cor. x, 23-24.

RAISED THE ROOF

More than thirty bands blew their heads off in the recent Raisin Day parade at Fresno.

STICK 'EM UP

The Chief of Police of San Francisco advises persons, when they are held up, to be nonchalant. Afterward to blow policemen's whistles! Possibly to keep their courage up!

WET

"The national government should seek and obtain the sober opinion of all the people," said John Godfrey Saxe to a wet mass meeting. But how could it get a sober opinion from the wets.

MACHINE AGE

The machine has piled up a debt of $800,000,000 on Philadelphia, says Senator Grundy. Machine politics or machine guns? What an argument Chicago and Philadelphia are for repealing something or other!

A NEW PERIL

In an argument with three strangers a Los Angeles man was beaten into unconsciousness with a ukulele. We can understand what started the fight. If somebody should happen to connect the saxophone with this, what a massacre there would be!

DO-DADDLES

A publication laments the possibility of the city "do-daddles" ever coming across with enough money to finish the extra rim around the Coliseum. However, Highland Park has forced on it a Victory Park which it does not want. Don't-daddles! if you ask us!

EVEN TENOR

Women are going to drive the machinery of world affairs in the not distant future, laments Edward Johnson of the Metropolitan Opera Company. The leading tenor must have had a mix-up with the high soprano, or he would not think the world is going matriarchy.

WOMEN AND WAR

The Greek women who strung the bows of their men with their hair had nothing on the Daughters of the American Revolution. "The enemy is not only within our gates, but without, and we do not feel the time has come for us to scrap our ships," said Mrs. Fred C. Morgan, chairman of the D.A.R. legislative committee, in convention in Washington. They inspired President Hoover to say, "There is a price no nation can afford to pay for peace."

BANDITRY ON A BIG SCALE

Those Southern Chinese bandits are at it again, in fact, they are at it on a scale that threatens no end of trouble to American missionaries and to the natives of the provinces in the neighborhood of Nanking. Armed with machine guns, a large mob of the unruly ones swept down upon Kinsuchen, not far from the Chinese capital, looted the city, massacred 1000 residents and made off with about as many more, who doubtless were to be held for ransom. In a similar attack upon the city of Sientaochen two Catholic priests were kidnaped, while others fled with sisters of the local mission.

The depredations by these bandits as well as by the Reds who have been besieging Kanchow, Sinfeng and Kienli are likely to go unpunished, as the troops of the Nationalist government have not shown themselves capable of coping with the enormous bands of marauders who during recent weeks have murdered peaceable residents by the thousand and menaced the Christian missionaries.

The trouble lies in the weakness of the Nationalists, whose leaders can devise no better formula for quieting the bandit chiefs than buying them off. But it is evident from cables from Shanghai that this supine system has not worked well of late and the price of immunity is going higher and higher. What a really strong government, backed by well-trained troops, could do to restore peace in China is apparent, but unfortunately there is no such government nor are there such troops.

OUR BOYS

Both the Southern California sun and sons have been cutting up capers this week. For "Boys are made of scissors and snails and puppy dog's tails." Be Kind to Dumb Animals Week was telescoped into Boys' Week; but what boy would not share his week with his dog?

Boys have been running the government, conducting business and looking after affairs in general. As far as we can see, matters have gone along normally.

At that we would not be at all surprised to find that the government was more honest for seven days. While this may not have been the purpose; for we were likely thinking more of the boy than his rule; yet it would not astonish anyone to find more than the boys beneficiaries.

If the boy be father of the man, he must sometimes be ashamed of his progeny.

"Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching," and editing and directing and teaching and sentencing and doing a thousand and one things for a brief period. Every year 500,000 to 800,000 boys are marching into manhood and into citizenship. But the boys are not the only marchers. Coming to meet these youngsters is an army of bootleggers, narcotic peddlers, questionable showmen and vice tempters and temptresses in general. A flood of vile literature also rises to engulf them. And the shame of it is that this hostile host is recruited from the adults.

The teacher has a big job cut out for him. The preacher must not be a softling. And yet they are not the only ones who have duties. The folks who are directly responsible are the ones to whom the boys and girls have been given. Millions of fathers and mothers have been distributed among the boys for a very definite purpose.

A father cannot look after many boys at one time. The father of a dozen was recently reported in a paper. He needs help. Every father's instruction to the police should be, "If you see anything the matter with my boy, come and straighten me up." If any father has too much business to look after his boy, let him quit some of his business.

However, everything cannot be blamed on the dad. Every human being is of divine lineage. And this superstrain is stronger than human blood. The father is responsible for much; but the boy must live his own life.

About the biggest institution Uncle Sam has is the American boy. If there be a bigger institution, it is the American girl. Boys and girls are twin possibilities of the farthest reach. There may be Presidential timber in the humblest home. Every little sprig should be nurtured with the greatest care.

The teacher sees that the boy is kept busy during school hours. But the boy's leisure needs the greatest watchfulness. Idle hands find ill to do. And a dad's leisure is made coincident with that of his boy that he may play with the youngster.

Some men know their onions, but not their boys. Others know their golf, but not their God-given pals. A few know their securities, their clients and the trend of stocks; but are densely ignorant of their offspring.

The best way to hold boys to ideals and keep sinister solicitations from them is to build a wall of daddies around them. Playgrounds are beneficent; but the best place for a boy is at home with his dad. The home may be the meanest in town; but it is the best clubhouse for the urchin. When carpets are too good for noisy feet, they should be sold to the antique dealers. Let your boy raise Ned—Ned was considerably elevated when you were a kid.

If your home is fine, you have a better opportunity to offer the rising generation to rise. The beating of children's feet will keep the moths out. Moths are more destructive than boys. When the best room is musty, it is a sign that somebody is shy on doing his duty.

Every dining-room should be a public dining-room for the boy and his friends. Every boy's room should be his castle. He should not have to revert to a cave in the hillside. Hands and feet and heads of boys and dogs develop first. Who wants pinheads? Have one blind eye and one deaf ear for your boy! Let him wiggle. If your boy didn't wiggle, you would send for the undertaker. He is the livest thing on earth—that's why we love him!

ALADDIN RUBS HIS LAMP

In a full-page editorial extolling the virtues of advertising Collier's Weekly terms it "the Cinderella of selling." Not a bad piece of literary imagery, but a more striking one would be the Aladdin's lamp of business, for it is true that when a merchant or manufacturer rubs the advertising lamp to good purpose the result often is equal to that produced by the ancient Arabian. It is as if he held his hat under a golden shower. So great is the force of honest advertising that there is no withstanding it. Those sellers of new or staple commodities who have employed this means of reaching the public eye and purse have far outstripped their old-style, conservative competitors who sought to sell their goods without really letting the people know that they were on sale.

When Aladdin, Inc., rubs its advertising lamp it makes business hum. The cost of the lamp seems high to the timid merchant, but it is a bagatelle in comparison with the cash it produces. It is now well understood by economists that it is less expensive to the merchant to advertise than not to do so. All over the country the advertising Aladdin is rubbing his lamp and is reaping the reward of his enterprise.

The history of advertising is interesting. It began in this country in a conspicuous way in 1840. At first it was a sort of puffery and for a long time the public distrusted it. For more than a generation it was not considered reputable by legitimate business houses, but its power as a force in merchandising eventually brought reputable interests into the advertising field. Among the first classes of manufacturers to advertise largely were the makers of sewing machines, typewriters and cameras. The business expanded greatly in the 'nineties. Today it is enormous. Where formerly novelties were advertised, it is now the staples that predominate, such as automobiles, shoes, flour, cereal foods and clothing.

It is to advertising that this country owes much of its prosperity. Instead of the old exaggerations modern advertising presents accurate information and logical reasoning. The first notably successful attempt to apply psychology to the needs of the commercial world was made in the advertising field. It was found that prolonged attention could be secured by clever wording and by repetition. A distinct profession of advertising copy men and artists has grown up in this country. These men know how to clinch the argument, but they never can do so and bring in the "repeat" orders unless they are dealing with merchandise of real merit.

The public has come to recognize such facts. It buys the goods that are advertised and is inclined to regard the rest as negligible.

GOING TO THE PEOPLE

A New York pastor has an early morning service to accommodate the printers going home from work on Sunday and now a Missouri preacher opens his church at 7:45 Sunday morning to provide a service for golfers going to the links. Work or pleasure is not accepted as an excuse by these clergymen.

WHAT EVERY GOLFER KNOWS

By James J. Montague

I never should dream of attempting
To learn how to swim from a shark,
To find out how to fly far aloft in the sky
From a swallow, a swift or a lark.
I hardly would ask a gorilla
To teach me to swing from a limb,
Yet I hopefully go every year to a "pro"
To learn about golfing from him.

The mocking bird sits in the tree top
And chants his melodious glee;
The founts of his art are concealed in his heart—
He cannot reveal them to me.
No bee could instruct me in storing
With honey his snug little hive,
And no "pro" I have met on a golf course as yet
Could teach me to putt or to drive.

Babe Ruth can stand up to the platter
And cuff out a sailing home run,
But he'd find it in vain to attempt to explain
The secret by which it is done.
Henry Ford, if he tried, could not show me
The way to invent a new car,
Yet each season I hope that some "pro" has the dope
To play a tough golf course in par.

I could sit at the feet of R. Kipling
And study the verse-writing bizz,
But no one would gloat o'er the stuff that I wrote
Or say it was very like his.
I could hark to a fly by the hour,
Yet never successfully buzz,
And I freely maintain that no "pro" can explain
What he can't tell himself how he does.

The LEE SIDE O' LA

BY Lee Shippey

SEE America first, but learn a foreign language or two if you can. It may come in handy at any time, even here.

A Pasadena woman who has lived abroad parked where she shouldn't have parked on Hollywood Boulevard yesterday while she spent some time in a shop. When she emerged a policeman was standing by her car, book in hand. Naturally, being a cop, it was not enough for him to present a ticket. He had to exercise his voice after the time-honored fashion known as bawling out.

The Pasadena woman listened in apparent bewilderment until he was out of breath, then spread her hands, gave her shoulders a very foreign hitch, and said:

"Je ne comprends pas."

"Wadja say?"

"Je ne comprends pas."

The transgressor made an apparently very great but very gracious effort.

"I—no—spik—Anglaise. Spik me French, s'il vous plais."

"Aw, shucks!" growled the cop, tearing up the ticket. "Drive on, an' see that you don't park by no fire plugs no more."

"Oh, t'ank you, sir!"

And she was past the next corner before the cop exclaimed: "By golly! She seemed to understand that last time, well enough."

Fable

Once upon a time a family moved on May 1 and when they were established in their new home they found that they hadn't forgotten to bring along the husband's razor strap.

Tragic Exposure of Ignorance

A Hollywood man who likes to rummage old bookstores brought home a picture of Walt Whitman the other day. He presented it to his daughter, who is a co-ed.

"Who is it?" she asked.

"Why, surely every lover of American art must know," he said. "That's Whitman."

"Oh, daddy, how sweet of you. Just what I wanted."

When her boy friend arrived she showed it to him in triumph. And he, too, asked: "Who is it?"

"I'm ashamed of you," she cried. "Every lover of American art ought to know. That's Paul Whiteman."

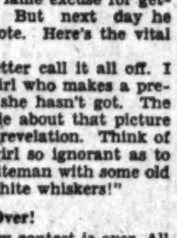
Boy friend did not linger very long, making a rather lame excuse for getting away early. But next day he sent around a note. Here's the vital part of it:

"I guess we better call it all off. I can't fall for a girl who makes a pretense to culture she hasn't got. The mistake you made about that picture last night was a revelation. Think of any full-grown girl so ignorant as to confuse Paul Whiteman with some old bird with long, white whiskers!"

Poetry Contest Over!

Our April poetry contest is over. All we have to do now is read about 200 of the entries we haven't had time to read yet and announce the winner—and run for a bombproof.

About 700 poems have been received, some very good, some very poor, but most of them only moderately good. Pepper trees, mocking birds and Southern California have inspired most of the poets and many excellent poems cannot be published because of space limitations. If you are one of the 699 who won't get first honors don't be discouraged. Your entry may be one of the forty or so held out for serious consideration. And the judgment, after all, will be only one man's opinion.



Escapade

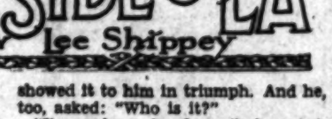
Tiptoe down the telegraph wire,
Tight-rope walking in a blue tent,
Breathlessly wishing the hills were higher,
The first star went.

All down the telegraph wire, words
Stopped to tell in whisperings
Of feet more light than the feet of birds,
Of a linnet with silver wings.

JOSEPHINE MILES, U. C. L. A.

The Weeping Willow Tree

The weeping willow tree
Is a green fountain
Springing exultant



From the earth's heart
And curving down again
To say farewell!

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

FOOD FOR BITTER-ENDERS

[Baltimore Sun]

The alleged danger that the League of Nations will ever become a super-state is evanescent compared to the danger that it will develop into a happy hunting ground for executive secretaries and perpetrators of surveys. Give any organization, however noble in purpose, a little money and a secretariat, and forthwith it gets the itch to play the game of Twenty Questions.

The researches of Mlle. Chaptal, president of the International Council of Nurses, into American drinking, religion and decadence have resulted in a report which the League refuses to publish for fear of its effect upon American pugnacity. Already we know the worst about America, for every sort of domestic organization which can shake down enough "socially-minded" people to hire an office and pay for a letterhead is busy surveying us. Strong-minded ladies and gentlemen never tire of proving that we are moving rapidly hellward, and Mlle. Chaptal could have written her report after spending a day reading the newspapers. Why should the League of Nations concern itself with our tariff, our rum and our children, since we are neither a mandate of another power nor an experimental guinea pig for sociological researches?

Since the League is trying to make America cease believing that it is a horrendous Geneva djinn, Borah pinxit, it seems strange that it should employ investigators to probe into our internal idiosyncrasies and write reports so uncomplimentary that they may not be printed lest they arouse the very nationalistic hostilities which it is the League's major business to discourage.

FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION

[Portland Oregonian]

The case for a Federal department of education with representation in the President's Cabinet is essentially covered in a recent statement by Representative Reed of New York that such a department is needed "as a clearinghouse of educational data." A plausible argument might be erected on that foundation. Less convincing, however, is Mr. Reed's contention that—

If Congress had had the vision to establish a department of education when it was first suggested by far-seeing and patriotic men and women, educational opportunities would have been ere this more nearly equalized and much of the neglected and unutilized latent power would have been made available to the several States and to the country at large.

The defects in educational opportunity, so far as they exist, are economic rather than political. They consist in underprivilege in communities whose resources are unequal to carrying the necessary costs of good schools or whose citizens think they are unequal to it, which comes to the same result. The solution is pecuniary and not especially pedagogical. It may be fine to have a clearinghouse for educational data, but not all the educational data in the world will make a school grow without financial nourishment.

HOW TO INTEREST THE BOYS

[Kansas City Times]

Notwithstanding a flood of so-called "series books" for boys in recent decades, it is reported by an eastern professor of English after a national survey, that "Tom Sawyer" and "Treasure Island" continue well in the lead of reading favored by boys of the country. The best explanation for that would seem to be that neither Mark Twain nor Stevenson was writing what he thought would be good for growing boys and make them nice young men, but rather the kind of narrative that might catch the interest of the normal youth in his formative years. The next best explanation is that it was a Twain and an R. L. S. who were doing the writing. The idea is passed along for what it is worth to the authors of the boys' series, some of which may become best sellers yet.

Premium on Bandits

LOS ANGELES, May 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The suggestion of George L. Browning, president of the Seaboard National Bank, that a bounty of $10,000 be paid for every dead bandit, is a very good one. If adopted, generally, it will be the death knell of this industry, as far as banks are concerned. I suggest that it be adopted also by railroads, express companies, automobile companies and others. Many years ago there were train robberies by the Evans and Sontag gang, in this State, and by other bandits in Arizona. The Southern Pacific Railroad Company and Wells Fargo Express Company offered large rewards for bandits "dead or alive." It was understood that dead ones were preferred. This put a damper on that industry and when Southern Pacific gunmen captured these bandits Sontag had been checked to the world below and Chris Evans had an eye shot out and was short one arm. On top of this he got a life sentence. Unfortunately, he was pardoned after serving eighteen years.

As the officers and courts seem to be inactive, the people should protect themselves. If a bandit gets enough to hire a tricky lawyer his acquittal is almost assured. J. M. S.

Special Assessments

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have taken your paper for the past three years and from the standpoint of news I easily consider it among the best metropolitan dailies. One does not, however, necessarily have to agree with its editorial policy. However, I consider your editorial of this morning on "Special Assessments" the best I have read yet and it not only contains logic but the truth, which ought to be heeded at once before it is too late.

Billie Brown's Leap

EL MONTE, April 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In regard to the high parachute jump on page 2 of The Times this morning, why not give credit where credit is due?

On December 1, 1929, "Billie Brown" of El Monte made the altitude jump at Calles Airport, El Monte, which was officially allowed at Washington at 16,430 feet by barograph readings, of which Joe Nikrent of the N.A.A. was in charge. Altimeter reading was 18,000 feet. Barograph and altimeter checked to 16,430 feet, the added altitude was for good measure.

Give the lady and El Monte credit—where credit is due.

Caveat Poeta!

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I see in this morning's Times a poem by the murdered Mrs. Doris Murray Palmer. This poem is described as an analysis of the character and personality of Mrs. Guy Bates Post by her friend.

I would like to make a suggestion that may aid in clearing up the mystery of the motive for the crime committed by Mrs. Post. Is it not possible that Mrs. Post knew of the existence of this poem and that it excited her explosive temperament and she shot the author of it out of revenge—such poetry being a justifiable cause of murder—and also evidence of Mrs. Post's consideration for the poetry-reading public. WHERE CAN I LEARN

Building Trades?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The Frank Wiggins Trade School, 216 West Venice Boulevard, offers free instruction in all of the building trades. Only men with some trade experience are admitted to the night classes, but beginners may go during the day. It is usually necessary to put one's name on a waiting list, but this costs nothing and once called to the classes the student is put through the training in the shortest possible time that is consistent with good work.

Building trades taught here are: bricklaying, plastering, plumbing, cabinetmaking and roof framing with steel square. There is also instruction in blueprint reading, detailing and stock billing, general estimating, estimating for Class A construction, millwork sticker, wood-machine operation and bench work, ornamental plastering, plumbing estimating and layout, lead work and pipe fitting. The only charge for any trade instruction is $1 registration when the student is first admitted to the class.

Among the forty-five blue laws of Connecticut published in 1774 was this one numbered 18: "No one shall run on the Sabbath Day, or walk in his garden or elsewhere, except reverently to and from meeting," and No. 20, which said: "No woman shall kiss her child on the Sabbath or fasting day." SPRING FEVER

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

Just about now, you probably are inflicted with a marked degree of lassitude; you have little inclination to get down to work; your eyes show a tendency to seek the out o' doors, whither your feet would follow their gaze did not stern duty and a vigilant overlord forbid; you are a bit off in your feed, eschewing heavy meats and such; flowers have an appeal for you, and the songs of birds, and you dream, o' days, scandalously.

In a word, you have spring fever. And more than likely you don't care a hang if you have. Mayhap you even glory in it—shamelessly.

Just what to do about it—provided you would do anything save to fall subject to it, which most of us would—is a problem. Out here in this glorious land, there is no known cure; not even "the hair of the dog," spring being hereabouts a sort of perpetual epidemic, as it were. You grin and bear it—mostly, you grin. Few, to be honest, would cure it if they might. It just runs its course, like the babbling brook, on and on forever. Happy land! Dolce far niente! Laissez faire!

Down East, however, spring fever, though perhaps less virulent, is still looked upon as a real disease, to be eradicated by what measures may be. And radical they are, in all sooth—or were, in elder days; I've been a "nekkid son" so long now I don't know whether or not back there they yet are so serious in their human "spring cleaning" as was once their wont. For the sake of the rising generation, I hope not.

But in days now happily beyond recall, well do I remember the unfailing regimen put into effect with the first warm days of the year, when the ice went out of the rivers and the snow melted on the housetops. Then we doffed our winter-worn red flannels of itchy memory and went barefoot for the first time since fall's stone bruises were healed. And then our mothers—more likely our grandmothers—began the awful annual vernal dosage that was designed to put us into shape for the summer.

Sulphur and molasses was one item of the household pharmacopoeia that was never failing—a large pinch of yellow and ill-smelling brimstone superimposed upon an iron spoon full of a gooey, sticky mess of sickening sweetness—the one to thin the blood thickened by the long winter inactivity and the other to counteract the gagging produced by the powdery prescription. You held your nose—or she did it for you, none too gently—opened your mouth, all unwillingly, but none the less widely, and bolted the nauseous concoction like a Trojan. Or you howled and kicked and cried and cowered, but you took it just the same. And you tasted the torment for hours. Yet it was regarded a sovereign remedy for that tired feeling that came over you in Maytime—and how faithful grandma was in its administration!

Or—and this was the other infallible dose—you drank sassafras tea. And this had an even more direful angle, in that you were sent forth into the forest to seek out the young sassafras trees, whose shoots or bark or tender roots made up the basis for the horrible brew. That was piling Pelion upon Ossa; adding insult to injury; rubbing it in. You provided your own means for your own punishment. Relentlessly you wended your way to the woods, gathered your guerdon, trudged slowly homeward and then awaited in fear and trembling while on the kitchen stove was distilled the draught that later was to gurgle down your gagging gullet the while the tears trickled down your cherry cheeks. You took it—or a switching—and a sassafras switch was no gentle goad when properly and persistently applied to your posterior, believe me. Generally, you took it, and "liked it."

These were the concomitants of spring fever back East in my childhood days; memories I would fain forget, but still vivid despite the lapse of years. Never, even now, do I feel the sapience of spring in my veins without a twinge of torment, a pang of pity, for what one time the waning of winter connoted.

Hopeful I am that in this enlightened era brimstone and molasses and sassafras tea are outgrown with red flannel undies and copper-toed boots. But fellow feelings yet make me timorous; though my good old grandmother has long since gone to her eternal reward, do you think I'd go back when spring kisses the ice-bound East into life and sluggish blood rebounds in human arteries? Nay, nay! I'll stay out here till autumn comes and have my spring fever undosed, unnauseated, unafraid.

No cure for it? Sure not; I don't want any. Do you?

SPRING'S HOMAGE

A footstep down the alleys!
The listening hedgerows lean,
God walks among His valleys,
He makes His mountains green.
His garden knows His greeting,
Fair earth His favor feels,
And modest Nature, meeting,
Before His glory kneels.

For Him her tender duty
Its dearest welcome spreads
And all her buds of beauty
Are sensers where he treads.
Her touch, in adoration
Unseals their hoarded sweet,
And springtime's best libation
Anoints His holy feet.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL

Friends and relatives of Olivia Langdon considered it a great social mistake when she married Mark Twain, a young upstart, in Elmira, N. Y. But the other day Elmira held a banquet on the first anniversary of the Mark Twain Hotel attended by many famous political figures, to honor the memory of the man whom Olivia married.

Mr. and Mrs. Wile then took the stand and stated that Bell was not intoxicated at the time he left their home shortly before the accident.

ARTIST BRINGS NUMEROUS PAINTINGS OF MAZATLAN

With thirty-five paintings, all executed during his visit of less than two months, Francisco Cornejo, Los Angeles artist whose work has appeared in The Times' rotogravure section, returned here yesterday from Mazatlan, proclaiming that Mexican port as one of the most picturesque beauty spots of the world. He found there, he said, all the glorious color and romance of old Mexico which he strove to convey on his canvases so that the rest of the world might see.

Cornejo, who maintains a studio at 644½ Lucas avenue and who painted the murals of the Mayan Theater, went to Mazatlan to visit his mother, whom he had not seen in seven years. He had been absent from the city for twenty years and was so spellbound by the opportunities it offered his brush that he extended his visit from two weeks to two months, painting landscapes and scenes of quaint native life.

During his visit, Cornejo was a guest at a Rotary Club dinner with Harry Carr and other members of the automobile caravan now touring Mexico. Later the Rotary Club sponsored an exhibition at the Mazatlan Casino of his group of new canvases. These were augmented by photographs of Southern California paintings from the photographic studios of Padilla, Daprich and others.

Cornejo is making plans for an early Los Angeles exhibit of his Mazatlan subjects.

MORE URGE WATER BOND "YES" VOTE

Each Item in $38,800,000 Total Vitally Necessary, Say Various Leaders

That every phase of the water development program included in the $38,800,000 water bond issue is vitally necessary and must be authorized if Los Angeles is to prevent a serious water shortage was the unanimous conviction expressed yesterday by tax-reduction associations, civic bodies and individual citizens who added their indorsement to the long list of those already publicly on record for the bonds.

Taxpayers' organizations engaged primarily in discouraging bond issues and all public expenditures are on record with other civic groups emphatically urging adoption of the water bonds as the best possible method of protecting all taxable property in the city.

These organizations pointed out that the voting of the bonds will not increase taxes in any way because all interest and principal charges on the bonds will be paid from earnings of the Water Bureau from water sales.

Among those who yesterday added their indorsement is Charles H. Treat, prominent Los Angeles civic leader and former president of the Board of Public Works.

"Under the City Charter no tax or assessment can be levied to pay interest or principal on the water bonds," said Mr. Treat.

"The construction work required will provide steady work for 3200 men for a period of three years at good wages. American citizens will be employed only on this work.

"The water that will be obtained will avert a shortage, and will at the same time provide us with a supply sufficient to carry on until the Colorado River water comes in."

Indorsement of the bonds by the Los Angeles Electric Club with a membership of every electric utility, manufacturing and wholesale concern in the city, and the Los Angeles Realty Board was announced yesterday by the Citizens' Water Bond Committee.

Included also in the organizations that are on record for the bonds are: University Tax Payers' Association; West San Fernando Valley Associated Chamber of Commerce; San Pedro Realty Board; Sunnyside Methodist Ladies' Council; and the Westwood Village Business Men's Association.

OPENING OF CITY POOLS ANNOUNCED

Four of Plunges Will be Ready for Boy and Girl Swimmers Today

Today marks the beginning of the swimming pool season and four Los Angeles municipal plunges will begin operation at 9 o'clock this morning. Griffith, Evergreen, North Hollywood and Central are the pools that will open today, according to the announcement of Superintendent Hoyt of the Playground and Recreation Department.

Additional protection of lives through the new white cap system and reduction of admission rates for children are two 1930 innovations. All nonswimmers will be required to wear white bathing caps. The ability to swim twice the width of the pool will be the standard of distinction between swimmers and nonswimmers.

Under the new scale of admission fees, youngsters 10 to 14 years of age will be charged the same as children under 10, which is 5 cents.

Other municipal swimming pools will open as follows: Exposition, Yosemite and Fernangeles on the 15th inst.; Arroyo Seco and North Broadway on June 1, next. Anderson Memorial, an inclosed plunge, is open all year.

MAY-TIME FETES ARRANGED FOR TODAY

Los Angeles playground children today will celebrate the arrival of May time with traditional festivals, music, dances and plays, according to Mrs. Emelie Hollington, supervisor of dramatics in the Playground and Recreation Department.

Beginning this afternoon, a series of festivals will be held at twenty-nine of the city's municipal recreation centers, continuing until the 24th. Maypole dances, dramatic presentations of the advent of May, and pantomime will be included in the various celebrations, which will involve more than 3000 children, all in costume.

CLUB TO HEAR POET AND OPERA SINGER

James Foley, Pasadena newspaper man and poet, and Lucille Gibbs, operatic soprano, will share the honors as speaker and guest-artist, respectively, today at the meeting of the Hollywood Breakfast Club in the Sunset Fields clubhouse. The program will be broadcast over KNX beginning at 8:15 a.m., other entertainment being provided by Ted Ledford, Leonard Stephens and Dana Warrene.

AND DID YON LIKE HOLLYWOOD?

Huh, Back to Alaska Right Avay!

John Swanson

JOHN SWANSON, veteran of the gold-rush days, dropped in yesterday on his way back to Alaska.

After thirty-five years in the Yukon country he has been sojourning in and around Los Angeles—picking up a part in the pictures now and then, panning for gold on the San Gabriel River and incidentally snorting at some of the high-priced experts the county employed to look over the rock at the now abandoned San Gabriel dam site.

A genial sourdough is John with his broad Scandinavian accent and obviously a man of parts. But he is through with the hollow mockery of the tinseled life of Hollywood and the flapdoodle of gold mining in San Gabriel Canyon. He is going back because he does not like this make-believe life; back to the place where he knew Rax Beach, and Tax Rickard and Klondike Kate, who was the friend of Alex Pantaches.

Yes, he saw Kate just the other night. Look, here was the note she left for him to call her on the phone at Compton. She would like to go back to Klondike with Yon but Yon says it would be impossible. Yes, he used to know Kate when she was making $1000 a night.

The old sourdough saw Sid Grauman the other day and Sid says, "Well, Yon, how goes it?" And John told him he is going back to Alaska. The ticket ought to be in the mail pretty soon now for him.

Ye-e-ah, he and Tax Rickard floated down the river one day right past Rax Beach's cabin and do you know who was staying at the cabin with him?

But this placer mining in the San Gabriel Canyon is all the bunk. Dey hire him and put in schloos boxes and he panned some gold, but dey come later and run him out of his cabin. And then the county counsel man called him up one day and said: Yon, vee may neet you to testify in this mining case because it is a mess vee are in. But John never heard any more of it.

As for Hollywood, when they made "The Trail of '98" and all that—see, here is a picture of me and the dog, my dog Alaska—but it was all make-believe.

"I'm going back to Alaska now. I vill tell them that Los Angeles is all right, sure, but I am a gold digger and I don't belong in Hollywood, if you know what I mean," said John, and bowed out of the world of make-believe with a smile.

ASSESSMENT COMMITTEE AUTHORIZED

Council Votes Survey to Grade Levies According to Mayor's Request

In accordance with Mayor Porter's request, the City Council yesterday voted to authorize a special committee to survey special assessments, with an eye to grading them by importance, necessity and requirements from the general fund.

The action was not taken without considerable opposition by members who felt there are sufficient regular committees of the Council adequate to deal with the situation.

The wishes of the Mayor, as expressed in his communication, were somewhat puzzling to the members, and there was considerable discussion as to what the Mayor meant. Some believed that his expression concerning some projects, "which should be abandoned," should be clarified, and Councilman Randall moved that the Mayor be invited to state which projects he believed should be dropped.

This motion failed to carry by a tie vote, 7 to 7. Randall was particularly interested in knowing, as was Councilman Williams, if the Mayor wants the $867,014 Victory Park No. 2 assessment, which comes up today, abandoned. Councilmen Burns, Henning and Holland were eager to oppose this plan, as being "embarrassing" to the Mayor.

BANK BANDIT WORKS FAST IN ROBBERY

Teller in Vermont-Avenue Branch Relieved of $900 in Just Three Minutes

It took a lone bandit just three minutes to hold up the teller and rob the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank branch at Sixty-second street and Vermont avenue of $900 yesterday, according to police.

At exactly 11:37 a.m. the bandit walked up to the cage of H. R. Loy, teller, displayed a revolver and demanded "all the money in sight." Willis Rodman, manager, the only other person in the bank at the time, stood at one side, but was helpless to move under the menace of the bandit's pistol.

Loy shoved a quantity of bills through the window. The bandit tossed them into a paper sack, then backed out of the bank and stepped into an automobile he had left at the curb with the motor running.

The bank clock, it was observed, showed exactly 12 o'clock as the bandit drove away.

MORE INSPECTORS OF MILK PROPOSED

Pending settlement of the controversy over the proposed milk inspection fee, the Health Commission yesterday asked the City Council to grant five additional milk inspectors, four of whom are to be employed at once, salaries to run in the $145-$155-$170 scale. The Council referred the matter to the Health and Sanitation Committee.

Armed Bandits Rob Woman of Gems in Home

Armed bandits stole $20,000 worth of diamonds last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Lobit, 455 North Highland avenue. The bandits made certain their intended victim was at home by telephoning the house at 7:30 p.m. and asking Lobit if Mrs. Lobit was in. Upon learning that she was, the questioner hung up.

Twenty minutes later two armed men rang the doorbell and forced their way into the house. One stood guard over Lobit while the second forced Mrs. Lobit to accompany him to her room and hand over her jewelry. She reported that the bandits took a diamond barpin valued at $4500, a three-stone diamond ring valued at $7000, a watch set with diamonds valued at $5500 and a diamond bracelet valued at $3500.

The bandits drove off north on Highland avenue in a coupe with a tan top. The descriptions of the two match those who held up U. S. Hammel, 2815 Crenshaw Boulevard, on Tuesday night.

In London, Eng., she won the gold medal and certificate for swimming and life-saving tests from the Royal Life Saving Corps. Mr. and Mrs. Goldering having established a winter home at 723 Bedford Drive, Beverly Hills, will motor east in June with their daughter in time for Miss Goldering to re-enter camp. HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Catalogued

The wise housekeeper has a list of the things she preserved and canned the previous year, with the amount done written beside the article. Then she can tell by a glance at her preserving closet just what was most popular and thus estimate on the amounts and articles for the present year. She might also be reminded of some little relish that would otherwise be overlooked until too late.

Practical Pointers

Don't forget the chandeliers; they are great dust-collectors.

Is the fly swatter in good condition? This is the season that a reliable one should be on hand.

An aluminum dishpan is a joy to the housewife, as it holds the heat of the dishwater for so long.

Plenty of hot suds and then a rinsing of boiling water will do away with a lot of polishing of table silver. Do it after each using.

A Brighter Kitchen

Every kitchen needs good artificial lighting as well as plenty of daylight and sunshine. Dark, gloomy kitchens may often be transformed into cheerful workrooms by painting the walls and woodwork a color that reflects rather than absorbs the light. Reflectors behind wall lamps and lights help in throwing light where it is most needed.

A Little Bumpy

If for some unknown reason the layer cake bakes into a hump and makes it difficult to ice, just slice off the hump even with the rest of the layer and ice over the cut surface. No one will be the wiser and the cake will be nice and even.

SALSIFY OR OYSTER PLANT

Salsify goes under so many aliases that it might almost be used as a villain for a detective story. It is known as oyster plant, salsify, vegetable oyster and John-go-to-bed-at-noon. However, salsify under any other name tastes as good. The popular name of "oyster plant" is derived from the taste somewhat resembling oysters when this vegetable is cut up very fine, cooked and seasoned with butter and cream. However, in food composition it is very different from the oyster.

Salsify resembles in appearance a long white carrot and, like carrots and turnips, may be classed as a nonstarchy vegetable if used when young before the starch has time to fully develop. Two kinds of salsify are known here, the white and the black. The white has a faint yellow tint to the skin and is white inside, while the black has black skin. Some epicures claim that the black has a superior flavor, but each one makes a good vegetable. Black salsify contains a quantity of inulin instead of starch. For this reason it is sometimes prescribed for diabetics. When put into the stomach inulin turns into sugar from the action of the hydrochloric acid. This vegetable may be used either boiled or raw in salad. In preparing it, wash well, but do not scrape. Scraping causes the flesh to discolor quickly and also removes some of the vitamins and mineral salts which lie directly under the skin. Carefully remove any dark spots as they may cause a strong flavor after cooking.

The principal minerals in this vegetable are iron, potash, lime and magnesium. The leaves, if very young and tender, may be chopped and combined with other greens in a salad. Here are some recipes for salsify:

Escalloped Salsify: Cook until soft in boiling water. Remove the skins and cut into slices. Add alternate layers of salsify and Melba toast crumbs until the dish is filled. Add some milk or cream to moisten and bake in a hot oven until brown.

Salsify Salad—Boil and peel salsify roots, cut into small dice and mix while hot with a small amount of butter. Cool and place on shredded lettuce. Add the tender chopped hearts of the tops of the salsify.

Salsify-Parsley Salad—Cook and slice the salsify, and some chopped parsley and olive oil. Allow to stand for at least an hour and serve in a heap on top of shredded lettuce.

Stewed Salsify—Boil the salsify, peel, chop into small pieces, add some butter and milk and reheat.

Salsify Patties—Boil and peel the salsify, then mash. Add one beaten egg and some Melba toast crumbs. Form into flat cakes and brown in the oven.

Mock Oyster Soup—Parboil, peel and slice some salsify roots. Add an equal amount of canned corn and some finely chopped celery. Put in a pan with equal parts of milk and water. Add two tablespoonfuls of butter. Simmer very slowly until the celery is tender.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

HAM ITALIAN STYLE

One ham shank, one clove of garlic, one-half package of spaghetti, two cupfuls of canned tomato, one-half an onion, one-half a green pepper chopped fine, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of paprika, one-fourth of a cupful of mushrooms, pieces and stems; cover the ham shank with boiling water, add the clove of garlic and one spray of parsley and simmer slowly, allowing two hours for two and one-half pounds. When the ham is tender remove, take off the skin, combine the tomatoes, onion, pepper and mushrooms and allow to cook until the vegetables are tender. Place the ham shank in this mixture, cover and let simmer for thirty minutes, cook the spaghetti in boiling water, place it on a platter, place the ham shank in the center and cover it with the sauce.

CHOCOLATE MARSHMALLOW PUDDING

One third of a cupful of flour, one-half a cupful of sugar, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of ground chocolate, two cupfuls and one-half of milk, two well-beaten eggs, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla extract, one-half a cupful of marshmallows cut in small pieces, place in a double boiler the flour, sugar, salt and chocolate, wetting with a little of the cold milk. Stir until smooth, then add the remainder of the milk and cook slowly for twenty minutes, stirring occasionally to keep the mixture smooth. Beat the egg until lemon-colored, add a little of the hot mixture to them, pour in slowly and cook for two minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from the fire and beat well for two or three minutes, then add the flavoring and marshmallows. Pour into a mold, place the mixture in the ice box to chill, serve in glasses garnished with a whole marshmallow.

ORANGE CHEESE SALAD

Four oranges, two packages of cream cheese, one cupful of toasted cocoanut, one head of lettuce, peel the oranges, remove all the white membrane and separate in sections, mash the cream cheese and, if necessary, add to it a little cream. Make it into balls and roll it in toasted cocoanut, place three or four of the balls in the center of a lettuce-covered plate, surround it with the orange sections and on one side add a spoonful of mayonnaise.

EGGS AND TUNA

One small can of tuna, two cupfuls of fine bread crumbs, one-fourth of a cupful of cream, two eggs, one teaspoonful of salt, few grains of cayenne pepper and one teaspoonful of lemon juice; flake the fish, removing the skin and bones, add the bread crumbs, cream and slightly beaten eggs. Season with salt, cayenne pepper and lemon juice, beat well and line buttered individual molds with the mixture, drop a raw egg in the center of each and cover with a layer of the fish mixture, place the molds in a shallow pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven for thirty minutes. Turn out of the mold, serve with a well-seasoned white sauce, to which has been added one chopped pimiento and two teaspoonfuls of chopped parsley.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

SAMMY AND MRS. SAMMY SAVE THE FLOWERS

We know not always what we do;
That does for us may profit you.
—Peter Rabbit.

Peter Rabbit was delighted. He was sure that he had discovered the nest of Sammy Jay and Mrs. Jay. But to make doubly sure, he hid under the branches of a hemlock tree, from beneath which he could peep out and see all that was going on. It wasn't long before he saw Mrs. Jay. She had food in her mouth. She stopped a short distance away and looked sharply in all directions. Then she flew straight up to that nest. Once more Peter chuckled.

From where Peter sat he could look out across a gentle slope of brown pine needles and dotted all over that slope under the whispering pines were Pink Lady's-Slippers just like the one he had found near the Crooked Little Path. He noticed that they grew singly, or in little groups, but seldom, if ever, close together. In that way they showed their full beauty. Had they been growing together in masses, they would not have been nearly so beautiful.

Peter was just about ready to go on his way when he heard voices and knew that some one was coming down the Crooked Little Path. Presently he heard a little scream of delight and a woman rushed over to the nearest Lady's Slipper and picked it. Another followed and she, too, began to pick Lady's Slippers. How Peter did want to do something to make them stop.

"I know just what will happen," Peter said to himself. "They'll pick every flower on this hillside. Oh, dear, I wish I could do something about it!"

It was just then one of these women passed under the tree in which was the nest of Sammy Jay. Something happened! At first Peter didn't understand what had happened. That woman gave a little shriek, dropped her flowers and clapped both hands to her head. Her companion came running to see what the trouble was. No sooner did she arrive than she did exactly the same thing. And then Peter saw what had happened. Sammy and Mrs. Jay had attacked these intruders. Mrs. Jay had struck the first one on her head and Sammy had treated the second one in just the same way. Now they were darting down again and they were businesslike about it. Peter understood it all in a moment. He understood that there were young birds up in that nest; young Jays probably almost ready to fly, and Sammy and Mrs. Jay didn't want anybody around.

And then Peter saw what had happened

Peter chuckled to himself. "They don't know it, but they are saving all these beautiful flowers," thought he. "They think they are just driving those folks away from their babies, but if it were not for them, there wouldn't be one of these flowers left in a little while. Now, if those folks don't come back, and no other flower-pickers come this way, there will be more flowers another year. Sammy and Mrs. Jay have done just what I wanted them to do."

As a matter of fact, the two ladies hadn't stopped to even pick up the flowers they had dropped. Sammy Jay has a sharp bill. So has Mrs. Jay. And all those two ladies could think of was getting away from those sharp bills as quickly as possible. Peter crept out from his hiding place and went on his way. Presently, not far from the Laughing Brook, where the ground was wet, and where there were no pine trees, Peter found some more Lady's-Slippers, but these were yellow instead of pink. The flowers were quite like the pink ones in shape, but the plants were very different. These flowers were at the top of tall stalks, with several leaves growing out from them. Peter thought of the flower-pickers and he hoped with all his heart that they would not discover these, for here there was no Sammy Jay to drive them away.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juices, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, stye and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

IF BABY REFUSES BOTTLE, OFFER CUP

All babies do not take kindly to bottle feeding, especially if they have been nursed for many months. Mothers need not tear their hair over this apparent dislike, but should be thankful that there are other ways equally as satisfactory as starting bottles late in the first year. Feeding by cup may be started as soon as baby can sit up. The amount in the cup should be small at first, until baby has learned to swallow fluid in mouthfuls instead of in drops. If the mother is patient and understanding, it is remarkable how quickly baby learns the trick.

Mrs. J.E.M. wants to know: "Will you print a formula for a baby of nine months? He has his soup and cereal and one night feeding. I started him on a bottle at three months but the doctor made me stop it, and now I am at my wit's ends because he absolutely refuses milk by bottle. What can I add to his diet? How can I prepare his oatmeal? How much should he sleep each day? What shall I do when he is restless at night and demands a night feeding? He always gets hungry at night."

This is a staggering bundle of questions but I'll do my best, Mrs. J.E.M.

INTRODUCE ONE BOTTLE WEEKLY

The usual formula for a 9-months-old nursing baby is four ounces of milk, four ounces of water and about two level teaspoonfuls of sugar. This amount is increased by about one tablespoonful more of milk daily, and one tablespoonful less of water. The number of bottles is increased weekly, so that when baby is on four bottles at the end of four weeks, the formula will be figured according to both age and weight. Our feeding leaflet gives this in detail and I suggest that you send for it, inclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The proper foods for the 9-months-old child are orange juice or tomato juice daily, cereal twice daily, vegetable soup and some sieved vegetable once daily and four cups or bottles of the milk formula. Weaning should be completed by ten months. Undiluted and unsweetened whole milk is in order at one year.

Oatmeal is made this way for the baby: One-half cupful of milk, one-half cupful of water, one pinch of salt. Put directly on stove in top of double boiler. When water and milk are boiling stir in two tablespoonfuls of quick cooking oats. (Slow-cooking oats take twice as long to cook but may be used if desired.) When it has thickened, put in bottom of double boiler, cover and let cook for one hour. (This information is also in the feeding leaflet.)

WAKEFULNESS INDICATES WEANING TIME

A baby this age should sleep from 7 to 7 (or 6 to 6) at night and have one or two naps of about three hours in daytime. This makes an average of about fifteen hours of sleep daily.

The tendency to wake up and demand to be nursed is a habit that is found characteristically in the child who is ready to be weaned. Weaning right now will cause this habit to disappear. Even babies only seven months of age who begin this habit are saying as plainly as they can that their daytime feedings are no longer satisfying.

Chloride of lime will keep the rats out of the cellar. Sprinkle it liberally all over the cellar floor or places you suspect to be their haunts.

Gov. Young Will Arrive Sunday

Where talking pictures came from and where television is going will be the topic at the luncheon meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce today at the Biltmore. The program will be arranged by K. D. Schwab, division commercial engineer of the Southern California Telephone Company, and in charge of Junior Chamber members associated with the company. C. G. Here's the LITERARY DIGEST of the DRINKING SITUATION

This straw vote might have begun as a poll on prohibition. But the kind of water you daily consume is of such vital importance we figured you would be more interested in the real vote on the drinking water situation. Nearly everyone in Southern California has heard of "juvenile" drinking water—that is, Arrowhead Spring Water. So we changed the "issue" slightly and made this a poll on the drinking water situation.

BUT MORE SERIOUSLY—Arrowhead's thirst-quenching popularity is founded on very tangible qualities. Arrowhead Spring Water has a better taste; it is more refreshing; it does quench thirst more satisfyingly—because it is "juvenile"! Arrowhead restores the mineral deficiencies of the system, gives you youthful buoyancy—and, as we told you last week, if you crave to overindulge, reach for a glass instead,—of Arrowhead—for you'll feel fitter, instantly. Try the experiment!

FIVE POST BAIL IN GRAFT CASE

Culver City Politicians to Enter Pleas Thursday

Misappropriation of $2500 in Public Funds Charged

Ex-Police Chief Arraigned on Bribery Indictment

Charged with misappropriation of public funds, five Culver City politicians, two of whom still hold office as Trustees, appeared before Superior Judge Wood yesterday and after posting $5000 bail each were released from custody. Judge Wood fixed next Thursday for them to enter pleas.

Those named in the indictment are Reve Houck, former Mayor; Earl Bobier and Milton D. Gardner, former Trustees, and David E. Clark and Dan F. Coombs, present Trustees.

The indictment charges eleven counts of misappropriation of public funds amounting to $2500.

Later in the day, Macey Barnard, former Culver City Police Chief, was arraigned under another indictment charging him with five counts of bribery involving $650 he is asserted to have accepted from Harry Howard in exchange for immunity from arrest on Wright Act charges.

RECALL MOVE BOBS UP IN PLEA FOR REHEARING

The attempted recall of five Culver City politicians cropped up in the District Court of Appeal again yesterday with the filing of a petition for a rehearing of an Appellate Court decision denying an application for writ of mandate to compel the City Clerk to call an ouster election.

The Appellate Court found that a joint petition for the recall of the trustees lacked four signatures, having 394 signatures instead of the 398 needed to meet the requirements of a statute pertaining to the calling of recall elections. Petitions for the removal of individual Councilmen fell far short, none of them having more than forty-five names.

Attorney Frank Lavan, acting for Charles M. Lynn, the petitioner, in his new request to the Appellate Court contended, in effect, that the individual petitions could be used to bring the joint petition up to the mark.

Those named in the petitions are Reve Houck, Earl Bobier, David E. Clark, Dan F. Coombs and Harvey W. Kinkead.

WHEELER STARS

Bert Wheeler, R.-K.-O. comedian, will be one of a group of this studio's celebrities to be starred in a series of twelve one-reelers called "Humanettes."

STRAW "KELLY" SEASON AWAITS OPENING SIGNAL

Straw Hat Day is in the offing! It will be here the 13th inst. On that day all other varieties of hats are to go into the discard and stay there.

Straw hats this year show notable style changes as compared with those worn last year, Los Angeles dealers said yesterday. Designers have shown marked creative ability, and many distinctive styles and new methods of manipulation of the straws have been the result.

Men who fail to appear in new straws will be regarded as unmindful of their comfort as well as of their appearance, according to those who have seen the new creations.

The largest and most representative stocks of straw hats ever handled by dealers in Los Angeles have been received and selections may be made from every variety manufactured in America, it was stated yesterday.

'ATTIC' SLAYING MOTION DENIED

Mrs. Oesterreich Must Face Trial With Sanhuber

Judge Wood Turns Down Plea for Separate Actions

Man Who Confessed Killing to Have Sanity Hearings

Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich and Otto Sanhuber must stand trial together in Superior Judge Hardy's court on June 2, next, on a charge of murdering Fred Oesterreich in Los Angeles August 22, 1922, Superior Judge Wood decided yesterday in overruling the defendants' motion for separate trials.

Inasmuch as Sanhuber's principal defense is insanity, it will be necessary for the court first to establish definitely his mental status before proceeding with the joint trial. This may result in two hearings, one to determine whether Sanhuber was insane at the time he is asserted to have shot Oesterreich and the other to determine whether he is sane at the time of trial.

The prosecution charges that Sanhuber, after hiding for years in attics in the Oesterreich homes to be near Mrs. Oesterreich, killed Oesterreich one night when he heard them quarreling and thought the husband was about to strike his wife.

In his confession to James P. Costello, deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case, and Herman Cline, former chief of detectives, Sanhuber told of living in attics in the Oesterreich homes for nearly eleven years.

Mrs. Oesterreich was found by police locked in a closet, the key turned from the outside. Sanhuber, according to his recent story, had disappeared into his attic retreat. The lack of evidence baffled police for eight years until Sanhuber finally told his story.

With the State's case against Frank M. Miller of 11247 Beech Grove avenue concluded yesterday, Municipal Judge Turney continued preliminary hearing until the 6th inst. for defense testimony on a manslaughter charge.

Witnesses called by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Coleman declared Miller's automobile crashed into one driven by R. O. Davis of Calabasas at Lankershim Boulevard and Riverside Drive on March 9, last. Mrs. Daisy Davis, who was riding with her husband, died from injuries received in the crash.

AUTOIST SUCCUMBS AS RESULT OF CRASH

Juliano Garcia, 28 years of age, 246 Fetterly avenue, died early yesterday morning at the Pomona Valley Hospital of injuries received Tuesday when his automobile crashed into a tree on Valley Boulevard near Spadra. Deputy sheriffs reported that Juan Jiminez, 441 East Twelfth street, Pomona, a cousin of Garcia's, told them he and Garcia had been drinking. An inquest is scheduled to be conducted today at 2 p.m. at the undertaking parlors of Disbrow & Knight, Pomona.

FILM PLANNED IN NINE TONGUES

Universal Reveals Ambitious Foreign Schedule; Estelle Taylor Wins Role in "Lilliom;" Jack Mulhall Signs R.-K.-O. Contract

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Expansion of talking pictures into many foreign versions seems to be the next big step in production.

Universal, which of late has pioneered in many directions, appears to be the most courageous. Credit is due to Carl Laemmle, Jr., and to Paul Kohner, the latter having charge of the foreign language department. Both are young men.

It became known yesterday that Universal's two largest and most successful productions made lately, "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "King of Jazz," the latter starring Paul Whiteman, are to be made in several foreign tongues.

It is all settled that "King of Jazz" is to be made in no less than nine languages. These include Spanish, Italian, French, German, Hungarian, Portuguese, Japanese, Swedish and Czecho-Slovakian.

The manner in which this will be accomplished will be by the introduction of a different master of ceremonies for each version, who will announce the different numbers and stars in his own language, and by the introduction of a few new song numbers, sung by artists in the various languages. The cast of principals will therefore remain pretty much the same, according to our information.

With "All Quiet on the Western Front," the case will be different, and while we learn that the question of foreign language versions is practically settled, the Universal convention now assembled in New York will decide just what foreign versions will be made.

A phase of international importance enters into the production of foreign language versions of "All Quiet on the Western Front," inasmuch as the question of universal peace propaganda is involved.

Probably there will be several versions of the war picture made, especially in view of its success. In the meantime we have the report that Lucy Dorayne, a Hungarian actress, formerly the wife of Michael Curtiz, the director, is to play the feminine lead in the Hungarian version.

ESTELLE TAYLOR IN PROMINENT ROLE

Everyone has been wondering who would play the featured role of Mrs. Muscat, the concession owner, in the Fox production of "Lilliom."

ESTELLE TAYLOR

We learned yesterday that Estelle Taylor was signed for the role, which not only was originally an important part, but which is, we hear, to be extended.

Charles Farrell is to play the title role, while Rose Hobart, New York stage actress, has the heroine role.

John Davidson at Warners

We are glad to be able to report that we are to see that skillful actor, John Davidson, in a part well fitted to his talents.

Davidson has been signed by Warner Brothers for a featured comedy role in "The Life of the Party," in which Winnie Lightner has a starring part.

The actor is remembered for his splendid work in various Warner and M.-G.-M. pictures.

Mulhall Signed

One of our favorite actors, Jack Mulhall, has just been signed by R.-K.-O. on a long-term contract, we learn.

Jack Mulhall

He will be featured in leading roles, according to present plans. His next vehicle is not yet announced.

The contract calls for Mulhall's appearance in four pictures, none of which is as yet announced.

It is said that it was Mulhall's excellent work in "The Fall Guy" which won him his contract.

Schwertzinger Directs

Victor Schertzinger has been assigned to direct Paramount's "Heads Up," we learn. The picture, which is to be a musical comedy, is to be made at the Long Island studios.

The director is even now on his way to New York, and will start preparatory work at once.

Mitzi Green Home

After a tour of several eastern cities, where she made personal appearances on the stages of Publix Theaters, little Mitzi Green, Paramount's 9-year-old starlet, will arrive in Hollywood from New York tonight.

Beaudine's Large Cast

While no title is yet announced for the picture, it is known that William Beaudine's next directorial effort for First National will be given an excellent cast.

LOUISE FAZENDA

Louise Fazenda and Lucien Littlefield will have the featured comedy leads, while Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Lila Lee will play the juvenile leads.

All of these players, while not regularly under contract to First National, have appeared in a number of its productions lately.

M.-G.-M. Company Travels

In a special train of five cars, two Pullmans, two baggage cars and a diner, King Vidor's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company left the Culver City studio last night, bound for three weeks of location work in New Mexico.

Fifty players and technicians were taken as the nucleus for work on the production, "Billy, the Kid." Scores of New Mexican cowpunchers and whole herds of cattle and horses will be hired in Gallup, N. M., to further expand the scenes.

Paramount Assigns English Actor

Paul Cavanagh, English actor, whose first appearance on the New York stage won him a contract with Paramount, is to play the menace role in "Grumpy," according to announcement made by B. P. Schulberg yesterday.

This will be Cavanagh's first role for Paramount. He has been featured in two other talking pictures, however, having been loaned to M.-G.-M. for the juvenile lead in "Strictly Unconventional" and to Universal for "The Storm."

All-Star Bill Arranged for Late Matinee

The Hollywood midnight frolic at Grauman's Chinese Theater will be resumed Saturday night, according to an announcement. In conjunction with the showing of the Fox-Movietone singing romance, "Song o' My Heart," starring John McCormack, Grauman's Chinese will feature Abe Lyman and his band and an all-star program on the stage.

Among those who will take part in the entertainment are Maureen O'Sullivan, young Irish girl, who plays the leading feminine role in "Song o' My Heart;" Tommy Clifford, 11-year-old Irish juvenile; Dixie Lee, George Corcoran and Leslie Mae, eccentric dancer.

ALEXANDER LIGHT PRESENTS RECITAL

Alexander Light presented a Shakespearean recital in the Biltmore Music Room last night with the assistance of musicians from the Los Angeles Conversatory. After prelude from an orchestra, Mr. Light gave an interpretation of "Richard III," Milton's "Paradise Lost," with harp accompaniment, the music having been written by himself, and the Ale House scene from "Twelfth Night." Wania gave a program of Russian dance, followed by the proclamation from "Julius Caesar," by George Samerjian, a violin solo by George Evans and excerpts from Shakespeare by Mr. Light.

Dances by Floreine Dickson and the "Soliloquy of Macbeth," accompanied by Mary Bley on the harp, concluded the performance.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

QUITE a cast is being assembled for the next Civic Repertory production at the Music Box, "Goin' Home." Ransom Rideout's drama of a Negro's loyalty to his master.

JOHN LITEL

Yesterday John Litel and Richie Ling were added to the roster of actors taking part. Both are excellent actors and both are favorites with local playgoers.

Litel used to be leading man for the Morosco stock company and was last seen here with Edward Everett Horton in "Streets of New York." Ling was recently in town with Madge Kennedy in "The Perfect Alibi" and before that with Jane Cowl in "The Road to Rome."

Others in the cast of the drama, which is to follow "The Imaginary Invalid" on the 12th inst., will be Robert E. Griffen, Walter Vaughn, Carleton Young, Kenneth Duncan and Eric Snowdon. Georges Renavant, who staged the play in New York, is performing the same duty here.

Walter Percival, first elected to play the Negro, Israel, voluntarily resigned his role to Griffen after hearing the latter read the part. Percival, who has been interested in "Goin' Home" since he appeared in "Lulu Belle," declares Griffen is a "find" and will give a far better interpretation of the role than himself. Griffen is a baritone singer who has had professional experience in stock and in the Mission plays and at Pasadena.

Miami Alvarez to Play

When "Among the Married" departs from the Vine Street Saturday evening for San Francisco, it will have a new leading woman, Miami Alvarez.

MIAMI ALVAREZ

At Saturday's matinee, Miss Alvarez will step into the role which Alma Tell has been filling. She will play only the two performances locally, but will be in the play all through its San Francisco and later touring engagement.

Miss Tell drops out of the production in order to fill a picture engagement.

Elsner Directs Fawcett

Edward Elsner, who directed Lenore Ulric in "East of Suez," at the Belasco, is directing George Fawcett's "The Great John Ganton," coming to the Vine Street the middle of this month. Elsner, along with Fawcett, was observed at the Vine Street yesterday rehearsing a temporary cast and working out minor changes in the play manuscript.

Mei Lan-Fang Hit in North

From Ray Gannon, who went north last week to watch Mei Lan-Fang, the Chinese actor, in action, comes a story on how Mei's engagement was extended there to two weeks. It seems that one performance only had been scheduled at an American theater and six appearances at the Chinese Theater. The attendance of Americans at the Chinese theater was so heavy that Mei's own countrymen were crowded out. So a compromise was effected. The Americans were promised an additional week at their own house if they'd let the Chinese enjoy the play at their theater.

Mei Lan-Fang arrives here at the Philharmonic on the 13th inst.

Jack Benny on Loew Circuit

Jack Benny, who used to amuse himself by breaking records at the local Orpheum, and who has lately taken a fling at pictures, starts on a tour of the Loew circuit in Kansas City Sunday. He will gradually make his way east.

Lurene Tuttle in Duffy Play

When the Henry Duffy Players present "Elizabeth Sleeps Out," the Leslie Howard play, here, Lurene Tuttle, who acted opposite Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in "The Youngest," will have the leading feminine role.

"FRAMED" DUE AT R.-K.-O. THEATER

Evelyn Brent

Staccato firing from automatic pistols forms the background for "Framed," a Radio film melodrama, coming to R.-K.-O. Theater today. The picture stars Evelyn Brent, noted actress.

Love interest in this crook story is provided by Miss Brent and Regis Toomey, who plays the role of a police captain's son. Ralf Harolde, Maurice Bael, William Holden and Eddie Kane are also cast. George Archainbaud directed.

Stage Ends Athletic Ambitions

Cyrena Smith

Once cherished the desire to become a champion swimmer and diver. After more than a year's training, her attention was diverted to the footlights. She is now playing a prominent role in "June Moon" at the Belasco Theater.

MODERN STYLE OF PIANIST ATTRACTS

Muriel Kerr Heard in Varied and Pleasing Program at Philharmonic

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Miss Muriel Kerr, who was one of the first to be chosen by the New York Shubert memorial committee for concert presentation, played in Los Angeles last night at the Philharmonic Auditorium under auspices of the local committee of the memorial, of which Mrs. Cecil Frankel is chairman. The audience was depressingly small.

Miss Kerr's program was of more than usual interest and of commendable brevity. Her playing is that of a skillful young pianist with ideas. She has a natural interpretative sense, although her work is somewhat spasmodic and spotty with sudden crescendos and diminuendos. She has a pleasing stage personality and a certain slow and deliberate manner changes rapidly into dynamic force when she plays. Her phrasing is musicianly and she displays good taste, but clear-cut enunciation of notes is not her forte.

The program began with a prelude and fugue in D by Bach, arranged by D'Albert, and the prelude, choral and fugue by Cesar Franck. A group of Chopin followed and included the Ballade in F minor, the Mazurka in A flat and the Scherzo in B minor. Miss Kerr's Chopin is quite her own. It has its romantic merits.

Two Fairy Tales by Medtner, a poem by Godowsky, a Russian number in showpiece-finale style by Liapounow and encores from Scriabin and Stravinsky composed the very interesting modern group. I found these treated in the classical style by Miss Kerr, which enhanced rather than detracted from their modernism.

Miss Kerr is a pupil of Ernest Hutchinson and Juilliard Foundation.

'Texan' Comes to Paramount Screen Today

GARY COOPER

With Cooper in the leading role, the cast also includes Fay Wray, Emma Dunn, James Marcus and Oscar Apfel.

Miss Wray portrays the beautiful senorita and Emma Dunn is the Spanish mother. Marcus plays the psalm-singing sheriff and Apfel is the bandit.

The surrounding program includes Eddie Lambert in a comedy; Lee Morse, singer; Paramount Sound News and Milton Charles at the organ.

'Caught Short' Costars Two Comediennes

Comedy in double measure is promised at Loew's State, starting today. Double, because the two most humorous comediennes, Marie Dressler and Polly Moran, are teamed as a starring pair in "Caught Short."

They were teamed once before in the days of the silent drama, when "The Callahans and the Murphys" was produced, but now they have their fights and feuds audibly. Charles F. Reisner directed, and Anita Page leads the supporting cast.

On the stage, Fanchon and Marco present their latest idea, "City Service," which bases its entertainment on the various branches of civic utility. Georgia Stoll leads the band.

Film Players to Take Bows at Boulevard

Harold B. Franklin month will be ushered in at the Boulevard Theater tonight with the personal appearance of five prominent members of "The Big Party" cast.

Dixie Lee, Frank Albertson, Walter Catlett, Richard Keene and Charles Judels will appear on the stage at the conclusion of the first show.

"The Big Party" introduces six new songs and boasts an array of elaborate settings.

FAIRBANKS MAY QUIT PICTURES

Decision Said to Rest on Securing Former Tempo of Silent Films

NEW YORK, April 30. (Exclusive)—Douglas Fairbanks will make no more pictures until he can be sure of getting the same tempo in the talkies that he had in the silent films.

"Is it true, Mr. Fairbanks, that you are thinking of quitting the pictures?" he was asked today.

"If I can get the same tempo into a talkie that I had in my silent pictures, I will make pictures. If I cannot I will play golf," was his answer.

These statements were made just before he sailed on the Mauretania for England. In his party were Leo Diegel and George Von Elm. On the same ship was the entire American Walker Cup golf team.

There is just one man who may be able to accomplish the feat of maintaining the Fairbanks tempo in a sound film, he said, and that man is Serge M. Eisenstein, the Russian director, recently signed by Paramount. Mr. Fairbanks said he believes Paramount will be willing to farm the Russian out, and that he will endeavor to get him to direct his next picture. If Mr. Eisenstein is not available, there will be no next picture at all, it was clearly indicated.

Mechanical deficiencies are blamed by Fairbanks for the present slowness of sound productions.

John Barrymore Turns Comedian in Latest Film

John Barrymore in a comedy, "The Man from Blankley's," which opens tomorrow at Warner Brothers' Theater in Hollywood, will be a distinct surprise, it is said.

Barrymore's early stage appearances included several comedy roles and many of his admirers believe the stage lost its greatest potential comedian when he turned to more serious drama.

Barrymore is said to romp through as gay an evening as ever was photographed and recorded, yet obviously, he enjoys it.

Character actors who work with Barrymore include William Austin, Albert Gran, Emily Fitzroy, Dick Henderson, Louise Carver, Tiny Jones, Dale Fuller and Edgar Norton. Loretta Young carries the leading feminine role. Al Green directed.

DEATH COMPACT HINTS SCOUTED

Confidante of Laguna Beach Victim in Refutation

Mrs. Palmer's Character Not Morbid, She Asserts

Authorities Accept Verdict of Coroner as Fact

BY JACKSON BERGER
"Times" Staff Representative

LAGUNA BEACH, April 30.—The utter absurdity of thinly veiled inferences by some that Doris Murray Palmer entered into a suicide pact with Mrs. Guy Bates Post as a prelude to the discovery of their bodies a week ago was affirmed here today by Miss Vannessa McDowell, confidante and home-mate of Mrs. Palmer, in the first interview she has granted since the tragedy.

Still grief-stricken and fighting for control of her nerves jangled by the occurrence, Miss McDowell could hardly speak of Mrs. Palmer without tears, but she denounced the proponents of the death-pact theory and stood loyally by the memory of her friend, with whom she had lived ten years.

AWAY FOR DAY

"I was not here when it happened," Miss McDowell said. "I left about 9:30 o'clock that morning with my mother and sister for San Diego and did not return to Laguna Beach until about 7 o'clock in the evening after the discovery of the bodies.

"It was a terrific shock. I can account for it only as murder of Mrs. Palmer and suicide of Mrs. Post. I knew a strong bond of friendship existed between them—Mrs. Palmer had scores of wonderful friends—but I never suspected this—and I never will believe Mrs. Palmer had any suicide agreement.

"Mrs. Palmer was one of the finest characters I've ever known. I know that her courage and love of life and things beautiful would have prevented the thought of such a thing. She was a vivid personality, gracious and devoted to her friends, but she had a bit of a temper to control.

SUICIDE DISPROVED

"Since this offensive talk of a death pact has been started I've talked to doctors and they tell me that either of the two shots that struck Mrs. Palmer would have caused death and both were fired from behind. That does not appear to support a suicide theory.

"When I left here that morning to go to San Diego with my mother and sister she was in a bright, cheery mood, seemingly the happiest woman in the world—reveling in life. Neither does that support a suicide theory."

Miss McDowell sat in a comfortable little seaside cottage while she suppressed her grief so that she might pay tribute to her dead friend, but the poignant memories dimmed her eyes with tears as she gazed out on the rain-flecked ocean and she could go no farther with her story.

HOME LONG PLANNED

"Dodie," as Mrs. Palmer was known to her friends, and Miss MacDowell met ten years ago in Chicago and a staunch friendship resulted. It was in 1923 that they planned and supervised the building of the hillside bungalow in Gleneyrie where both have since lived—until "Dodie" was killed there a week ago.

And in her last will Mrs. Palmer thought of that home first. She left it to Miss McDowell, "my good adviser—my helpmate—my homemaker—the only home I have ever known, to do with as she sees fit. My desire is that it bring her some measure of the joy it brought me."

Miss McDowell does not yet know what disposition is to be made of the house of tragedy, now hers under the terms of the will, nor has she given any thought to other local parcels of land given her in the instrument, she said.

RELATIVE ARRIVES

Today Miss Catherine (Kitty) Murray of La Jolla, a cousin of Mrs. Palmer's and one of those mentioned in the will, came here for a short time to assist in the preliminaries of the administration of the estate of which Miss McDowell is named executrix.

As to purported letters and diaries asserted to have been sent by Mrs. Palmer to Mrs. Post and found in the latter's effects by Moresby White, a local attorney who says he represents the Post estate, nothing was said today.

ATTORNEY MUM

Considerable flurry occurred last week when White announced he possessed the documents. He has nothing further to say on possible revealation of the letters, but is understood to have determined to keep them secret and intact in the Post estate.

Mrs. J. B. Pultz, elderly mother of Mrs. Post, was due to arrive here this evening. She is said to be in fair health, although quite grief-stricken and is awaiting word from a Philadelphia attorney who says he also has a will made there by Mrs. Post in 1926.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY TO ACCEPT VERDICT

SANTA ANA, April 30. (Exclusive) Dist.-Atty. West is satisfied that Mrs. Guy Bates Post killed Doris Murray Palmer at Laguna Beach a week ago and then fired a bullet into her own brain, he said today in closing investigation of the case.

West said he is not inclined to view seriously any purported "death pact" between the two women, nor is there any intention of attempting officially to obtain letters of the women which are asserted to be in the possession of Attorney White.

Sheriff Jernigan joined Dist.-Atty. West in accepting the Coroner's verdict that Mrs. Post killed Mrs Palmer and then shot herself.

COUNCILMAN PROTESTS HE'S VICTIM OF OUTRAGE

Councilman McAllister maintained that he is the victim of an outrage and that his character is being "assassinated" in a plea to the City Council yesterday morning, but adjournment was taken in the face of his protests.

McAllister, clutching a clipping from an afternoon newspaper, rose in protest, but his words were drowned out by his colleagues, among them Councilman Webster, who stated:

"Somebody took Mac for a cleaning and he wants to squawk. Forget it, Mac."

The clipping states that the Police Commission, at the request of Councilmen McAllister and Ingram, has detailed two policemen to act as chauffeurs for the city car used by the pair.

After adjournment McAllister heatedly denied that he appeared before the commission or made such a request. He further stated that he wants the commission to rescind its action, as it applies to his policeman-chauffeur. He said he will make a motion in the Council to this effect.

Ingram says he asked for the policemen at his own and McAllister's instance and doesn't want his driver taken back.

As the commission reluctantly assigned a driver to McAllister, it is expected that it will follow his wishes with pleasure and rescind its action.

Tibbett to Sing Role in Oratorio at U.S.C. Fete

Lawrence Tibbett, American baritone, will sing the title role in a festival presentation of Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," Thursday evening, June 5, in the Shrine Auditorium, during the semicentennial celebration of the University of Southern California, the 29th inst. to June 7.

LAWRENCE TIBBETT

Mr. Tibbett is an alumnus of Southern California; he received the honorary degree of master of music at the 1928 commencement.

Lisa Roma is to sing the soprano role in "Elijah." Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink the contralto part, Dr. Carl Omeron, tenor, and Master John Drury, the boy soprano part, with Alexander Stewart of the college of music of the University of Southern California conducting.

A chorus of more than 400 students, accompanied by a student orchestra of 100 pieces, will also appear.

VICTORY PARK ORDER SOUGHT

Pasadena-Avenue Owners Want Injunction

Defects in Legal Procedure Contended in Suit

Court Sets Hearing of Case for 8th Inst.

Injunction proceedings to halt the condemnation of property along Pasadena avenue between San Pasqual avenue and Avenue 35 for the Victory Park project were filed by fourteen property owners in Superior Court yesterday, and a hearing on an order to show cause was set by Superior Judge Doran for May 8 at 10 a.m. in Superior Judge Hanby's court.

Grounds for the complaint on which an injunction against the $800,000 park project is asked are mostly technical, citing insufficient notice, improper consent of the park board, failure to hold requisite hearings and deficient notice of the formation of an assessment district.

According to Roy A. Linn, attorney for the plaintiffs, however, the constitutionality of certain laws under which the original park proceedings were taken will be attacked.

The Victory Park project now is before the City Council, which is hearing protests against the assessment districts. The complaint asks that title to the property of plaintiffs, against which condemnation proceedings have been started by the city, be quieted and that further proceedings be enjoined.

FINAL ACTION ON PARK EXPECTED TODAY

What is hoped to be the final consideration of the $867,014 assessments for the acquisition of Victory Park, No. 2, in the Arroyo Seco will come before the City Council this morning. A large number of the assessments have been revised, it is understood, and these changes will be submitted to the Council for action.

HOLY NAME SOCIETIES TO HAVE RALLY

Eucharist Procession to Take Place in Inglewood Sunday, June 15

As a protest against blasphemy, profanity, perjury and obscene speech the members of the Holy Name Societies of Southern California will hold an open-air Eucharistic rally in Inglewood, Sunday afternoon, June 15. The Holy Eucharist will be carried in procession from St. John's parish church to the campus of the high school where Bishop Cantwell will give benediction and impart the apostolic blessing.

Attending Bishop Cantwell will be vicar-general, Rt. Rev. Mgr. J. Cawley, St. Vibiana's Cathedral, Los Angeles; Rt. Rev. John McCarthy, Pasadena; Very Rev. Dean John M. Hegarty, San Diego; Very Rev. Dean P. Dunne, V. F., San Bernardino, and superiors of the various missionary orders.

P. H. O'Neil, well-known figure in petroleum and banking circles and for nine years diocesan president of the Holy Name Societies, will be grand marshal of the procession.

Very Rev. M. O'Gorman, diocesan Holy Name director, will be master of ceremonies and a special choral selection of Gregorian and liturgical church music will be rendered by the combined male parish choirs under the direction of Dr. William F. Grode.

KIN OF PAIR KILLED IN ACCIDENT SOUGHT

Relatives of two Los Angeles men who were killed in an automobile accident in Prescott, Ariz., Tuesday are being sought here by the police and friends of the victims. The two men were Eugene Kutschera, assistant cashier of the downtown branch of the Bank of Italy, and Ernest B. Wildi, an engraver. Both men lived in an apartment at 1318 Maryland avenue, owned by O. H. Shaeffer. According to Shaeffer and Morton Sullivan, a friend of the dead men, the two started east in an automobile Saturday on a vacation trip. They were killed when their car overturned near Prescott. Police sought information at the Los Angeles address, but the landlord knows nothing of the whereabouts of the victims' relatives.

STORE CHAIN LINKS COASTS

Opening of Great Atlantic and Pacific Stores Here Fulfills Seventy-Year Plan of Founder

The vision which inspired George H. Hartford seventy years ago when he opened in New York City the first store of what was to become the tremendous chain known as the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company will become a reality tomorrow when nine stores are to be opened in metropolitan Los Angeles by the chain grocery company.

It was because of the sentiment attached to the reaching of the Pacific Coast by the huge chain that John A. Hartford, son of the founder and present head of the company, came to Los Angeles, he said following his arrival on the Santa Fe Chief. The selection of a name for the company by his father was no mere whim, he said, but reflected his intention from the very beginning to have the stores of his chain stretch from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

LARGEST CHAIN

Meanwhile the company has prospered amazingly until today it operates 15,000 stores and does an annual business of more than $1,000,000,000, making it not only the largest chain-store organization in the country but one of the largest enterprises of any character in the United States.

These nine stores represent only an entering wedge, President Hartford said last night, of an expansion program which will take in the entire Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain territory. The program of development will be under the direction of G. K. Cartman, first vice-president of the central western division of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

NO STRANGER HERE

While the opening of the nine stores tomorrow represents the first effort of his company to conduct its retail business in this territory, President Hartford pointed out last night that in another sense the company is no stranger to this region, as for many years it has done a large part of its buying in California.

The expansion program will go ahead rapidly, he said, and in the near future thirty additional stores, the leases for which already have been signed, will be opened in the Los Angeles area.

The locations of the stores to be opened tomorrow follow: 6811 South Western avenue, 5869 Franklin avenue, 31 Pier avenue, Hermosa Beach; 37 North Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena; 136 San Fernando Boulevard, Burbank; 1515 Mission street, South Pasadena; 211 East Main street, Alhambra; 6265 Van Nuys Boulevard, Van Nuys, and 106 North Pacific avenue, Redondo Beach.

The New in Stores & Homes

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

Avoid dress habits! Once you become tied to some particular style or color in clothes you do away with all possible change or improvement. Addicted to some mode in dress and try for variety, change of silhouette, and at once your friends exclaim against the innovation. Wear a certain color for long and attempt some other tint, when you are greeted: "How strange you look! I never saw you in that color!" and you feel like the alien chick in the poultry yard. Habit in dress, as in many other things, kills all initiative.

Romantic Cretonne

The romance of cretonne! How fascinating the lovely imprintures upon that so-usable fabric! Imaginative, with hints of outdoor stretches, wild flowers, quaint gardens—oh, all the beauty that we love. Perhaps it is because of this that frocks fashioned from cretonne dare to be so very different—so strikingly individual. And, just at the beginning of the cretonne season, how opportune a sale of such bewitching frocks. At that brotherly store where, as I often have told you, one finds the most alluring of little dresses in all the cotton weaves—frocks for mornings at home, for porch teas, for—why, yes, even for street wear—so lovely are they. And, in this colorful season, what so chic as cretonne when given the right line and finish, endowed with the youthfulness that every woman loves! I am certain you will join me in the plan to purchase many of these delightful little frocks, when you learn the price and behold their charm. Of course, I cannot divulge the price—but you will discover it, for I am willing to wager that Los Angeles women lose no opportunity when opportunity knocks to the tuneful notes of money saving and of beauty buying at one and the same time.

Ione's Kind Way

Ione, who loves children, cuts out from magazines and booklets all the beautiful or interesting pictures she finds and places them in portfolios. When any child in her neighborhood or family is ill or shut in to the house, she sends a portfolio and thus for many hours the child is amused and the mother relieved from care. Little Laurette and her older sister spent an entire day deeply interested in one of these portfolios during a shut-in period while the child was undergoing one of those "nothing-but" diseases to which little ones are subjected. It always has seemed a pity to relegate the fine magazine pictures to the old paper man; and now we have learned a use for them, thanks to Ione's thoughtfulness.

Copper Framing

The glint of copper always has added a luxurious touch, as well as an artistic one; and new copper is used for framing chairs and tables. In the new Art Modern, one expects continuous surprises and this use of copper is one of them; and a pleasing one.

Send-Aways

Mother's Day! If that dear one is back east be sure to send something very Californian, for to receive a gift from here is next to being here—and, of course, we know that everyone wishes to be here. California candies, California fruits, California pictures—oh, many, many articles hintful of our loved land are available as gifts for Mother's Day. But the main thing is—not to forget, whether she be near or far.

Seal Them With—

A lovely little touch to the send-away package, is to seal it with those flower seals. Many kinds of blossoms are printed on these seals, which may be used for any season's gift, just as we stamp the holiday packages with Christmas emblems. A pretty custom, this, lending a nicety of touch, an added bit of thoughtfulness to the gift.

New Applique

Since linens are so much in thought, as gifts for brides, as showers for the bride-to-be and for gifting in general, anything novel in this line arrests attention. New appliques for guest towels are in black, outlining—solidly—skyscrapers, quaint silhouettes, even single flowers or compact bouquets. The black, on white or colors, is most effective.

Floor-Chairs

That is my name for them; these cushion chairs, so like the beach backs used in lounging on the sand. These house chairs are, of course, more elegant, upholstered as they are in fine materials. Two huge pillowy squares piled one on top of the other, with a third one for the back—and they look so inviting that one would be forced to rest there, however busy.

Stencils

The use of stencil, formerly considered a studio art, has come to form a part of many usual articles and this simple application, easy to accomplish by anyone at all handy-handed, does add a note of artistry when applied to window shades, to awnings and even laid on the painted stripes of porch chairs and beach or garden umbrellas. Just a little flight of imagination—how it differentiates from the commonplace!

PROTEST HEARING CONTINUED

After a long argument, the City Council yesterday continued until the 7th inst. further consideration of protests against widening and laying out Huntington Drive North between Kendall avenue and Canto Drive. The City Engineer was instructed to bring in an ordinance of abandonment.

ANTI-BELL CASE HEARING OPENS

Referendary Mandamus Suit Before Supreme Court

Action Centers on Validity of Petition Names

The first of two court hearings which will determine whether voters of Los Angeles will be given the opportunity to vote in a referendary election on the ordinances granting Alphonzo Bell the right to quarry cement in the Santa Monica mountains started yesterday at San Francisco before the Supreme Court.

George W. Ley, and associate of Arthur Weber, manager of the Miramar Estates, in a mandamus action seeks to force City Clerk Robert Dominguez to certify to the sufficiency of referendary petitions filed several weeks ago. City Attorney Werner appeared on behalf of the city official and filed his answer yesterday before the Supreme Court. Former City Attorney Stephens appears for the complainant. The referendary petition was short some 500 names of the required 25,800 and the action is to obtain a ruling on the validity of certain names which have been questioned.

The second action was brought by the Bell interests in the Superior Court and a writ of mandamus is asked compelling County Registrar Kerr to take from the Great Register some sixty-seven names of referendary petition circulators, who it is asserted are not legally registered. Some 4000 names of petition signers are involved in this case, which is pending.

City Clerk Dominguez will await decisions in both cases before making a final count, he stated yesterday.

ACTRESS' LOVE JUST FOR WORK

Husband Tells Court That Jeraldine Farnan Had No Time for Him

Jeraldine Farnan was more in love with her work as a motion-picture actress than she was with her husband, John D. Farnan, according to his testimony yesterday when granted a divorce by Superior Judge Hazlett.

"She franly told me she did not love me," Farnan said. "She said she would rather follow picture work than be married."

The husband's testimony was corroborated by Miss Wockie French.

MAN FOUND DEAD WITH GUN IN HAND

When Joseph Greenwald and his wife returned to their home at 700 North Soto street last night after an absence of three hours, they discovered Mr. Greenwald's brother, Meyer Greenwald, 54 years of age, dead from a self-inflicted bullet wound in his right temple. The .32-caliber revolver with which he had shot himself was still clutched in his hand. Detective Lieutenants Keeney and Wisdom of the Hollenbeck Heights station, who conducted an investigation, said Greenwald's relatives know no reason why he should have taken his life. He was in good health and his business as a building contractor was prospering.

PORTLAND (Or.) April 30. (AP)—Portland made it two straight by defeating Hollywood again today, 4 to 3. Mails batted in the first Portland run himself with a double and scored the second. Bob Johnson batted in two more for Portland with a home run to center field. Score:

SONNENBERG TO ARRIVE TODAY

Wrestling Champion Will Finish on Train

Bad Weather Holds Up Air Flight of Champ

Marshall Shows Ability in Mat Workouts

BY KAY OWE

Gustav Sonnenberg, heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, is expected to arrive here this morning by train. The mat king, who departed from Boston last Friday, has been held up by inclement weather, and has been unable to complete his air-rail trip west.

The first intimation Promoter Lou Daro had that his prize grappler had not arrived to defend his title against Everett Marshall at Wrigley Field next Monday night, arrived yesterday in the form of a telegram from Kingman, Ariz., which contained the information that the title-holder had been experiencing difficulty in continuing his trek west.

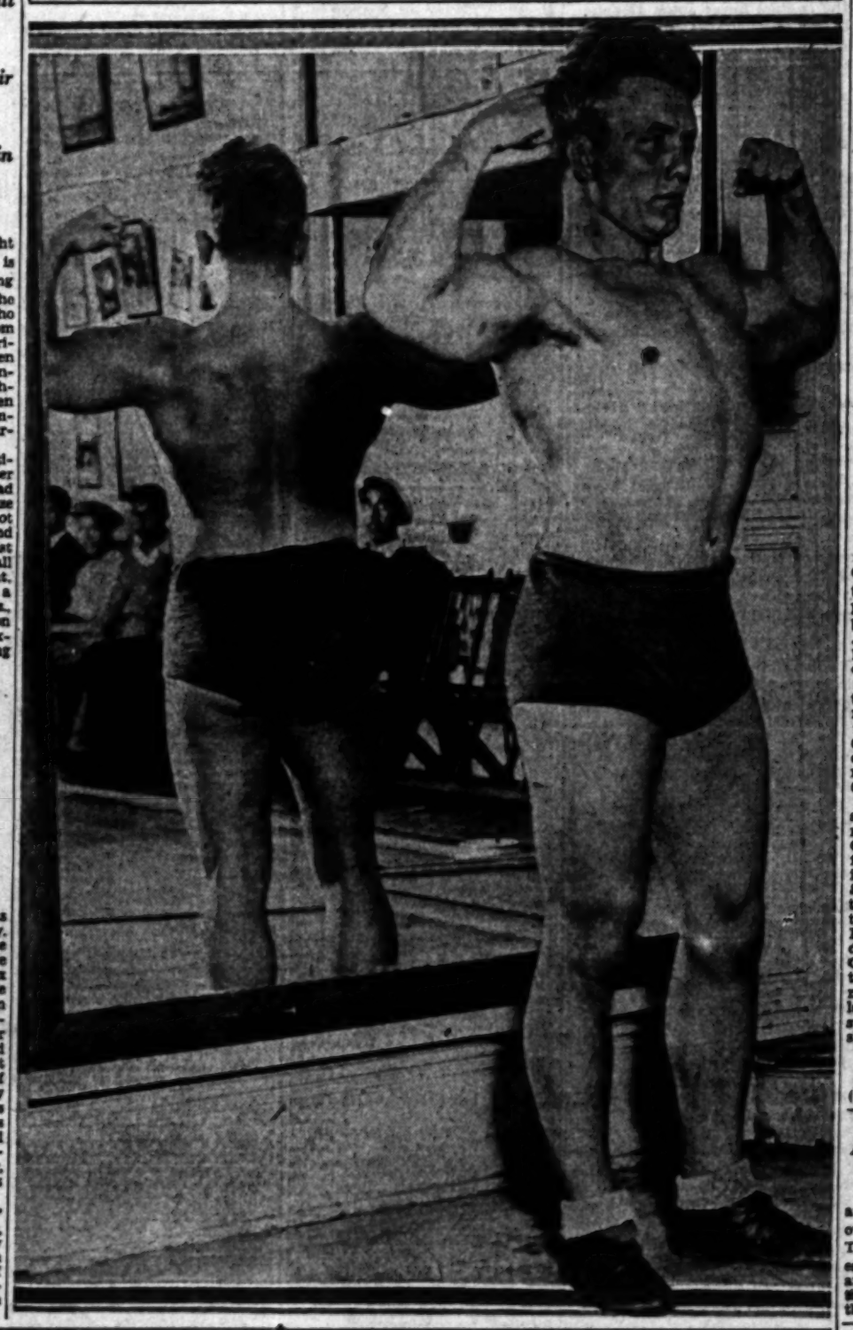
Sonnenberg left St. Louis by plane, but was forced down in Albuquerque by bad weather. He left New Mexico, but was again forced down in Kingman. He left the Arizona city yesterday, but bad weather over the Cajon Pass forced the Western Air Express to return to its base, and Sonnenberg was forced to land in Kingman again. He wired Daro that he would take the first Santa Fe train available and would arrive here at 7:15 this morning.

Marshall continued his workouts at the Manhattan gym yesterday. He toyed with the weights for five minutes, and then took on Steve Strelich, Ad Herman and Rex Smith for five minutes each. He pinned the latter two trainers in less than the required period. Strelich then belabored the challenger with a battering ram that resembled Sonnenberg's famous rushes that have earned him the sobriquet of "Gus the Goat." Marshall easily evaded the attempts to butt his midriff, and more than 300 fans cheered his efforts. Marshall will work out again today, while Sonnenberg will go into secret training, in accordance with his previous plans.

Nick Lutze will tackle "Gorilla" Gene La Doux in the mat battle, following the title match Monday night. Dan Koloff will clash with Don George in the second bout of the evening, while Dr. P. A. Mullikan will meet Ad Hermann in the opener.

FORE AND AFT WITH THE CHALLENGER

The splendid muscular development of Everett Marshall, challenger for Gus Sonnenberg's heavyweight wrestling crown, is graphically exhibited in this front and back view taken before a mirror in the gymnasium. Marshall is on the last lap of his training grind for the championship clash with Sonnenberg at Wrigley Field Monday night.



GIANT HEAVYWEIGHT IS HANDED NEW SETBACK

Gotham Commission Follows Suit on California Board's Verdict; Four Managers Also Hit

NEW YORK, April 30. (Exclusive)—Primo Carnera and four members of his managerial staff ran up against the New York State Athletic Commission today and found in it another adversary they could not fix. The big set-up conqueror from Venice and his overzealous exploiters had their licenses revoked for their doings with Leon Chevalier, who crossed them up in California recently by blowing a police whistle instead of going off the diving board as instructed.

The punishment meted out by the local board was much more severe than that inflicted by the California boxing solons. Primo and his cabinet were suspended in California but the drastic action taken by the New York authorities bars them from operations in any section of the United States, as a result of the New York board's working agreement with the boxing fathers of more than a score of other States.

In addition to putting the screws on Carnera and his gang, the commission declared ineligible Tim McGrath, Chevalier's manager; Bob Perry, who tossed a towel into the ring when Chevalier was beginning to look dangerous to Carnera's interests and Bob Lage, who qualified as an accomplice by being in Chevalier's corner.

When the New York commission shoved Carnera off the plank Leon See, his foreign manager; Billy Duffy, Jack Dempsey's friend and adviser of old, and Walter Friedman, two of Primo's melon cutters and "Honest" Frank Churchill, Primo's western representative, also were banned.

Churchill, who at one time was sought as a model for a western replica of civic virtue, is remembered as the manager of Tod Morgan, former junior lightweight champion.

All members of the commission were present for the plank-walking ceremony.

"Our action is self-explanatory," said Chairman Farley, "after reading a transcript of the testimony taken at the California hearing."

GRIFFITH IS WINNER IN GAGNON GO

Tuffy Gets Revenge on His Former Conqueror by Ring Victory in Chicago

BY CHARLEY W. DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, April 30. (AP)—Tuffy Griffith bounded back as a prospective challenger for the world's heavyweight championship tonight by defeating Big Jack Gagnon, his knockout conqueror a month ago, in their ten-round return engagement in the Chicago Stadium, with gate receipts of $73,-694.

Gagnon, the surprising demoraliser of Griffith in their first encounter in which the Sioux City tough one hit the canvas five times, was no demoraliser tonight. Instead, he found the bounding, dancing Griffith an elusive target. Griffith kept his inviting chin tucked close to his wishbone and most of the terrific right-hand wallops Gagnon aimed at his jaw swished over his head, or were short, falling harmlessly into the atmosphere.

Griffith, boxing cautiously,

ANGELS, OAKS RAINED OUT

It used to be that Bob Miller and Vic Devincenzi, Oakland club owners, were happy when it rained. They had extensive taxicab interests in Oakland during those days and rain meant more business for them. But now they can't enjoy the rain at all because it postpones their club's ball games and no ball games means no money at the gate. Therefore, Miller and Devincenzi didn't enthuse over yesterday's rain because it meant the postponing of the Oakland-Angel ball game. The Oaks and Angels will play a double-header tomorrow to make up for yesterday's postponement.

YANKEE WOMEN CLASH

First of Anglo-American Team Matches Carded Today Over Sunningdale Links

BY FRANK H. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUNNINGDALE (Eng.) April 30. (AP)—All was in readiness tonight for tomorrow's Anglo-American women's golf matches, the first of their kind and perhaps the forerunner of official international competition such as the Walker Cup matches for men.

The American team, headed by Miss Glenna Collett, will meet the British team, captained by Miss Molly Gourlay, in foursomes and singles, the foursomes being played in the morning and the singles in the afternoon.

Today the greens and fairways of Sunningdale were shorn and rolled to velvety perfection and even the rough with golden gorse blooming on the Berkshire hillsides beckoned invitingly.

The competition is styled "unofficial" because Misses Collett and Gourlay have arranged the meeting without official support, the players paying their own expenses to Sunningdale.

Never has an international match been staged with less practice. The Americans arrived only yesterday and have had only one full round over one of England's most difficult layouts while only a few of Miss Gourlay's team have had any recent practice at Sunningdale.

Miss Helen Hicks, the young star of the American team, entertained an admiring gallery with some drives and irons that would do credit to scratch male golfers.

Miss Collett has not displayed her true form for she caught cold on the voyage as did Miss Virginia Van Wie.

MIDWICK ANNOUNCES TOURNEY

Fay and Lester Coleman to Defend Scotch Foursome Championship on May 15; Brilliant Entry Looked for in 72-Hole Match Play Tournament

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Midwick Country Club, scene of the 1930 Southern California amateur championship in June, yesterday announced that its annual Scotch foursomes tournament will be held on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 15 to 18.

Club officials have extended an invitation to all country clubs in the Southern California Golf Association, to enter teams. Only golfers of 8 handicap and under, are eligible to enter. An excellent entry is looked for, however, as the tournament will give golfers an opportunity of becoming thoroughly acquainted with the tricky Midwick course in preparation for the amateur.

No course in the Southland is kept in finer trim than Midwick, and few even equal it in the texture of fairway and green.

The Scotch foursomes have been held annually since 1925. Arnold (Jigger) Statz of baseball fame, and Alec McDonald won the first title for San Gabriel. W. W. Campbell and W. C. O. Smith of Los Angeles, won in 1926; W. D. Campbell and Norbert Murray of Midwick in 1927, and Fay and Lester Coleman of California, for the past two years.

TROUT SEASON TO OPEN IN SOUTHLAND TODAY

Trout fishing begins today and, according to an advance notice from Spence D. Turner, county game warden, there are more fish in Los Angeles county streams this year than ever before.

Headwaters of the forks of the San Gabriel River, as usual, are expected to be the best fishing grounds in the county, with Little Coldbrook, Cedar, Big Rock and Little Rock creeks close behind. Extensive planting of small fish from State hatcheries during the past few years has resulted in many fish of frying pan size this year, according to Fred Wadsworth, superintendent of county parks.

A charge of 25 cents each is made for fish caught in Jackson Lake in Big Pines Park. The limit on trout is twenty-five fish a day, or ten pounds and one over. Penalties may be a $300 fine or six months in jail, if the game law is violated.

One fly in the sportsman's ointment this year, however, is pointed out by Game Warden Turner. Forest rangers report that the rattlesnake crop is unusually large and that persons intending to roam about the mountains should carry their snake serum kits or at least a supply of potassium permanganate.

Reports from Lake Arrowhead last night told of a two-inch fall of snow that will usher in the season there.

This is said to be the first time in history of the mile-high resort that such an unusual incident has accompanied the start of the trout season.

However, it was said the fall of snow was not accompanied by a heavy fall of rain and therefore the waters will not be roily, an

Boston Bruins Face Chicago Blackhawks in Tilt Here Tonight

FORMER RIVALS TO HOOK UP

Winter Garden is Scene of Puck Contest

Local Games Are Regarded as Rubber Games

Foes Broken Even in Usual Scheduled Frays

The Boston Bruins, runners-up for the world's professional hockey championship, engage a proverbial adversary when they combat the formidable Chicago Black Hawks in the opener of a two-game hockey series at the Winter Garden Ice Palace tonight. Bitter and evenly matched rivals throughout the National Hockey League campaign, the Bruins and Hawks carry a season's displeasure and argument into these games.

CHARLEY GARDINER

The Bruins stood higher in the hockey world because they finished as runners-up to the Montreal Canadians, but the Hawks can point with some pride to the fact that when they were beaten out by the Candians in the first of the play-off series, the world champions only won by one goal in two games. The score was three goals to two in favor of Les Canadiens, who later defeated the Bruins in the Stanley cup finals, 7 goals to 3.

During a season in which they swept all opposition aside, the Bruins only encountered one real obstacle and that was Chicago. In six meetings between these clubs, the Hawks won just as many games as the Bruins, three, and so the two Los Angeles games rank as "rubber" engagements.

The rosters of the contesting teams read like an all-American of hockey, with plenty of superstars on each team.

Boston undoubtedly has a preponderance of action, individual power, with brilliant stars like "Tiny" Thompson, one of the world's greatest goalies; "Cooney" Weiland, leading N.H.L. scorer; Capt. Fred Hitchman, rated one of the best defense men in the business; King Clancy, the Ottawa Senators player valued at $30,000; "Dit" Clapper, Perk Galbraith and "Dutch" Gainor, all described as "Babe Ruths" of hockey.

There is plenty of this same individual power in the Hawks, with "Chuck" Gardiner, rated with Thompson as the greatest goalie in the racket; Johnny Gottselig, a great stick handler; Tommy Cooke, whose value is placed at $30,000; Hodge Bostrum, with the fastest shot in hockey; "Squirt" Adams, the Port Williams (Ont.) wizard, and others.

Against Los Angeles competition the rival teams shaped up about even and so the prospect is for an epic pair of games, total goals to count.

Line-ups:

Boston		Chicago
Thompson	Goal	Gardiner
Hitchman	Defense	Bostrum
Clancy	Defense	Graham
Weiland	Wing	Rigler
Clapper	Wing	Gottselig
Galbraith	Wing	Jeagers
Gainor	Wing	Cooke

RABBIT PUNCHES

PAUL LOWRY

A BRIGHT TENNIS SCHEME

CREDIT Mr. Pep Jones with a bright idea regarding our junior tennis hopes. On Sunday at the Los Angeles Tennis Club a round robin invitational tennis tourney will be held in which twenty-eight of the best senior players in the State will pair with twenty-eight of the best junior prospects. They will play doubles in four playing groups of seven teams each. Thus each kid will have as a partner some senior player of distinction and will match strokes with at least six other seniors who combat his team. More if he is the winner of his division, the competition being carried out to a final round.

Perhaps that doesn't mean much to the average observer. To the kids it means everything. In the old days when Mel Long, Maury McLoughlin, Tom Bundy and others ruled the roost in this State the juniors never got a tumble. As a result there was a lapse in our development of stars—an hiatus until a new crop developed itself.

HA! SOME CHEST DEVELOPMENT! HE MUST HAVE BEEN TAKING SOME DEEP BREATHING EXERCISES!
NOW! HE'S GOING TO PLAY TENNIS WITH SOME OF THE BIG SHOTS!!

Today the old boys realize they can do a lot in helping the youngsters along by playing with them. Kids are keen observers, great imitators, and they can learn much in the way of technique, generalship, tactics, and above all, sportsmanship by teaming up with the senior players.

And the best part of this round robin lies in not deciding the test by playing points alone. They will count but one-fifth of the total.

Court appearance, sportsmanship, tactics, strokes will each rate a fifth.

In other words, boys who might rate high in all other departments could still finish down the list by proving themselves poor sports.

It's a great idea, and the same thing will be applied to the girls, twelve of the best young players teaming up with twelve of the best seniors. The make-up of the teams—boys and girls—will be unknown until the players take to the courts Sunday morning.

In the junior girls' list are observed two of the Sutton offshoots—Dorothy Bundy and May Doeg. In the boys' list Billy Doeg upholds the honor. Peggy Henry makes her debut to gladden the heart of old man Bill Henry.

THE EIGHTEEN-HOLE HOODOO

BOBBY JONES'S first reference to his overthrow by Johnny Goodman at Del Monte last summer is contained in Grantland Rice's story of the American team's departure for Great Britain.

An iron that just missed the green on the first hole, a stymie on the second and a birdie by Goodman on the third sum up the peerless Bobby's implied, if not expressed, aversion to eighteen-hole matches—particularly that one in the national championships.

He was three down to a good golfer with fifteen holes to go. And that's a mental hazard for anybody—even a Bobby Jones—in an eighteen-hole match.

Jones never made up the deficit at Del Monte, but if you ask me where he lost the match it was at the long fourteenth when he plunked a short mashie niblick into the trap that guards the green.

That was not a champion's shot when he needed it to hold the match even, and therefore I view with some pleasure Bobby's own statement that he has improved his niblick shots.

Nobody can improve on his woods or his long irons, and whatever weakness he had, if any, in the past has been on short shots to the green.

JUST A FORMALITY

DON'T imagine the various managers of Primo Carnera are alarmed over the great wave of moral indignation which has enveloped the big fellow in New York.

They got a nice chunk on the circus tour of the country, and when New York gets ready to take another look at Primo the suspension will lift like the morning fog.

Max Schmeling was on the blacklist of the New York commission, last summer, but for sweet charity he will fight Jack Sharkey in some sort of a heavyweight championship battle next June. And in the name of sweet charity Primo will be whitewashed when the time comes.

YOUTH TO SERVE

NEW faces for old in the make-up of this year's Davis Cup team—Doeg and Lott, Van Ryn and Allison.

And just a few years ago it was Johnston and Richards, Tilden and Hunter.

When Tilden and Hunter were sweeping all before them few thought of the days when they would have to be replaced.

Doeg is 22, Lott 23, Van Ryn 24 and Allison 25.

GRIFFITH WINS FIGHT

won by his superior speed and his ability to step around the Boston ex-sailor. The decision of the referee and judges was unanimous, although a great number of spectators dissented, greeting the verdict with boos.

Gagnon forced the fighting and was dangerous until the end. He always kept his powerful right hand cocked, ready for an opening, but Griffith was a bit too smart for him. Once in the eighth round, however, Gagnon crowded Tuffy into the ropes and cracked him with a right to the chin that shook him for an instant.

This was Gagnon's big moment but he couldn't cash in on it. After he cracked Tuffy he tried to push him away with his open left-hand glove to get him in range for another shot, but Tuffy danced away and then bounded back furiously with a savage barrage of punches to the body.

Gagnon had a pound and a half weight advantage, scaling 188 1-2 to 187 for Griffith when they weighed in this afternoon.

The experts figured that Griffith won six of the ten rounds, with three going to the Boston sailor and one even.

As a result of his victory Griffith is in line for a match with Otto Von Porat, the Norwegian puncher, in the stadium next month.

In the ten-round semifinal Joey Medill, Chicago lightweight, was awarded the decision over Stanislaus Loayza. Loayza weighed 139 and Medill 137 1-4.

ROSENBLOOM WINS FROM JOHNSON

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN (New York) April 30.—(AP)—Fresh from a night club, trained to perfection on a shave and a haircut, Maxey Rosenbloom, the belting buffoon, furnished high entertainment for 15,000 of the faithful tonight by soundly trouncing Larry Johnson, a long, lean Negro from Chicago, in a ring pitched where the more orthodox circus clowns have been tumbling for the past three weeks.

Rosenbloom baffled the usually deadly punching Negro with his complete assortment of leather legerdemain and his slapping, slugging, demoralizing attack. A few weeks ago Larry gave the Harlem harlequin the roughest engagement Rosenbloom has had here in years until a foul gave Max the verdict in six rounds. Tonight Johnson made the mistake of coming back for more after Rosenbloom had had a chance to think it over. The result was an outclassed Negro and a decision after ten rounds that was a formality.

Brix, Rothert to Stage Shot Duel in North

Herman Brix, L.A.A.C. shot-putter, will meet Harlow Rothert, Stanford weight star, in the Pacific Association track and field championships to be held at San Francisco Saturday. Brix will leave for the north tomorrow night. The Mercury star has been in a slump of late but hopes to snap out of it against Rothert this time. In past two meetings of the pair Rothert won both shot events. Rothert will be in Los Angeles next week and is now planning to compete in the Southern Pacific championships at Occidental May 10.

MALONEY DEATH ON PARTNERS

Boston Irishman Drops Two Sparring Companions in Rough Workout

Jim Maloney opened up the throttle yesterday at the Main-street gymnasium. He knocked out both his sparring partners—carrying each one round and belting them out the second.

Vic Alexander stirred up a hornet's nest when he stung the Boston Irishman with a stiff right poke. Maloney appeared to lose his temper and flew at the negro heavyweight with both fists loaded.

To make it 100 per cent for the day Maloney bowed Johnny Harry one round and nailed him to the floor the next. Maloney is a vicious fighter when he is shaken up a bit, it was evident from the workout.

Tom Maloney, who manages Frankie Campbell, came over from the Manhattan to have a look at the Boston heavyweight. He picked out a good day to scout.

"I believe Maloney is made to order for Campbell," said Frankie's manager. "He comes flying in and that's the kind Campbell can knock over quick. He wouldn't go two heats with my fighter."

Campbell did his first boxing yesterday at the Manhattan gymnasium when he went two rounds with Fred Cullen at top speed. He spent the entire time practicing his new Dempsey style of weaving and bobbing.

Armand Emanuel starts boxing today. He will work with Benny Ross and Cullen. The barrister confined his work to shadow boxing and bag punching yesterday.

Lee Kennedy is in the San Bernardino Mountains for a few days. He will not start boxing again until Monday. He was stale for the Ross fight, weighing only 186 pounds—four pounds under his usual heft. He has whipped Vijo Doman, Bud Doyle and Ross, all within the last month.

Doman will not be on the Wrigley card May 12. His infected eye will keep him on the shelf for a while longer.

HECTOR SIGNED FOR MAIN-EVENT BOUT

Mike Hector, winner over Joe Cordoza in a grilling ten-round bout at the Olympic last Tuesday night, comes back as a headliner next week. He was signed yesterday to box Dave Shade by Matchmaker Wad Wadhams.

Wadhams also rewarded Don Burchard for his quick knockout of Frankie Diaz. Burchard steps up into the semi-wind-up, meeting Sammy Offerman.

And Oscar Rankins, who gave a great exhibition of slugging several weeks ago with Guy Salerno, returns to box John Sherrod in the special event.

Sacs Rally to Trip Seals, 6-5

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30. (AP) Blanked for seven innings, Sacramento's Senators put over one in the eighth and rallied for five more in the last frame to nose out San Francisco's Seals, 6 to 5, today. For five frames John Miljus, Seal right-hander, did not allow the visitors even a hit, but he took a beating later on. Prietas, who started for the Senators, was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh. The score:

MANDELL AWARDED UNPOPULAR DECISION

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) April 30. (AP)—Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, won a ten-round decision over "Pewee" Jerrell of Mishawaka, Ind., in a nontitle bout here tonight. The decision, by Referee Elmer McClelland of Detroit, was unpopular and resulted in a demonstration by the crowd.

MATCH RACE CANCELED BY LEGION OFFICIALS

While officials of the American Legion Speedway yesterday decided that there will be no special match race next Sunday afternoon between "Shorty" Cantlon and Walt May, due to the fact that several other drivers protested against holding such an event because they asserted it would show, partiality, these aforementioned rivals will get an opportunity to fight it out in the 100-lap sweepstakes this week.

It was arranged yesterday for Cantlon, the Detroit ace, to take the high-powered Marine Miller to the post Sunday. The car is the one Francis Quinn has been handling.

Quinn turned over with the mount at Fresno last Sunday and will be confined to the pits this week due to injuries. The tail end of the car was the only part damaged, and the mount has been put in tip-top running condition for Cantlon's heavy foot.

May has been making a clean sweep of prize money in California lately. Last Sunday at Fresno the Alhambra husky won first honors in the fifty-mile grind and at the same time established a new course record for the mile track there with a performance of 44 6-10s. for a lap. Due to the rough surface of the Raisin Town track, this is considered phenomenal time, racing men declare.

U.C.L.A., U.S.C. MEET IN BASEBALL RIVALRY

The cross-city rivalry between U.C.L.A. and U.S.C. will break out again Saturday afternoon when the two baseball teams clash on the Westwood diamond at 2:30 o'clock. The Trojans are heavily favored to sweep the series from the cellar-holding Bruins, and they need the victories to cop the title in the California Intercollegiate Baseball Association.

George Williamson will probably be the hurling choice for the Thundering Herd, and Harry Griffith and Les Ward will toss up for the chance to open the series Saturday. The Bruins are attempting to stop the hitting abilities of Hill Mohler and Arbelside, Troy murderers' row.

HERNANDEZ WINS BOUT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30. (AP)—Charley Hernandez, rugged San Francisco junior welterweight, slugged his way to a decision over Paddy Walthetr, Chicago boxer, in the eight-round main event at National Hall tonight.

KENNY LA SALLE PUTS BURRAY OUT IN FIFTH

Kenny La Salle, scrapping brother of Bobby La Salle, knocked out Bobby Burray in the fifth round of the scheduled eight-round main event at Ocean Park last night. A right to the jaw put Burray away just before the finish of the fifth.

In the other bouts Bozo Kamisher decisioned Dave Leivos in a six-rounder, Alfred De Chaime and Pete Cardenas went four rounds to a draw, Raymond Navarro beat Roy Salisbury in four rounds and Fred Gardner bested Al Muskowitz in the four-round curtain-raiser.

McVEY WHIPS KETCHELL

OAKLAND, April 30. (AP)—Jack McVey, clever and fast punching Negro from New York, demonstrated tonight that he deserves to be ranked among the top-notch middleweights, when he punched his way to a ten-round decision over Wesley Ketchell, rough and rugged Salt Lake City boxer, at the East Bay Athletic Club.

SCHMELING'S ARRIVAL

TWELVE years ago this May the war cry of the U.S.A. was "On to Berlin." Now Herr Max Schmeling, the Big Bertha of Berlin's bruisers, has reversed the slogan. He lands with the set purpose of tapping the best heavyweight in the U.S.A. on the chin and then taking the crown that Tunney tossed away back to the land of the p and b—pretzels and beer.

Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling may not be the wonder boys of the ring, but they are about the best a rather spotty division of heavyweights can show and if the winner proves he can fight he will probably be saluted as the next champion.

This makes Schmeling's arrival an interesting event in the march of sport because after various rumors about his condition there will be something of a rush to see how he shapes up after his long vacation. Schmeling is confident he can beat Sharkey. Sharkey is sure he can smear Schmeling. But that is no news either way. If the German can prove he is about as good as he was when he left off against Risko and Paulino he will have his share of backers when he steps into the ring against Sharkey on June 12.

The heavyweight sector has been at such low ebb lately that no hysterical excitement has developed over the possibility of the old coronet crossing the water, but there are still a number of citizens who would appreciate a look at one more old-fashioned fight that wasn't 90 per cent flop.

Schmeling proved that he could fight on his last visit. He will now have to prove that he is as good as he was then and that a number of rumors about his condition are replete with fuzz. He has a pretty good man, on one of his good days, to beat before the strains of "Ubex Alles" resound again.

For the Title or Not?

There has already been a fair amount of muttering about awarding the title of heavyweight champion to either Sharkey or Schmeling on the records they have made, but if they are the best, and apparently they are, the headless crown might as well be put back into circulation.

Not that it is important either way; but if a better man comes along he can take his shot at the target.

The world has staggered along without a heavyweight champion for about two years, and it might last another year or so, but there is no particular reason why the best man now around shouldn't wear the crown, even if the best is nothing to rave about.

The Hope Eternal Fan

Hope springs eternal in the baseball breast. That's what makes the turnstiles hum. When the Washington ball club, under the direction of old Barney Johnson, the Coffeyville express, won its eighth straight game the mails became all cluttered up with applications for world series reservations next fall. Never mind the Athletics. They might still be a pretty fair ball club, but the Senators had already shown them up.

For that matter, Washington's April record was amazing. The Senators carried their share of old timers who were never supposed to be at their best until warm weather blew in. April was cold and rainy, but the veterans were the ones who got the jump—Goslin, Ruel, Judge, Bluege, Sam Rice, Marbery and others. They made a chilly April look like midsummer. Part of this was baseball skill and part of it baseball spirit. Old Barney has them hustling for every run. That makes almost any ball club look good. But there are still five months left and the main problem still left in the American League is to surround and halt the Athletics, once they begin to step.

Woman to Woman

The point has been made that Great Britain could dig up a higher average of women's golf than the U.S.A.

There will be a partial test, starting at Sunningdale today, ending tomorrow. Glenna Collett has taken over enough women golfers to make up three teams, but one day's practice after arrival isn't enough to iron out the tangles in sea-leg swing.

Still it will be an interesting experiment. The British have a big colony of good women golfers, but the average in the United States is increasing every year. Over here women take more golf lessons than men do. They have more time. And the results are beginning to show. The match at Sunningdale between the two captains—Glenna Collett and Molly Gourlay—will be the day's feature. And even with only one day's practice such golfers as Helen Hicks, Maureen Orcutt, Virginia Van Wie and Edith Quier should be able to hold their own.

OFFERMAN FAVORED TO TRIM REISTER

Sammy Offerman, San Francisco lightweight, is favored over Bobby Reister, young knockout flash, whom he meets tonight in the ten-round main event at the South Gate Legion Stadium. Reister, who has stopped seven of his opponents since turning professional, lacks the experience of Offerman, who has been campaigning at the larger clubs. Mike Watters, who won his first start at South Gate two weeks ago, will box Johnny Billaflores, Filipino, in the six-round semi-wind-up.

HUSKIES TO BATTLE WISCONSIN CREW

MADISON (Wis.) April 30. (AP)—Crews of the University of Wisconsin will meet those of the University of Washington in a two-mile race on Lake Mendota here in June, it was announced today.

LAMAR IS FAVORITE AT LEGION

Mexican Battler Picked Over Hector McDonald at Hollywood

Johnny Lamar, Mexican lightweight, is favored to win the Pacific Coast lightweight championship tomorrow night at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium. Hector McDonald, Irish-Canadian from Vancouver, will represent the Pacific Northwest, but Lamar's showing against Cecil Payne was better than that of McDonald, who met the Kentucky fighter recently at the stadium.

The winner of this fight gets a large engraved solid-gold belt buckle. It is similar to the one presented to Johnny Adams when he won the lightweight tournament at Hollywood during the four-round days. There hasn't been a lightweight champion since Ace Hudkins outgrew the division who could claim the title and have a clear title.

Manager Tom Gallery wants a referee to handle this bout who stands out as one of the best. This is an important fight and the stadium fans want to see both boys get an even break. It will take a good smart referee to handle this shot as the fight will probably be close.

It is hard to pick a winner in the semi-wind-up. Teddy Palacious, local lightweight, is rated a very good boy but he fights Harry Decker of Philadelphia, who is a main eventer in the East. Decker looks hot in his workouts.

Tommy Hoffman should be too rugged for Frankie Bray and cop the decision in the special. Hoffman is growing stronger and punching hard for a youngster. Pat Hayward should beat Vic Pertley and Johnny Macelli beat Joe Nelson.

HOOD, RAHMING HEAD PASADENA FIGHT CARD

A rematch between Ernie Hood and Leonard Rahming, flyweights, and another eight-round main event between Mack House and Jimmy McDermott, heavyweight fighters, feature the show at the Pasadena Arena tonight. Don Kennedy, former amateur Southern California champion, is to fight the four-round special event tonight against a highly touted Sacramento Filipino, Pete Magallanes. They are featherweights. The four-round preliminaries will be Billy Wagner vs. "Gabby" Mullen, 165 pounds; Billy Cain vs. Benny Rodriguez, 112 pounds.

RAINVILLE WINS AT NETS

'Way down in Cuenca, Ecuador, native women made this hat for you. They wove it and blocked it with skilled fingers. They washed it in the Tomebamba River, and left it on the bank to dry. There it bleached to its natural whiteness. Mules packed it to port. Steamers carried it to this country, where it was banded and sent to Bullock's.

The photograph above is an actual view. Its quality and style are of Summer, 1930. This Ecuadorian Panama is a great value, too, at $10.

San Diego High Favored to Retain Southern California Track and Field Championshi

SANTA ANA HAS CHANCE TO WIN

Saints Depend on Reboin, Paul and Gilbert

Ortiz Picked to Win Both Dash Events

Warburton and Dowers May Finish Second Best

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

While it is a forgone conclusion that competition will be close in every event and that upsets are likely to occur all the way through the program of the Southern California prep meet listed for Saturday afternoon at Hough Field, L. A. High, we still favor San Diego to retain its track title.

Coach Glenn Broderick's team tallied 22 1-2 points to win the championship last year. Of that total, they have 16 back, plus Fernando Ortiz who is favored to win both sprints.

Our dope sheet figures on the southerns taking 1-3 of a point more than they garnered last year, exactly 23 5-6. This is not their maximum, however, as they are capable of scoring close to 26 points.

SAINT TRIO

Santa Ana's three-man team of Reboin, Paul and Gilbert seems to be the only outfit in the meet that threatens San Diego. Reboin figures on placing in three events, the high and low hurdles and the pole vault, while Paul is entered in the shot, broad jump and low sticks. Gilbert will center his activities around the broad jump.

Paul has been doped to win both the low barriers and the broad jump, while Reboin is placed first in the high sticks. These 15 points would give the Saints a great advantage. However, the strain may be too much for the youthful "iron men" and if they should fall down to a second in any of these, Santa Ana's chances would be likely to be ruined. The Saints are counting on taking over 21 points, we give Reboin third in the lows and a tie for third in the pole vault, while Gilbert is figured for second in the broad jump.

Santa Ana also has a relay team entered, but it isn't given a place in the appended dope sheet.

Most of San Diego's scoring responsibilities rest on the brown shoulders of Ortiz, who showed to great advantage last week in the preliminaries. Most of the fans are picking him to win both sprints. However, any one of five others in the century, Koenig of Huntington Beach, Walter Clark of Fremont, Phil Powell of Santa Paula, Larry Osburn of Manual Arts and Jack McCarthy of Fairfax may come in ahead of Ortiz.

220 WORSE

The same situation exists in the 220, with some six runners capable of winning the event. They are, besides Ortiz, Koenig of Huntington Beach, McCarthy of Fairfax, Powell of Santa Paula, Clark of Fremont, Ashley Burch of Jordan and Jimmy Willson of San Diego.

Willson has been ailing all season with a pulled muscle and may not even place Saturday in the finals. If his injured member is okay, however, Willson should win hands down.

Both Irvine Warburton in the quarter and Evans Dower in the mile are in for a tough time in their respective races. James Luvalle of Polytechnic and Carl Satterfield of Manual Arts are planing on beating the sandy-haired Warburton in the one-lap race, while Jimmy Lawrence, Manual captain, and Harry Gentry of L. A. High are figuring on beating Dowers in the mile.

Let the dope sheet speak for itself.

The guess work:

100-yard dash—Ortiz (S.D.), Koenig (H.B.), Clark (Fre.), Powell (S. Paul.) Osburn (M.A.).

220-yard dash — Ortiz (S.D.), Burch (Jor.), Koenig (H.B.), Clark (Fre.) McCarthy (Fair.).

One-mile dash—Warburton (S.D.), Luvalle (L.A. Poly), Satterfield (M.A.) Hahn (Fre.), Brandage (Whit.).

Mile relay run—Pringler (Holly.), Collier (Fre.), Hasser (Jef.), Rathbun (L.B. Poly), Coronado (S. Paul.).

Mile run—Lawrence (M.A.), Dowers (S.D.), Gentry (L.A. High.) Cline (Whit.), Lindsay (M.A.).

High hurdles—Reboin (S.A.), DuFuy (Ing.), Mack (L.A. Poly), Ramona (Roos.), Meier (Cl.).

Low hurdles—Paul (S.A.), DuFuy (Ing.), Reboin (S.A.) Ramona (Roos.), Delan (M.A.).

Relay—Manual Arts, San Diego, L.A. Poly, L.A. High, Fremont.

Shot put — Lyman (S.M.) Smith (P. Robles,) McCue (So. Pas.) Denis (S. Barb.) Chiamulera (Har.).

Broad jump—Paul (S.A.) Gilbert (S.A.) Gettys (Frank.) Crawford (L.A. High.) Smith (Pas.).

High jump—Linn (W.W.) tie between McNeil (Ing.) Sexton (Jef.) Vignola (L.A. Poly.) Larson (S.D.).

Pole vault—Lindsey (L.A. Poly.) Grow (L.B.) tie between Ramsey (Ing.) Reboin (S.A.) Stankovitch (L.A. Poly.) and Richard (Lin.).

Final scores—San Diego, 22½; Santa Ana, 21½; L.A. Poly, 14½; Manual Arts, 13; Inglewood, 10½; Santa Monica, 10; Fremont, 7½; Hollywood, 5; Woodrow Wilson, 5; Huntington Beach, 5; Franklin, 5; Long Beach, 4; Jefferson, 3½; L.A. High, 3; Jordan, 3; San Rafael, 3; Hoover, 3; South Pasadena, 3; Santa Paula, 3; Whittier, 1½; Fairfax, 1; Redondo, 1; Santa Barbara, 1; Lincoln, ½; Harvard, ½; Venice, ½; Citrus, ½.

L.A.A.C. Set to Defend Track Title

The Los Angeles A.C. track-and-field team is now preparing to defend its title in the Southern Pacific A.A.U. championships, when this meet is held at Occidental College May 10. Boyd Comstock will enter his complete team of forty-six men. Last year the Mercuries won with a total of 63 points. The full A.A.U. program of twenty-one events will be held and the Mercuries are hoping to score heavily in such events as the hammer throw, fifty-six-pound weight, hop-step-jump, 440-yard hurdles, six-mile run and three-mile walk.

Quintet from Pasadena Establishes New Record in Pacific Coast Congress Tourney

The Western Air Express quintet of Pasadena, last night established a new record in the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress tournament at Davenport Recreation, by smashing the pins for a 2645 total that surpassed by nineteen the mark of Hancock Gasoline, which is leading the open division.

The Pasadena five, an 800 classification team, shot like a lot of champions. Starting the orgy of flying sticks with a 817, the high-flyers improved in the next game to tally 841, and climaxed the sensational performance with a slashing 987, which tops by 230 pins the winning total, in the 800-team class last year, and by sixteen pins the winners in the 850-team division.

O. McNeil set the pace with 556, E. E. Tees followed with 501, and a tall one of 232, while B. Wilmot trailed with 512. R. Hememan, off to a bad start, came through with a 184 the big game, C. C. Cole shot a 519.

TROUT SEASON TO OPEN TODAY

event which would have made the fishing poor.

OFFICIALS PLEAD FOR FISH CONSERVATION

The opening of the trout season today is taken by officials concerned in fish and game propagation and conservation as occasion to plead for help from sportsmen in conserving the natural supply of trout.

Last year the State continued a program of years' standing by planting in the twelve months over 5,000,000 trout in Southern California waters. These plantings were all of trout raised to planting size in hatcheries over the State and involve both a heavy investment in equipment and in the labor of rearing and planting.

In recent years it has been found that propagation alone is not enough. Conservation has been the second step. Almost unbelievable losses in game fish have occurred through diversion of the fish into irrigation canals, power flumes, and the like. Other comparable losses occur.

To prevent this loss laws have been enacted to provide for protection at these diversions by screens or fish stops. These have been partially successful in keeping the fish in their natural waters.

Inventive genius has taken the opportunity presented by the need of protection and various devices have evolved. Among these is an electric fish screen, which the State Fish and Game Commission is now preparing to test and which, it is claimed, offers complete protection at diversions.

RAINBOW BRANCH OPEN FOR INSPECTION

Speaking of trout, not only does the open season in California on the speckeled beauties start today, but the branch of the Rainbow Angling Fisheries, located at the mouth of a beautiful canyon at the east end of Tenth street, Azusa, will be thrown open to inspection by the public. The period of inspection will continue tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday, it is announced by Manager Leigh Garnsey.

A week ago, water running at the rate of 20,000 gallons per minute was turned into the lake. Hundreds upon hundreds of trout, measuring nine inches in length or more, were released into the lake a few days ago. The intake is a cascade of water dropping over a natural rock ledge, twelve feet into the lake.

Although the public is freely invited to inspect the Azusa branch of the Rainbow organization during the next four days, no fishing privileges will be extended.

GREEN VALLEY REPORTS ABUNDANCE OF TROUT

Early season reports having credited Green Valley Lake in the San Bernardino Mountains with an abundance of fighting trout, preparations were yesterday completed for receiving hundreds of sportsmen at the lake in connection with the opening of the fishing season in Southern California today.

The lake has been heavily stocked with rainbow and Pennsylvania brook trout, insuring many limits for opening-day anglers.

Two Veterans in Hollywood Soccer Line-up

The Hollywood soccer football club will be at full strength Sunday when the Sheiks meet the San Francisco Rovers in the second game of the California championship series at Loyola Field. This was made known last night when Manager Danny Hall announced his line-up which includes Parkinson, center forward, and Scholl, fullback, two veterans who did not play in the first game at San Francisco Sunday. Hall believes that with Parkinson and Scholl back in the line-up the Sheiks will be able to even the series with the flashy Rovers and make necessary a third game, which will be played at San Francisco May 11.

FINAL CONTESTS ON TAP IN SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

Final contests for San Fernando Valley of Junior Olympic winners will be conducted at North Hollywood Saturday on the athletic field of the North Hollywood High School. Scores of boys are scheduled to take part. One of the contestants will be Alan Ladd who in the local tryouts took first place in the senior division with 394 points. Ralph Younker, Marion Boling, James Beeman and Herbert Cavin crowded Ladd for the honor. Younker holds a record here for throwing a baseball 250 feet.

In the junior division, Norman Hickerson ranks first with a score of 276 points. Ray Younker, Bob Swink, Walter Williams and Elsworth Jenkins also hold local records and will take part in the valley-wide meet here on Saturday. Spike Waldrip and Bob McNelsh, two stars from the Van Nuys High School, will participate in track and feature plays, and are touted to walk away with honors in their class.

Other valley boys scheduled for the program are David Taylor of the Stonehurst School, who comes to the meet with 413 points, Ralph Bertell with 406 points ranks as one of the "flash" track men of the valley school system. The winners of this tournament will represent the San Fernando Valley schools in the all-city tournament to be held in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Read Instructions Carefully

Start with any letter and take any number of adjacent or contiguous letters IN ANY DIRECTION: forward, backward, upward, downward, diagonally. (A letter is adjacent or contiguous to another when the spaces occupied touch each other on the sides or at the corners. M-16 is next to or adjacent to N-5, G-9, E-17, S-24, I-23, L-22, I-15 and A-7. S-6 is adjacent or contiguous to O-5 and T-14 but is not adjacent or contiguous to A-7 and U-20 because separated from these letters by blank spaces.) Do not jump or skip any letters or spaces.

Examples: T-1, H-2, A-7, N-8 spells THAN;

S-6, T-14, U-20, B-21 spells STUB;

L-22, I-15, M-16, I-23, T-31 spells LIMIT.

The same space may be used more than once in a word (as I-15 in MILITIA—M-16, I-15, L-22, I-15, T-14, I-15, A-7), but do not double any letter. For example: L-45 cannot be doubled to form the word ROLL with R-47 and O-40, but L-29 and L-30, two adjacent and contiguous letters, can be used with B-21 and A-28 to form BALL.

RULES

No word may be used more than once. Do not use obsolete, archaic, dialect, Scottish or un-Anglicized foreign words, proper names of persons, peoples or places, or parts of words, such as prefixes, suffixes, contractions or abbreviations. Either the singular or plural form may be used, but do not use both forms of the same word. In any question, Webster's International Dictionary will be authority.

For convenience in checking, lists of words must be submitted in alphabetical order. Each word should be numbered consecutively, starting with 1. It will not be necessary to give the index numbers of the spaces in which the letters are found.

Contestant's name, address and telephone number should be written at the beginning of the list, together with the total number of words submitted. Use only one side of the paper.

This Contest is open to every person in California and Arizona except members of the families of employees of THE TIMES. Only one prize will be awarded to a household.

As explained in the LIST of PRIZES, there are two classes of prizes. It is not necessary to subscribe or send in a subscription to The TIMES to compete for one of the Class B prizes. The Class A prizes are open to those who send in a 6 months' paid-in-advance subscription to the DAILY and SUNDAY TIMES. This may be either a renewal or a new subscription. There are 56 prizes in each class. The contestant in each class submitting the largest number of words properly formed from the letters in the Star according to these instructions will receive the first prize in that class; the one submitting the next largest number, the second prize, and so on. The right is reserved to increase the number and the value of the prizes at any time during the progress of this Contest.

In the event of ties, contestants tying will be required to form words in a similar manner from letters in a smaller diagram. Should any ties result from the second Contest a prize identical with that tied will be awarded to each tying contestant.

This Contest will close at 9 p.m., on Saturday, May 31, 1930. All lists of words must be delivered at the Contest Depository on the main floor of The Times Building before that time, or, if mailed, must bear postmark showing that they were mailed before that hour.

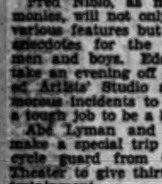
BOYS TO HAVE RALLY TONIGHT

Mass Meeting Scheduled as Loyalty Day Feature

Cantor Among Entertainers; Fred Niblo to Preside

Fathers Will Join Sons; Program to Be on Air

Testing the capacity of the Shrine Auditorium, thousands of boys and their fathers tonight will celebrate "Boys' Day in Loyalty" of Boys' Week with a mass meeting. Indications are that this assembly will be the largest of its kind in the country. Thousands of boys and men were necessarily disappointed in the distribution of free tickets but may hear the program as broadcast over station KECA between 8 and 10 o'clock.



EDDIE CANTOR.

Fred Niblo, as master of ceremonies, will not only introduce the various features but will contribute anecdotes for the benefit of the men and boys. Eddie Cantor will take an evening off from the United Artists' Studio and relate humorous incidents to show that "it's a tough job to be a boy."

Abe Lyman and his band will make a special trip with a motorcycle guard from Carthay Circle Theater to give thirty minutes' entertainment.

REVUE FEATURE

Panchon and Marco have arranged a special Boys' Week revue. Harold D. Franklin, president of Fox West Coast Theaters, and J. J. Franklin and W. H. Lollier, vice-presidents of the same organization, will send seven feature acts as their contribution to the festivities.

The Ethel Meglin Studio has arranged a kiddie revue with thirty participants.

Hans S. Linne and his orchestra will provide musical numbers.

The show will open at 7:15 o'clock with a color guard ceremony by the R.O.T.C. and the singing of "America."

MAYOR TO SPEAK

Mayor Porter is to speak briefly and Joseph Scott, general chairman of the Boys' Week committee, will deliver an important message.

Tickets have been distributed through the senior and junior public and private high schools.

Tomorrow is "Boys' Day in the Schools," and in various public and private educational institutions the boy will take precedence over principal and teacher.

Saturday will see many special features for boys in every part of the city all day and evening. The features of the closing day of Boys' Week have been arranged by Raymond R. Hoyt, superintendent, and John C. Henderson of the Los Angeles city playgrounds.

COUNCIL GOING TO TUJUNGA

The City Council tomorrow will inspect the site of the proposed Godman rock crusher in the Big Tujunga Wash, which comes up for final action Monday. While in the vicinity the Councilmen will inspect also the proposed addition to Monte Vista Park, Sunland.

PRACTICAL JOKE OF EARLY VINTAGE

Goblet Tells Story

Marion Shilling, actress, finds perforated drinking vessel in collection of antiques.

The antiquity of one practical joke has just been learned. The glass with the perforated rim was originated several hundred years ago in Italy, it was revealed when Marion Shilling, Paramount player, found a large majolica goblet so equipped in Victor Merlo's collection of antiques.

The Italian nobleman who originated this idea evidently enjoyed watching his guests drench themselves when they drank wine from this goblet.

According to Miss Shilling, practical jokers in Hollywood still derive amusement from this ancient joke with invisible holes drilled in modern glassware.

Air Dedication Fete Postponed

Inclement weather yesterday caused postponement until the 9th inst. of air stunts that were scheduled on the Culver City Airport dedication program.

Marjory Crawford, woman flyer of Beverly Hills and operator of the port, announced that the same line-up of thrillers will be offered on the new date. Practically every aviatrix in the Southland, as well as army pilots and Col. Arthur C. Goebel, will appear on the program.

FILM JUVENILE BACK FROM TOUR OF EAST

Mitzi Green, juvenile player at the Paramount studio, returned to Hollywood yesterday from a personal appearance tour through the East and Middle West. Her tour took her to her home town, New York, on her first visit in months, when she was feted at an impromptu reunion with her schoolmates. The little actress, 9 years of age, was recently given a contract for her excellent performance in a talking picture.

BROTHERS' ROW ENDS IN SHOOTING

One Wounded and Other Arrested After Quarrel Over Father's Estate

Brother shot brother last night in a flare-up of two years' strife over a dead father's estate, police reported following the wounding of William L. Largent, 32 years of age, of 4223 Edenhurst Drive, and the arrest of E. W. Largent of 4427 Ambrose avenue. The latter was booked on charge of suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon. Police say he admits shooting, but declares it was in self-defense.

Police were called in by Mrs. M. Jacobs of 5124 De Longpre avenue, who was in a flower store at Los Feliz Boulevard and Wayne avenue when a wounded man staggered in, asking her to call an ambulance. When she had telephoned she saw another man put the wounded man into an automobile and drive away. She gave the car license number to Detective Lieutenants Bradley and Flikas, who went to the home of E. W. Largent, the registered owner. They report that he admitted the shooting, adding that he took his brother to Dr. C. B. Baker of 4596 Hollywood Boulevard for treatment, and then to the brother's home. Dr. Baker reported the case.

Detectives say the suspect asserted that he and his brother had quarreled often about the estate of their father, who died two years ago. Last evening they met to discuss an automobile accessory which they were perfecting for patent. According to the police, the prisoner declared his brother ordered him out of the automobile and was acting threateningly when he shot in self-defense. The bullet penetrated both thighs of the victim. At his home the wounded man accused his brother, the officers add.

Weather Delays Opening of New Air Line North

Low-hanging clouds over mountain regions and possible stormy weather en route caused postponement last night of inauguration of passenger service over Pacific Air Transport from Los Angeles to Seattle, Wash.

The company has been operating mail planes for several years over the coast route, but canceled the first load of four passengers, who were scheduled to leave United Airport, Burbank, shortly before midnight.

Passengers probably will be carried for the first time tonight, it was indicated by company officials. Stops on the line will be made at Bakersfield, Fresno, Oakland, Medford and Portland, Or., and Tacoma, Wash., en route to Seattle.

Own Car Runs Over Autoist

Run over by his own car when another automobile hit it last night, Edward Anderson, 35 years of age, of 6225 Wilcox avenue, Bell, received a skull fracture. He was partly under his car repairing it at the curb at Forty-third street and Second avenue, when it was struck in the rear by a car driven by Fletcher Horn, 31, of 969 Hyde Park Boulevard, police report.

Anderson's car passed over him. He was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, and transferred to Golden State Hospital. Policemen Martin and Thompson took Horn to the Receiving Hospital for a sobriety test. Dr. Kirkpatrick certified Horn had been drinking and he was booked on suspicion of drunken driving.

POLAR PARTY INFANT EATS HAM AND EGGS

Raymond Mercola

BYRD 'BABY' SPEAKER AT BREAKFAST

Youngest Member of Crew Addresses Club, Which Also Hears of Water Bonds

Raymond Mercola, "infant" of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, was one of the honor guests at a meeting of more than 700 members of the Breakfast Club yesterday. Mercola, a Chicago youth, is 18 years of age and was the youngest by three years of any member of Commander Byrd's crew.

Mercola is a nephew of Archibald Mercola, Los Angeles manufacturer of women's clothing of 3101 West Adams street. The youth expects to spend several weeks in Los Angeles. Many other persons well known throughout the country also ate ham and eggs as guests of the club and listened to local speakers talk about the importance of voting in favor of the water bonds at the election on May 20.

Joseph Scott, attorney, was chairman, and part of his address composed an appeal to the citizens of Los Angeles to vote in favor of the water bonds.

"We can vote the water bonds on May 20 and still not be within $10,000,000 of the amount that San Francisco has voted for water," he asserted. "If they are carried we still will be far under our bonding limitations."

INQUIRY IN BEAN'S CASE ENDS TODAY

Findings Will be Given to Mayor Porter for His Decision in Affair

Police investigation of the case of Capt. James F. Bean, former head of the police homicide squad and now under suspension, will be completed today and findings will be turned over directly to Mayor Porter. Detective Chief Taylor made the investigation at direction of Police Chief Steckel, to whom the report will be submitted today.

Chief Steckel will take the report up immediately with the Mayor, leaving to him the decision regarding the circumstances last Friday night when Bean's car was in collision with another. The collision was at Angeles Mesa Drive and Thirty-eighth street. Three witnesses reported Bean had been drinking. He denies this and a police surgeon who treated his nose, broken in the accident, corroborates the captain. Police Commissioner Drake received the complaints and made an investigation, following which Chief Steckel was ordered to suspend Bean and investigate. The Police Commission is making an investigation independently of the department probe.

Tea Postponed Due to Weather

On account of threatening weather the benefit bridge tea the Council of Jewish Women planned for today on the Carl Laemmle estate in Beverly Hills has been postponed one week, it was announced last night by the committee in charge. It will be given Thursday, the 8th inst., from 2 to 5 p.m.

Proceeds from the affair are expected to defray the expenses for at least one month of the El Nido Camp, an establishment for undernourished children, supported entirely by the Council of Jewish Women. The camp is in Laurel Canyon where children of all sects are cared for during winter and summer months.

School's out. Now for the daily raid on the Uneeda Graham Crackers. Lucky mother keeps plenty on hand because the children love them so. Says the Uneeda Boy.
